PARLIAMENTARY NOTICE.

IN THE OIREACHTAS IN THE YEAR 1927.
AUTUMN 1926 APPLICATION.

DUBLIN UNITED TRAMWAYS (LUCAN ELECTRIC RAILWAYS)

NOTICE is hereby given that the Dublin United Tramways Company (1896) Limited (hereinafter called the Company) intends to apply to the Oireachtas during the current Session for leave to bring in a Private Bill (hereinafter referred to as the Bill) for the following main objects:—

1. To authorise the Company to acquire by Purchase the undertakings of the Dublin and Lucan and the Lucan and Leixlip Electric Railway Companies, and to provide for the dissolution of the two last mentioned Companies, and the vesting of their undertakings in the Company.

2. To declare that the sale and Transfer of the said Undertakings shall not be deemed to be an abandonment of the said undertakings.

3. To authorise the Company to reconstruct relay and maintain the railways hereinafter mentioned with a gauge of 5 feet 3 inches with all proper rails, plates, tubes, works and conveniences connected therewith in lieu of the existing railways of the said Dublin and Lucan and Lucan and Leixlip Electric Railway Companies that is to say:—

RAILWAY NO. 1

A single line 4.. chains in length all in the City of Dublin, beginning by a junction with the right hand track of the Company's system at a point 97 yards or thereabouts from the centre of the Park Gate measured in a South Easterly direction and forming a cross-over to the left hand track of the same and forming a continuation of the left hand track and ending by a junction with Railway No. 2, where Park Gate Street and Conyngham Road join at a point 23 yards or thereabouts from the centre of the Park Gate measured in a Southerly direction.

RAILWAY NO. 2

A line from Conyngham Road to Lucan being a single line with passing places 6 miles 6 furlongs 0.5 chains in length beginning by a junction with Railway No. 1 as above described following the line of the Dublin and Lucan Electric Railway on a platform on the right hand side of Conyngham Road for 7 furlongs 6.4 chains there crossing the road on the level and following the line of the Dublin and Lucan Electric Railway on a platform on the left side of the Chapelizod Road to 1 mile 5 furlongs 6.0 chains where it again crosses the road on the level and follows the line of the Dublin and Lucan Electric Railway on a platform on the right hand side of the road to 1 mile 7 furlongs 3.0 chains where it crosses the road on the level and follows the existing line on a platform on the left side of the road to 2 miles 0 furlongs 2.2 chains when it comes down to road level to cross Chapelizod Bridge. At 2 miles 0 furlongs 4.0 chains the centre of Chapelizod Bridge the line passes out of the City of Dublin into South Dublin Rural District and on the centre of the road and on the road level follows the line of the Dublin and Lucan Electric Railway to 2 miles 0 furlongs 8.2 chains where it gets over to the left side of the road and follows the line of the Dublin and Lucan Electric Railway on the road level to 2 miles 1 furlong 6.4 chains where it gets on to a platform on the left side of the Chapelizod-Lucan Road and follows the line of the Dublin and Lucan Electric Railway on a platform on the left side of the road to 5 miles 0 furlongs 6.3 chains where it passes from the South Dublin Rural District into Celbridge No. 2 Rural District. From this point it follows the line of the Dublin and Lucan Electric Railway on a platform on the left side of the Chapelizod Lucan Road to 6 miles 5 furlongs 3.5 chains where in the village of Lucan it crosses the road on the level following the line of the Dublin and Lucan Electric Railway and on the right hand side of the road and on a platform follows the line of the Dublin and Lucan Electric Railway to 6 miles 5 furlongs 8.2 chains where it comes down to road level and to the centre of the road and terminates by a junction with Railway No. 3 at a point in the centre of the road in line with the East side of Lucan Court House and 27 yards or thereabouts from the North East corner of same measured in a northerly direction. The total length of Railway No. 2 being 6 miles 6 furlongs 0.5 chains.

RAILWAY NO. 3.

A single line with one passing place all in Celbridge No. 2 Rural District beginning by a junction with Railway No. 2 as described above following the line of the Lucan and Leixlip Electric Railway at road level to 0 miles 0 furlongs 3.8 chains and from that point following the line of the Lucan and Leixlip Electric Railway on a platform on the right hand side of the road to its terminus at a point at the junction of the Lucan, Celbridge and Leixlip roads known as Doddsborough Corner 163 yards or thereabouts from the South East Corner of the Spa Hotel measured in an easterly direction. The total length of Railway No. 3 being 0 miles 3 furlongs 6.5 chains.

As to Railway No. 2 the points where the line will be less than 9 feet 6 inches from the footpath are as follows:—From 0 miles 0 furlongs 0.0 chains to 0 miles 7 furlongs 6.4 chains on the right hand side of the road, and from 1 mile 5 furlongs 7.9 chains to 1 mile 7 furlongs 4.0 chains on the right hand side of the road and from 1 mile 7 furlongs 4.9 chains to 2 miles 0 furlongs 3.1 chains and from 2 miles 0 furlongs 7.7 chains to 2 miles 1 furlong 6.4 chains on the left side of the road and from 3 miles 1 furlong 1.5 chains to 3 miles 2 furlongs 4.5 chains on the left hand side of the road and from 6 miles 1 furlong 3.1 chains to 6 miles 1 furlong 7.9 chains on the left hand side of the road and from 6 miles 5 furlongs 5.0 chains to 6 miles 6 furlongs 0.5 chains on the right hand side of the road there will be less than 9′ 6″ between the outside of the footpath and the nearest rail of the Railway.

As to Railway No. 3, the points where the line will be less than 9 feet 6 inches from the footpath are as follows:—From 0 miles 0 furlongs 1.3 chains to 0 miles 3 furlongs 6.5 chains on the right hand side of the road there will be less than 9′ 6″ between the outside of the footpath and the nearest rail of the Railway.

The gauge of the proposed lines will be 5 feet 3 inches and the motive power will be electricity or other mechanical power. It is not proposed to run on the lines carriages or trucks adapted for use upon railways.

4. To authorise the Company from time to time with the Consent of the road authority to make maintain alter and remove such crossings, passing places, sidings, loops, junctions shelters or sheds and other works as may be necessary or convenient for the efficient working of the said railways and the use thereof by the public or for affording access to the building sheds works and premises of the Company or of other Companies or persons adjoining the said Railways.

5. To provide for the repeal of Section 48 of the Dublin United Tramways (Electrical Power) Act 1897 and of Section 13 sub-sections 2 and 3 of the Dublin United Tramways Act 1905.

6. To enable the Company to act as Electricity Undertakers within the meaning of the Electricity (Supply) Acts and the Electric Lighting Clauses Acts 1899 within an area outside of the City of Dublin and within half a statute mile measured in any direction from the centre line of the said railways and the whole of which said areas are situate within the Rural Districts of North and South Dublin and Celbridge No. 2 or within such extended area as the Minister for Industry and Commerce may by Special Order made in accordance with the provisions of the Electricity Supply Acts authorise and with the approval of the said Minister to place any electric line above ground in upon or across any public or private street or road and to fix the maximum charges to be made by the Company to any consumer of such Electricity.

7. To enact that the Company be deemed Electricity Undertakers in respect of Electricity sold only.

8. To incorporate with the Bill or to make applicable to the Company and their undertaking (with such modifications extensions and amendments, if any, as may be prescribed by the Bill) or to exempt the Company and their Undertaking from or to vary in this application to the Company and their Undertaking all or some of the provisions of the Lands Clauses Acts, the Railway Clauses Consolidation Act 1845 the Railway Clauses Act 1863 the Tramway (Ireland) Acts, the Electricity (Supply) Acts 1882 to 1919, the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act 1899 the Gas Works Clauses Act 1847 and any Act or Acts amending or extending those Acts.

9. The inclusion of the Generating Stations of the Company in the expression "Railway Generating Station" in Sections 24 and 36 of the Electricity Supply Act 1919.

10. To enable the Company to acquire and hold any additional lands or any interest thereon for the purpose of the proper working of the undertakings to be transferred to the Company by the Act or for providing sites for houses for officials or employes of the Company.

11. To apply the existing bye-laws rules and regulations of the Company to and to make same enforceable and available to the railways to be acquired until other bye-laws rules and regulations are duly made by the Company in their stead and to repeal and cancel all bye-laws rules and regulations hitherto governing the said railways.

12. For the limitation of the Company's obligation to carry goods on the railways to be transferred.

13. To provide for the payment of the costs and expenses of obtaining the intended Act out of the funds and revenues of the Company.

14. To apply the powers of purchase conferred by section 51 of the Dublin United Tramways Electrical Powers Act 1897 to the undertakings to be acquired by and vested in the Company by virtue of the Act and to all such tramways and railways as the Company may hereafter construct or acquire.

15. To enable the Company to apply for the purpose of the Act all capital property applicable to all or any part of the capital which the Company is now authorised to raise and which is not required for the purposes for which the same is authorised to be raised.

16. On or before the 30th day of November 1926 the original plans sections book of reference and map of the railways referred to in paragraph 3 and having the area within which the Company may act as Electricity Undertakers referred to in paragraph 6 marked on said map will be deposited with the Principal Clerk of the Private Bill Office Leinster House Dublin and on or before the same day copies of the said plans sections book of reference and map will be deposited with the County Registrar for the City and County of Dublin at his Office at Green street in the said City: The Principal Officer of the Department of Local Government and Public Health Upper Merrion street Dublin: The Principal Officer of the Department of Industry and Commerce Upper Merrion street Dublin: The Town Clerk the City of Dublin at his Office City Hall Dublin: The Secretary County Council of the County of Dublin at his Office 11 Parnell square Dublin: The Clerk of the South Dublin Rural District at his Office 1 James's street Dublin: and The Clerk of Celbridge No. 2 Rural District at his Office Celbridge Co. DANGER TO MOTORISTS.

Waterford County Council road workers are at present carrying out the much-needed work of widening the Waterford-Cork road at a very perilous point, known as "Cool Curve," about 600 yards from Kilmacthomas town, on the Waterford side. From time to time motorists have narrowly escaped with their lives at this particular part, which is generally reckoned to be one of the most dangerous bends in Munster.

DIOCESAN SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.

ANNUAL PRIZE DISTRIBUTION.

The annual prize distribution to the pupils of the Diocesan School for Girls, Adelaide road, Dublin, took place yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large gathering.

The report submitted by Miss Foster, B.A., headmistress, referred to the serious loss that the school had recently sustained by the death of Mr. W. C. Stubbs, the manager, and of Miss Latimer, M.A., the English and Latin specialist on the staff.

Dealing with the results of the various examinations during the year, the report stated that 80 per cent. of those entered passed the Association for Promoting Christian Knowledge examination, and all who entered passed the General Assembly's examination for Presbyterian pupils.

This was the second year of work under the new programme for secondary schools, and of ten pupils entered five passed, two with honours. (Hear, hear.) Honours were gained in English, mathematics, history and geography, drawing and domestic economy. A large number of pupils entered for and passed the examination of the Royal Drawing Society (Ablett system). At the Alexandra College entrance examination Ivy Golding gained the first "Wilson Suffern" Scholarship of £15. The "Diocesan School" Scholarship, now awarded to the best pupil passing from third-year class into intermediate certificate class, was gained by Enid Gordon. (Applause.) The school choir, trained by Mr. T. H. Weaving, received a very good report from the Board of Education.

The school was inspected several times during the year by the inspectors of the secondary and technical branches of the Department of Education and satisfactory reports received.

ARCHBISHOP'S ADDRESS.

The Archbishop of Dublin, having distributed the prizes, said that he wished it to be known that both that school and the Church of Ireland had sustained a serious loss in the death of so capable and so kind a man as Mr. Stubbs. The report, he continued, was very gratifying, and he was glad to see that the various interests connected with the school were being continued. He had given out a lot of prizes to the pupils, and he did not want the girls to think that the winning of prizes was the great thing and object. It was not. The prize was given to encourage them to work, but it had nothing whatever to do with their work. They wanted the girls to work and to learn, not to get a prize, but to learn and work in order that they might get their minds full of knowledge, so that when they grew up they would be able to use their minds. Their reward would lie in the race that they ran and not in the prize.

YESTERDAY'S CASES IN THE COURTS.

LUCAN RAILWAY.

TRAMWAY COMPANY OFFER £12,500.

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE JOHNSTON).

In the matter of the Companies Acts and the Dublin and Lucan Electric Railway, and in an action between John Foxall and the Dublin and Lucan Electric Railway,

Mr. H. J. Moloney (instructed by Messrs. A. O'Hagan and Son) applied on behalf of Mr. D. McDonald Grosart, the liquidator in the liquidation matter, for an order that the proceedings in the action instituted by Mr. Foxall against the company might be consolidated with the proceedings for the compulsory winding up of the company, and that the costs of all parties in the action, including the costs of the application, should be deemed to be costs necessary and properly incurred in the winding up proceedings.

Counsel also applied for an order giving the liquidator liberty to enter into a contract with the Dublin United Tramways Company for the sale of the undertaking. He said that the consolidation of the proceedings was necessary and desirable, so that all parties should be represented in the one matter. This application was being made with the consent of all parties interested—the debenture-holders, the liquidator, the Dublin and Lucan Railway, and the Dublin United Tramways Company.

Mr. Moloney referred to the affidavit of Mr. Grosart, which stated that on the 19th October, 1924, Mr. Foxall, as trustee on behalf of the first debenture-holders and debenture stockholders, instituted an action against the Dublin and Lucan Electric Railway Company, seeking a declaration that the incomes secured by certain debentures and debenture stock were well charged on the undertaking of the company, and for the appointment of a receiver and for a sale and other relief. On the 14th October, 1924, Mr. Grosart was appointed receiver and manager in the matter by order of the Court, and by the same order liberty was given to the plaintiff to borrow money not exceeding £1,000 on the security of the undertaking by way of salvage for the purpose of enabling the undertaking to be carried on as a going concern pending a sale. In accordance with the provisions of this order, the sum of £1,000 was raised by the plaintiff and was applied in the working of the undertaking, which was kept going for several months. When the money was exhausted it was decided not to obtain any further advances, as there was no reasonable prospect at that time that a sale of the undertaking as a going concern could be effected. When the plaintiff found that the receiver manager could not carry on the undertaking with success, he filed a petition for the winding up of the company, and an order was made for the compulsory winding up of the company on the 26th January, 1926, and by the sale order Mr. Grosart was appointed official liquidator, with power to negotiate for the sale of the undertaking as a going concern.

As the result of protracted negotiations Mr. Grosart was now in a position to place a definite proposal before the Court for the sale of the undertaking as a going concern. It was desirable that the debenture-holders' action should now be consolidated with the winding up proceedings, and that his services as receiver and manager in the action should cease, and that he should be at liberty to file and pass his final accounts as receiver. Mr. Foxall had consented to the consolidation of the debenture-holders' action with these proceedings, and that the carriage and conduct of the proceedings should remain with Mr. Grosart as liquidator, reserving, however, to Mr. Foxall, as plaintiff in the action and as representing the debenture-holders, the right at any time to make such application as he might be advised with reference to the conduct or the carriage of such proceedings or otherwise.

As the sale and transfer of the undertaking would require to be carried out by Act of Parliament, it was most important that an order should be made consolidating the proceedings, so that all parties interested in the undertaking might be found by any order that might be made.

Mr. Fitzgerald, solicitor (Messrs. D. and T. Fitzgerald), who appeared for the Dublin and Lucan Electric Railway Company, and for the Hibernian Bank, Ltd., and Mr. Ryan, solicitor for the plaintiff in the debenture-holders' action, consented to the consolidation of the proceedings.

Mr. Justice Johnston made an order consolidating the proceedings; that the costs of all parties in the action, including the costs of the present application, should be deemed necessary and properly incurred in the winding-up proceedings; that the receiver be instructed to bring in his final account, and that the liquidator should have carriage of the whole proceedings.

ONE POSSIBLE PURCHASER.

Mr. Moloney, referring to the application to authorise the liquidator to enter into a contract for the sale of the undertaking to the Dublin United Tramways Company, said that the position was that there was only one possible purchaser, and it was a question of negotiating with the Tramways Company or scrapping the undertaking. The liquidator had made what, in his and everybody's opinion, were the best possible terms in the circumstances. It was certainly the most satisfactory contract that could be obtained.

Mr. Justice Johnston—I see that the carrying out of this agreement depends on certain other matters taking place.

Mr. Moloney said that that was so.

Mr. Justice Johnston said that he thought the agrement was a suitable agreement to get the sanction of the Court, but he must read the document very carefully before he did anything, and he would allow this motion to stand over until Monday.

Mr. Mooney (instructed by Messrs. Casey, Clay and Collins), who appeared for the Dublin United Tramways Company, said that when his lordship considered the contract he would see that there was a question whether the Tramways Company should make a deposit. The Tramways Company objected to making a deposit, because there was no question of bona fides on either side, and they were willing and undertook to spend £800 to cover any loss that the liquidator might have incurred or would incur in carrying on in the small way that he was doing at present. The price of the purchase, he mentioned, was £12,500, and he said that the Tramways Company undertook to pay the purchase money into Court within fourteen days of their obtaining power to do so.

This particular motion was allowed to stand until next Monday.

DAMAGES CLAIMED AGAINST A MINISTER.

AN IMPORTANT JUDGMENT.

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE SULLIVAN AND MR. JUSTICE HANNA.)

Judgment was given for the defendant in the case of Carolan v. the Minister for Defence. The action had been brought in the Circuit Court before Judge Pigot by Miss Josephine Carolan, who was employed as a domestic servant in Blackrock, Co. Dublin, claiming damages for personal injuries and injury to her bicycle and clothing through being knocked down at Clare street, Dublin, in 1922 by a Free State Army tender.

Mr. Justice Sullivan said that this was an appeal from a decision of Judge Pigot dismissing the action, which was brought to recover damages from the defendant for personal injuries sustained by the plaintiff by reason of the negligence of a soldier while driving an Army motor lorry. The learned judge held that the injuries to the plaintiff were caused by the soldier's negligence, but dismissed the action on the ground that the defendant was not liable in law for such negligence.

The only question argued on the hearing of the appeal was whether the learned judge was right in dismissing the action on that ground. Counsel on behalf of the appellant admitted that the head of a Department of State under the British Government was not liable for the wrongful acts of the officials in the Department of which he was the head, unless it could be shown that the acts complained of was substantially his act, in which case he was liable as an individual, but they contended that that principle did not apply in the present case for two reasons—firstly, because the heads of department under the British Government were servants of the Crown, and, secondly, because the effect of the Ministers and Secretaries Act of 1924 was to make the Minister liable for the wrongful acts of subordinate officials. Having quoted authorities on the subject, his lordship said that it was clear that the Minister was not responsible for any negligence or default of those in the same employment as himself. The effect of legislation in the Oireachtas was that the members of the armed forces of the State were servants of the public, and as such fellow-servants of the Minister for Defence, for whose neglect or fault he would not prima facie be liable. He was, therefore, of opinion that the decision of the Assistant Circuit Court Judge was right, and that this appeal should be dismissed.

Mr. Justice Hanna, concurring, said that prior to the establishment of Saorstat Eireann it was well-established law in England and Ireland that a Minister of the Crown could not be made liable in damages for the tortious acts committed by his subordinates, even though that subordinate had been appointed by him. The new question raised in this case was whether the Constitution of Saorstat Eireann and the legislation incidental to the creation of Departments and Ministers of State had made a change in the well-established law, and to determine this they must consider their nature and origin. Article 2 of the Constitution reads: "All powers of Government and all authority, legislative, executive and judicial, in Ireland, are derived from the people of Ireland and the same shall be exercised in the Irish Free State (Saorstat Eireann) through the organisations established by or under, and in accordance with this Constitution." This was a remarkable article. It established, not for the Saorstat alone, but for Ireland, and in no metaphorical sense, the sovereignty of the people of Ireland. This analogous position of the Ministers of State of the Saorstat to that of Ministers of the Crown or Secretaries of State under the English law had been recognised in reference to contractual liability in the recent case in the Court and in the Supreme Court of Kenny v. Cosgrave.

In his judgment, the articles of the Constitution referred to made no change in the legal position of Minister of State before the law, and contained no curtailment or extension of the exemption and liabilities of the common law. It was clear from the provisions that in no sense could the private soldier with whom they were concerned in this case be held to be a servant or agent of the Minister for Defence, so as to make the latter, as principal or master, at all liable for wrongful acts of the soldier done in the course of his duty or service.

Mr. Overend, K.C., and Mr. C. Maguire (instructed by Messrs. Little, OhUadhaigh and Proud) appeared for the plaintiff appellant; and Mr. Lynch, K.C., Mr. Bewley, K.C., and Mr. Sheehy (instructed by the Chief State Solicitor) for the defendant respondent.

CATTLE DEALER'S CLAIM.

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE O'BYRNE.)

In an action between William Cullen, 68 Iona road, Dublin, cattle-dealer, and John Kangley, of Dublin and Dundalk, cattle-dealer,

Mr. W. J. Gleeson, with whom was Mr. Geoghegan, K.C. (instructed by Mr. James Fagan), applied on behalf of the plaintiff for judgment for £987 6s., due by the defendant for money alleged to have been advanced to him by the plaintiff. The plaintiff and the defendant, counsel said, had business dealings with each other in cattle in a large way. A summary summons under the new rules had been issued to recover the amount, as the defendant had entered an appearance and filed an affidavit in which he made a claim to a set-off for a number of items. Having regard to this, he (counsel) did not press his application, and he would be satisfied to have the action tried by a judge without a jury at an early date.

Mr. Cherry (instructed by Messrs. Gerrard and Co.), for the defendant, asked to have the application dismissed, with costs.

Mr. Justice O'Byrne made no rule on the motion, and the costs of both sides would be costs in the cause. He directed that a statement and defence should be delivered. An application for discovery of documents on both sides could be made to the Master.

AUCTION BRIDGE.

(CONDUCTED BY "PALOMAR.")

Competition - - No. 86.

(1). The prize will be awarded to the competitor who sends in the play of the hand given below, equal, or nearest, to the rendering of "Palomar," who will give reasons for any special features.
(2) One side only of a sheet of paper must be used
(3). All entries must be addressed to "Palomar," Irish Times, Ltd., Dublin, and must arrive not later than the first post on next Friday.
(4). "Palomar's" decision on all points shall be considered as final, and no correspondence will be entered into on the subject of the competition.
(5). All entries must be accompanied by the upper part of this article, which should be cut out.

PLAY THE HAND AS IF ONLY DUMMY'S WAS EXPOSED.

Y: Sp. Q, 6. H. 8, 6, 3, 2. D. Q, J, 10, 4, 2. Cl. 8, 7.

A: Sp. J, 5, 3. H. Q, 10, 7. D. 8, 5. Cl. A, Q, 4, 3, 2.

B: Sp. A, 10, 8, 4. H. J, 9, 5. D. 7, 6, 3. Cl. 10, 9, 5.

SCORE:—Game all, love-all.

BIDDING: Z. 1 No-trump. A. No bid. Y. No bid. B. No bid.

Commence the game thus:

Tricks.	A.	Y.	B.	Z.
1.	3 of clubs.

Place next lead below winning card. Star the winners, or draw line underneath. Number the tricks in rotation, and always give the result, and reasons for play.

Result of Competition No. 85.

No competitor gave all ten answers correctly, but three have tied with eight each, and will divide the prize, receiving 14/- each: Miss Newport, Seaview, Tramore, Co. Waterford; Mr. S. L. MacFarlane, Avonville, Kingstown, Co. Dublin, and Mrs. M. F. Lombard, 9 Corrig avenue, Kingstown, Co. Dublin, Mr. C. Buttanshaw, Ballsbridge, being only one point behind, with seven correct.

(1) Answer—One No-trump—With but a single worthless spade, a denial is needed, and the hand has sufficient strength to justify it. The most informatory and probably the most effective denial with this holding is with a no-trump. To deny by bidding two diamonds would give "A" an erroneous impression of the character of the hand. Ace-x-x of an adverse suit, although it stops it at once, frequently justifies a no-trump, especially after a bid by partner.

(2). Answer—No Bid—With such unusual support for the major suit-bid to change the declaration would be unthinkable. The strength of the hand fully warrants a jump, but is so great that the jump is not needed. The hand contains sufficient strength to advance the partner's spades as far as necessary. An adverse double of even as high a bid as four spades would be welcome. Such a double is more probable if the advance made one at a time; the jump would discourage it.

(3). Answer—No Bid—Normal support for partner's suit. The only reason for bidding diamonds would be the honour score, and as game in diamonds is not probable, eighty honours would not justify a denial, particularly as a shift to diamonds might lose the game. After passing, if the adverse hearts be advanced, and "A" does not bid two spades, "B" should call the diamonds; in that event the first pass would have shown normal support for spades, and the diamond bid would accurately picture the hand for the partner.

(4). Answer—Two Diamonds—Important to deny the spades. Queen and two small of the adverse suit not a sufficiently safe stopper to justify a no-trump.

(5). Answer—No Bid—The strength of the hand would thoroughly justify no-trump, in spite of the fact that it would wrongly deny spades. The game is practically sure at either no-trump or spades, but the spade declaration probably would produce the higher honour score.

(6). Answer—One No-trump—While this hand greatly resembles No. 5, the absence of the knave of spades materially weakens it as an assistant for the partner's spade declaration, and decreases the probability of a greater honour score with spades the trump. Viewing this hand as a whole, with the presence of the ace of diamonds, a no-trump contract seems slightly safer, and a denial—even although the spade suit contains stronger than normal support—is advisable.

(7). Answer—No Bid—The spade holding makes a denial advisable, but with a trickless hand a bid is unsound, as it would deceive the partner. Except with a most unusual hand, a denial should not be made without one quick trick of some sort.

(8). Answer—Two Diamonds—A safer bid than no-trump, as the singleton ace of the adverse suit makes the hand vulnerable for no-trump, unless a game-producing suit can be run immediately. With this holding, game is far more probable with a minor contract than at no-trump, and the bid of two diamonds may produce another heart bid, which would give "B" the opportunity to bid clubs, and thus direct "A" to chose between diamonds and [illegible].

(9). Answer—The Five of Hearts—The simple, normal opening of the leader's long suit where partner has doubled, and needs no comment. Many players would be inclined, and, doubtless, with good reason, to open trumps, as all of "Z's" three-side holdings are such as to be undesirable blind openings through a strong dummy; but "Z's" hand is so strong all round as to justify the intention of forcing out declarer's trumps as early as possible, and then playing the hand as a no-trumper.

(10). Answer.—The Ace of Diamonds—As "Y" must hold the "whip hand" in high cards, it is imperative to open with the ace of diamonds, both to show "Y" the leader's long suit and to hold the lead, so as to determine after seeing the dummy, the next lead through dummy.

FAULTY DOUGH MIXER.

INTERESTING FACTORY PROSECUTION.

Failure to fit a dough mixer with an automatic locking device, which meant, as the prosecution alleged, that a workman in putting in his hand to see if the dough was all right might get his arm cut off, was a point which was raised in an unusual case at Navan Sessions yesterday, when the Ministry of Industry and Commerce summoned Messrs. John Spicer and Co., bakers and millers, for neglecting to fence off a dangerous part of a machine at their factory in Athlumney road.

Evidence was given by Mr. P. C. Adams, an inspector of the Factory and Workshops Act, that the dough mixer was not securely fenced. Instead of a locking device it had a wooden cover, but it would be better without it.

Mr. J. Quinn, secretary and managing director of the company, said that they were about to scrap this machine, and in February last had got estimates. There was no danger to any workman by using this machine, as was evident from the fact that, although it had been in use for twenty-seven years, there never had been any accident.

District Justice Goff said that he was satisfied that this automatic device would be a better one than the present arrangement, but there was, of course, nothing made that would ever be perfect. At the same time, he was impressed by the fact that there had been some fencing done and by the fact that the machine had been there for twenty-seven years without any accident occurring. He was not going to convict, but he would adjourn the case in order to give Messrs. Spicer an opportunity of putting in this new machinery.

The case was adjourned to the end of February next.

THE LAW'S DELAY.

DEFECTS OF COURTS OF JUSTICE ACT.

CREDIT SYSTEM BEING KILLED.

The delay and expense connected with the Courts of Justice Act, 1924, in the Free State was the subject of comment at the half-yearly meeting of the Incorporated Law Society of Ireland in the offices, Kildare street, Dublin, yesterday.

Mr. T. G. Quirke, the President, referring to the practice which compels creditors in England and Scotland to sue a debtor in Ireland in the local Circuit Court, with consequent delay and great expense in bringing witnesses to remote country places, said that it was not likely to encourage wholesale merchants to give credit, and there were signs that that credit was drying up.

THE OLD AND THE NEW.

PROGRESS HINDERED.

The President, in moving the adoption of the report, said that the fundamental principle of the Courts of Justice Act, 1924, was the decentralisation of the administration of justice. At their meeting in May last, whilst he stated that the Council and the profession generally would continue to do everything possible to make the new administration and its procedure a success, he ventured to question the wisdom of the Act. It was becoming more manifest every day that if the Irish Free State was to make progress and become really prosperous it could only be done by cultivating friendly relations with England and the world beyond their shores, by extending their trade and commerce, and by broadening and strengthening their credit. That credit could only rest on a sure foundation when it was made clear that there was machinery provided for a certain and speedy enforcement of obligations.

Under the old procedure a creditor for any substantial sum, by taking proceedings in the High Court, could obtain a judgment for his debt in a few weeks at most, and at a small cost, which was fixed and reasonable, and, at the same time, the defendant was amply protected against any chance miscarriage of justice. Under the new system a creditor, a merchant in London, Manchester, Glasgow or Dublin, is practically compelled, unless his claim exceeds £300, to sue his debtor in the local Circuit Court, with all the consequent delay entailed by the fact that that Court only sits at intervals of months, with the great expense of bringing witnesses to a remote country town, and with a further prospect of having to defend an appeal after he had obtained the judgment of the Circuit Court. This was not likely to encourage wholesale merchants to give credit, and there were not wanting signs that the Act had already had some effect in drying up that credit. Apart from its effect on credit, it could not be said that, so far, the Circuit Courts provided a speedy remedy. There were only eight Circuit Courts for the whole of the 26 counties, and in many counties the arrears were accumulating, and, with the additional work put upon them by the greatly increased jurisdiction, it was impossible for the Judges to overtake the arrears.

COURT OFFICERS.

The Court Officers Act, 1926, which was supplementary to the Courts of Justice Act, became law in July last. During its progress as a bill in Parliament their Council gave close attention to all the provisions of the bill, and a deputation submitted to the Minister a number of suggested amendments with a view to ensuring that the principal officers to be appointed under the Act should be persons who had skilled knowledge of the work they would have to discharge, evidenced either by their professional standing or gained by their experience in similar offices. Some of the suggestions were adopted by the amendments brought in by the Minister himself, but they did not go so far as the Council desired.

One of the great difficulties in dealing with measures of this kind, so intimately affecting the profession, was that these bills were drafted without any previous consultation with their Council, or with any members of the profession, and once so drafted it was difficult to make any impression on the Minister or party responsible for the draft. The effect that the Act had was to make very sweeping changes in the working of the offices attached to the several Courts of Justice. These changes were effected as from 1st October, and, as a result, a number of the old and experienced officers have retired. The object apparently aimed at was economy and efficiency. It was too soon yet to say whether these objects would be attained, but at all events their Council would use every endeavour to make the changes successful.

THE COURT RULES.

Consequent on the passing of the Court Officers Act the new Rules of the High Court and Supreme Court came into force on 1st October last. The principal change effected by the Rules was to establish the important office of the Master of the High Court, with power to hear and dispose of matters heretofore dealt with by one of the judges, and give to the Master the general control of the offices of the Court. As their President, he attended several meetings of the rule-making authority, and he should like to take that opportunity of thanking the Chief Justice and his colleagues for the invariable courtesy extended to him and the careful and sympathetic consideration with which any suggestions he made in their Council's interest were received.

Referring to the new Circuit Court Rules, numbering in all some 500, the President said they were finally adopted by the rule-making authority and sent to the Minister for Justice in July last; but owing to a controversy about some of the rules in the Dail the motion for their adoption was withdrawn, and they were still the subject of consideration by the Rules Committee.

The District Court Rules prepared by the Committee appointed under the Courts of Justice Act were adopted by the two Houses of Parliament, and came into operation on the 1st October. The Council had learned that these Rules were working satisfactorily, and much credit in connection with their preparation was due to their representatives on the Rule Making Authority, Mr. E. H. Burne and Mr. James S. Gaffney, of Limerick.

DELAYED APPEALS.

Speaking of appeals from the Circuit Courts, the President said they had received a number of communications from the Sessional Bars and individual solicitors throughout the country on the subject. In the first place, there were a great number of appeals pending, and the delay in bringing them to a hearing must in many cases result in a miscarriage of justice. An unsuccessful litigant before the Circuit Court Judge had only to lodge a notice of appeal to gain a period of several months' time before he could be compelled to meet his obligation. The delay was serious enough, but the system of appeal inaugurated by the Courts of Justice Act was even more serious in its results. These appeals were now heard by two judges sitting in Dublin, on the evidence as transcribed by the shorthand writer.

"I do not think," said Mr. Quirke, "it is any disparagement of the shorthand writer's work to say that it is quite impossible for any shorthand writer sitting in court for hours to take an accurate and full note of all the evidence, but even assuming that it is perfectly accurate transcript of the evidence as given in court, the judges sitting to hear the appeal have not the advantage of seeing the demeanour of witnesses in the box or of testing in any way the value of the evidence given. Accordingly, except in the case of a question of law the present system of appeal is almost valueless. Having regard to the greatly increased jurisdiction of the Circuit Court (that jurisdiction extending up to £300) it is more necessary than ever that an appeal should be in the nature of a full and thorough investigation of the whole case, and we think the only satisfactory method of appeal, therefore, is a re-hearing before specially appointed Commissioners or a Judge of the High Court, sitting at regular intervals in the principal cities and towns in the country. In addition, the present system of hearing appeals is far more costly to the litigants than the old procedure of a re-hearing. The present system is slow in working, very expensive to litigants, and quite unsatisfactory in the results."

THE FOUR COURTS.

Continuing, the Chairman said that the Board of Works was at present engaged in the rebuilding of the Four Courts, and had submitted to the Council plans for building new premises for the occupation of the Society. These plans had received the Council's most careful consideration, and he had, with the Secretary, had several interviews with the Chairman of the Board and with their architect. It was proposed, subject to certain arrangements, to give them a new building for the exclusive occupation of the Society on the site formerly occupied by the Stamp Office, the Taxing Office, and part of the Bankruptcy buildings.

In concluding, Mr. Quirke said that about a week ago himself and the two Vice-Presidents were the guests of the North of Ireland solicitors in Belfast, and they had had the pleasure of entertaining the President of the Northern Law Society and the President of the Northern Law Club in Dublin. He only desired to say that their relations with their Northern brethren were of the most cordial and friendly nature, and an artificial boundary created by politics had made no difference amongst them. (Hear, hear.) There were not wanting signs that through the friendly meetings of the professional societies and the Chamber of Commerce the true union of all Irishmen, which they all so much desired, might be ultimately and, perhaps, very soon attained. (Applause.)

Mr. L. J. Ryan, Vice-President, seconded the adoption of the report.

"SIMPLY DEPLORABLE."

Mr. James Brady said that in his opinion the whole newly-adopted system of rules and regulations was simply deplorable and no improvement whatever on the old system. The authorities did not seem to give very much heed to the views expressed by that Council, and he very much feared that unless the public, upon whom they relied for their business, came to their aid nothing would be achieved.

All governments seemed to be the same—the jack in office seemed to think he knew everything. There was a great deal to be said about the existing system of Circuit Court procedure, but his idea was that it was an absolute farce.

The report was adopted, and a vote of thanks to the President was passed with acclamation.

RESULT OF THE BALLOT.

The Secretary read the report of the scrutineers of the ballot for Council, which stated that the following had been returned unopposed as provincial delegates:—

Munster, J. S. Gaffney; Leinster, M. Buggy; Connaught, H. J. Concanon; and that for provincial delegate for Ulster there had been two candidates, who had received the following votes respectively—T. Y. Chambers, 24; W. Halpin, 21; accordingly, T. W. Chambers had been elected, with W. Halpin supplemental.

For 31 ordinary members of Council the following had been elected—T. G. Quirke, E. H. Burne, Peter Seales, J. J. Lynch, W. S. Hales, P. J. Byrne, H. Turpin, W. G. Bradley, A. H. S. Orpen, F. Fottrell, P. Tallan, J. E. MacDermott, L. J. Ryan, J. J. Duggan, R. G. Warren, W. V. Seddall, C. Gamble, W. T. Sheridan, M. E. Knight, T. W. Delany, D. J. Reilly, James Moore, H. K. Toomey, B. Thompson, W. Martin, W. Dwyer, J. G. Reid, H. P. Mayne, A. D. Orr, James Harte, C. J. Laverty; and the following to form a supplemental list in case of vacancies—J. E. Wallace, A. Healy, W. Henry.

The report was adopted.

DUBLIN CIRCUIT COURT

SOME SENTENCES.

FORGERY AND FRAUDULENT CONVERSION.

(BEFORE JUDGE ROCHE.)

At the sitting of the Court the Judge dealt with a big batch of prisoners, who had been found guilty or who had pleaded guilty.

Thomas Hall was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment, with hard labour, for forgery, and Joseph Nelson, his accomplice, to three months' imprisonment.

The Judge said that Hall took advantage of a position in the office of the Local Government Board to forge three paying orders—one for £18, another for £15, and the third for £26. Then he proceeded to embark upon another crime. In order to obtain £40 from the Bank of Ireland, he gave the name of a customer of the Munster and Leinster Bank as his security, and then got Nelson to personate this man. On two subsequent occasions money was fraudulently obtained in the same way.

John Dyer, for converting to his own use moneys belonging to the New Ireland Assurance Society, was sentenced to nine months' hard labour.

John Coughlan, for attempting to cash a cheque on which he had forged the name of his sister, was sentenced to eighteen months' hard labour. John Kirk, aged 19, his accomplice, was sent to a Borstal institution.

HOUSEBREAKING AND ROBBERY.

Patrick Fee, who pleaded guilty to breaking into the house of Signor Vivani at St. Mary's road, and stealing property to the value of £50, was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment, with hard labour. Another boy named Murtagh, also charged with breaking, was sent to a Borstal institution for two years.

Two youths, M. J. Brennan and Francis Launders, convicted of breaking into and robbing the spirit grocery establishment of Mr. Edward Plant, Lennox street, were each sentenced to twelve months' hard labour. Another boy named P. J. Sheehan, who pleaded guilty to the same offence, was allowed out on probation.

For breaking into a pawn office and stealing property to the value of £150, Edward Tyrrell, George Clarke, and John Kearns were each sentenced to hard labour, Tyrrell to eighteen months, Clarke to twelve months, and Kearns to nine months.

Peter King and George Clarke were each sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment, with hard labour, for breaking into a cloakroom at Amiens street Railway Station and stealing a number of articles.

For a series of robberies from shops and hotels in the city, Thomas Byrne was sent to penal servitude for three years.

COUNTERFEIT COIN.

Martin Parkinson and James Connolly, convicted of uttering counterfeit coin, were sentenced, each to three years' penal servitude. Parkinson, said the judge, had a terrible record of crime, and had been convicted thirteen times since 1888.

John McQuirke was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment for being in possession of a pistol and ammunition and moulds and materials for making counterfeit coins. As it was stated that the prisoner was not strong mentally, the judge directed that he should receive special attention by the prison doctor.

FALSE PRETENCES AND THEFT.

John Joseph Tobin, convicted of obtaining board and lodging and sums of money by false pretences, was sentenced to twelve months' hard labour.

Having been previously convicted, a boy named Peter Murray was sentenced to nine months' hard labour for stealing a motor car from outside a city church and breaking into Colonel Poë's garage at Santry to get petrol.

Elizabeth Parkinson, who pleaded guilty to the larceny of a valuable diamond ring, was sent to a home for twelve months, and a suspended sentence of three months' imprisonment was imposed.

A suspended sentence of six months' imprisonment was imposed on Lizzie Devlin, who had pleaded guilty to a number of thefts in churches in the city.

James Murphy, who received a watch for repair and pawned it, being convicted previously for a similar offence, was sent to prison for three months.

AN "INTERNATIONAL THIEF."

Edward Canty, who pleaded guilty to stealing a motor bicycle, was sentenced to twelve months' hard labour.

Passing sentence, the Judge described Canty as an international thief, who had been deported from England to Ireland. Arriving in Belfast, he resumed his criminal activities, and then came to Dublin.

Mr. Carrigan, K.C. (for the State) pointed out that when Canty was arrested he had in his possession a gold watch and chain and a penknife, which would be the subject of a further change. These articles were the property of a special correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, who had been staying in a city hotel, but who had left the city since.

The prisoner stated that he was drinking with the journalist in the presence of three other men. He took the watch and chain and knife, and said that he would keep them.

Mr. Carrigan—Then we will send them back to Chicago.

OTHER CASES.

Thomas O'Donnell, a car driver, was acquitted of charges of unlawful assembly and of assaulting Harold Whitehead, Sheriff's bailiff, while the latter was executing a decree to take over possession of a tenement house in Dominick lane, Dublin.

When William Mahoney, Strandville avenue, was charged with committing an assault on his daughter, Nora, aged about 15 years, the girl admitted that her story was untrue. The defendant was discharged.

LUCAN TRAMWAY.

ABSORPTION BY DUBLIN CONCERN.

'BUS COMPETITION.

The shareholders of Dublin United Tramways Co., Ltd., at an extraordinary meeting yesterday at 59 Upper Sackville street, approved the proposal to purchase the Dublin and Lucan and Lucan and Leixlip Electric Railway Companies.

The following motion was passed:—"That the bill submitted to this meeting entitled 'a bill to authorise the Dublin United Tramways Co., Ltd., to acquire the undertakings of the Dublin and Lucan and the Lucan and Leixlip Electric Railway Companies, and to alter and maintain the existing lines of these companies, and to enable the company to act as electricity undertakers, and to amend certain Acts relating to this company, and for other purposes,' be, and the same is hereby approved, subject to such additions, alterations or variations as the Oireachtas may think fit to make therein and the directors shall sanction."

Before moving the resolution, Mr. William Hewat, T.D., chairman of the company, referred to the death of Mr. Joseph Mooney, and the Secretary was instructed to send a message of condolence to Mrs. Mooney.

PROLONGED NEGOTIATIONS.

Proposing the resolution, the Chairman said that the question of the acquisition of these undertakings had been the subject of prolonged negotiations, and much comment had appeared in the Press from time to time.

In the bill they were seeking to become electrical undertakers over that portion of the Lucan line which was outside the Corporation area, and in that area powers were sought to supply electricity over a distance in any direction of half a mile on either side of the tramway lines. The Lucan Railway had built up a fairly extensive business in the supply of electricity, mainly for lighting, and to a small extent for power, and it was considered desirable to continue and extend those facilities for the convenience and comfort of residents in the district.

The city authorities, no doubt, having in view a possible early extension of the city boundaries, had introduced by separate agreement a matter that they considered necessary to safeguard their interests. The agreement, he believed, would be completed to their mutual satisfaction.

LOOKING AHEAD.

Undoubtedly an efficient tramway service which that company could supply, giving passengers access to and from the centre of the city, would in course of time greatly develop the district, served by the Lucan line, and assuming that private enterprise would do its part, a health resort of great value, and an industrial area most convenient to the city was likely to develop with improved transport facilities.

While in he initial stages substantial addition to the company's revenue could not be expected from this extension, the receipts of the line should grow, and in time compare favourably with lines running in other directions through the city.

Dr. Lombard Murphy seconded.

Mr. Maguire said that the chairman had not stated the length of the lease the company was getting. The lease of the Tramway Company would expire in 1936, and the system could then be purchased by local authorities at a valuation. Before undertaking such a heavy extension they should get a very substantial lease. There seemed to be a great deal of rush. These lines that they were about to taking over hardly ever paid a dividend or earned their expenses, because the district was so scantily populated.

Mr. Davis asked what were the terms with regard to Blackrock and Rathmines districts.

EXTENSION OF LEASE.

Mr. Kelly said that the extension of their lease by thirty years as a condition of taking over the lines was very short. He believed that they would not get a return out of the Lucan line for the next twenty years, and that they had been treated by the authorities in a most miserable way. The term should be extended to 100 years.

Mr. Orr said that while he was in entire sympathy with the resolution it was desirable to acquire the property on reasonable terms. They should be satisfied as to the term of the lease, and get information as to the price. If they committed themselves to that resolution they were committing themselves to a policy which appeared to him unsound. Tramways, in his judgment, were out of date. At present the company had to face the serious competition of omnibuses, and he thought that it was a mistaken policy to undertake the reconstruction of a line on the dimensions of the Lucan undertakings.

AN ALTERNATIVE.

He thought that these districts could be efficiently served by the excellent omnibuses of the company. As to the competition by private 'buses, he was told that at the north side of the city after certain hours the trams were empty and the private 'buses full. The same applied to the service to Sandymount Tower, and only the previous evening he saw the 'buses there absolutely packed and the trams more or less empty. That being so, he asked the directors seriously to consider the question whether they could not put on an adequate 'bus service and avoid a very big expenditure. The £10 shares of the company were now £6 and a few shillings.

Mr. H. de Courcy agreed with Mr. Orr, and said that they had more to fear from omnibus competition than from any other cause.

The Chairman, replying, said that as to what was described as a lease, their term expired in 1938, and under the bill they were getting that extended to 42 years because they were taking over the Lucan line. If they did not undertake that their present term would expire in 12 years, and the local authorities would then have the option to purchase the system on the terms laid down in the Act of Parliament under which they worked.

There was no special agreement with Blackrock or Rathmines authorities. The maintenance of the track throughout the city and suburbs was a very heavy charge, added to which was way leave. They could not get over that, but way leave would not apply to the Lucan extension, which would be their own property and over which no other traffic would go.

CLEARING THE TRACKS.

He felt that ultimately the tramway tracks would be kept clear of traffic, which would mean that the speed of the cars would not be interefered with, and that would reduce the cost of upkeep.

The question raised by Mr. Orr was a very big one, to which they had given much consideration. They hesitated to express a definite opinion on that matter. Provided they got the volume of traffic to pay interest on the initial outlay for laying the tram, there was no question of the economic working of the tram as against omnibuses.

There seemed to be a mania for 'buses, but he thought that there was not much doubt, so far as the City of Dublin was concerned, the trams would hold their own.

The time was coming, and it must be faced, when it would be considered that the competition of 'buses on the roads was a menace to the people. That situation must be dealt with. They could not accept Mr. Orr's suggestion, which was nothing more than a pessimistic view of the moment. They had given the matter very careful consideration, and he asked the meeting to pass the resolution in the interests of the company. The sum payable for the lines was £12,500, but that was covered by assets which were considered value for the money. It was a libel on their men to say that they did not do their work, or that they were not properly supervised. The men were well paid, and they did their work well.

The resolution was adopted, and the meeting ended with a vote of thanks to the directors.

GOREY COURTHOUSE BURNING.

By consent of the Wexford County Council and the State, Mr. Justice Doyle, K.C., at Wexford Circuit Court, awarded £2,515 for the burning of Gorey Courthouse in 1922. Of the total sum £76 was allowed for furniture destroyed in the building on the occasion.

The Prince of Wales returned to London last evening from Melton Mowbray, after hunting with the Quorn Hounds.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

DIVORCE OR ANNULMENT.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I thank your correspondent, "Sacerdos," for his kind and courteous letter in your issue of November 24th. The subject under discussion is of great importance to the Irish Free State. Like every other self-governing State, it has to face the question: What are we going to do about divorce? So far, the majority of our legislators have answered: "This is a predominantly Catholic country; the Catholic Church maintains the indissolubility of a valid marriage; we will, therefore, grant no legal facility for divorce." By divorce I mean the legal dissolution of a valid marriage, with the legal right to marry again. A judicial separation is legal permission for a husband and wife to live apart, for various reasons. An annulment, or, more strictly, a decree of nullity, is a legal declaration that a so-called marriage was in fact no marriage at all.

I do not approve of divorce—no one does. It is one of the most painful and terrible things that can happen to any man or woman. It seems to me, however, that there are some marriages so disastrous, and which impose such intolerable conditions, that the State is justified, in order to avoid greater evils, in releasing the parties from the legal tie that binds them and in allowing them to contract another legal marriage. So far as I am aware, every civil State has been forced to this conclusion, and I hold that the Roman Catholic Church has been forced to the same conclusion, in spite of all that canonists like "Sacerdos" may say to the contrary.

I hold that the marriage of the Duke of Marlborough and Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt must, on all rational and common-sense principles, be held to have been a valid marriage. She was asked: "Wilt thou have this man to thy wedded husband?" She replied: "I will." Will it be seriously maintained that in a free country, like America, any woman could be forced to say this against her will? There were, no doubt, strong social reasons for the marriage, as there are in most marriages. Anyone who knows how marriages are arranged in Ireland must admit that strong social pressure is often brought to bear upon both men and women in this country to accept a wife or husband who would not be their own free choice, if unfettered love were the only consideration. Are all such marriages invalid? Miss Vanderbilt subsequently acquiesced in accepting the Duke as her husband for twenty-five years, bore the title of Duchess of Marlborough, and bore him children. If all this does not constitute consent, I do not know what does.

In Whittier's poem about Maud Müller and the judge we have a vivid description of the contrast between natural inclination and social pressure in regard to marriage; but—

"He wedded a wife of richest dower,
Who lived for fashion as he for power."

Will "Sacerdos" maintain that both the judge and Maud Müller were entitled to decrees of nullity? What was the difference between their marriages and the Marlborough-Vanderbilt marriage?

I have just seen an informing article on the case in The Universe of November 19th, an English Roman Catholic paper. The additional information only confirms my opinion of the whole proceedings. The following quotation is illuminating:—"As regards the four persons mainly concerned [the Duke and his second wife and the Duchess and her second husband], it is clear that a painful discrepancy between their position under the English law and their position in the eyes of the Church is in train to be terminated. Four persons are thus enabled to retain the position they hold in the eyes of the law, and also to become, if they wish, loyal children of the Church." That is, the Roman Church, equally with the State, is compelled to sanction divorce in certain extreme cases. The Church may prefer to call the thing a decree of nullity. The State calls it a divorce a vinculo; but the thing is essentially the same, and, further, the Roman Church allows all concerned to take advantage both of British civil law and of Roman canon law, so far as it suits their convenience—e.g., the first marriage is null under canon law, but the children are legitimate under civil law.

Now for the moral for our Irish Free State legislators. Let them decide for or against the setting up of a Divorce Court according to their reason and conscience, as they shall deem it best for their country; but let them not decide the question on the ground that the Roman Church maintains in fact the absolute indissolubility of a valid marriage.—Yours, etc.,

COMPULSORY IRISH.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—May I contradict a statement made by an advocate of compulsory Irish in Free State schools, who said that Hebrew was compulsory in Palestine? It is not compulsory in any Government school, but only in the Zionist schools; and the Jews can, and do, go to the Government schools, where the teaching is in English or Arabic.—Yours, etc.,

T. S. HARVEY.

Co. Cork, November 25th, 1926.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I wish to draw the attention of your readers to the recent announcement of an examination for shorthand typists in the Civil Service. A new rule has just been made that 50 per cent. in Irish must be secured to qualify. This seems rather unfair; for the only people who know Irish at all thoroughly are those who have just left school and have, therefore, been studying it since the Free State came into being. This gives them an enormous advantage over people who have been in business for a few years, and have, therefore, the necessary experience and training in general office work, shorthand, typewriting, etc., but at the same time either do not know Irish or have forgotten a good part of it.

In the last examination Irish was a subject, but it was not necessary to secure any stated number of marks to qualify, and many people passed, and have since been appointed, whose Irish marks only came to about 10 per cent.; and, indeed, in some cases no marks at all were secured for Irish, and yet the people passed. This appears to show that a person who has a very poor knowledge of Irish can still be much better as regards general office work than even a "native Irish speaker." The same percentage is required in shorthand and typewriting and English, and it seems hard luck that a person who might get, say, 90 per cent. in all these subjects should fail by reason of getting, may be, 45 per cent. in Irish. If it is desired to promote the study of the language, it could surely be done without putting this high percentage on it—at least until everyone has a chance to learn it.

All persons entering for the examination, of course, realise that, if they lose a lot of marks in Irish, it will be necessary for them to have very excellent results in all the other subjects, and so, of course, they are learning as much Irish as possible. Still two months does not seem to give beginners much time to learn a language well enough to secure 50 per cent. in an examination. Would it not be possible to make a certain allowance in the paper for the length of time one has been studying the language? If one succeeds in passing the examination, there is an oral test in Irish which must be passed within two years; so, even if some allowance were made for beginners now, it would not mean that they could escape learning the language—but there is a vast difference between two years and two months. If I remember correctly, one of the articles of the Treaty was that Irish was not to be made compulsory until 1928, but this examination is announced for 1927.

Of course people who have just left school may say that, as they are not good at shorthand and typewriting, it gives them a chance against those who are; but, after all, the work they will be required to do is shorthand and typewriting, and it should be more essential to be perfect in these subjects. In fact, the question seems to boil down to this: does the Government want expert typist and shorthand typists to type its letters quickly and accurately, or does it desire expert Irish students to stumble through them?—Yours, etc.,

MISS FAY COMPTON on "Care of the Complexion"

(A personal interview)

"Personally, in my opinion, a good cleansing with a cold cream at least once a day is as effective a method as any and it is very simple."

Charm

Miss Fay Compton's personal charm and her prestige as one of the most talented actresses of our day is too generally well known to need comment. It was with the delicate beauty of her complexion that I was concerned. I desired to know the method by which Miss Compton keeps the skin of her face, neck and hands so clear and smooth in appearance. So absolutely free from blemish.

"A good cleansing with cold cream."

"I cannot claim any particular method as my own," said Miss Compton, "although I think if one is gifted with a good skin one ought to take some steps to look after it. Personally, in my opinion, a good cleansing with cold cream at least once a day is as effective a method as any, and it is very simple."

"I always use Pond's."

"What cold cream do you recommend?"

"Well, I always use Pond's. In fact, Pond's Two Creams—the Cold Cream and the Vanishing Cream for daytime use—are all that are necessary. I find Pond's Vanishing Cream very refreshing when I am tired—it has a delightful perfume."

Although Miss Compton does not acknowledge that so simple a process of caring for the skin has any right to be called a "method," yet it is in fact a very effective method followed by thousands of charming women to-day—the Pond's method.

The Pond's method

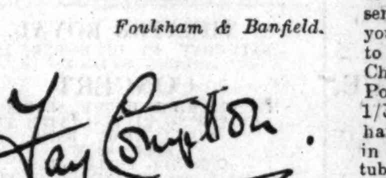

The essentials of the Pond's method of skin care are two: "Cleansing" and "Protection."

The cleansing cream.

Every night before retiring apply Pond's Cold Cream generously to the skin of the face, neck, shoulders, arms and hands. Massage gently in the way shown in Pond's Home Massage Chart (given free with every tube).

Foulsham & Banfield.

Let the cream stay on for a few moments so that its pure oils may penetrate the tissues and bring to the surface all the impurities. Then remove the cream with a soft cloth—all these impurities will come away with it, leaving the skin clean and rejuvenated. Although the last thing at night is the most convenient time for regular use of the cream, yet there are other occasions when it may be used to advantage—when dressing for dinner or after a long motor ride or game of golf, when the skin has been long exposed to the rigours of the open air.

EVERY SKIN NEEDS THESE TWO CREAMS. USED BY COUNTLESS THOUSANDS OF WOMEN TO MAKE AND KEEP THEIR COMPLEXION EXQUISITE.

The protective cream

Pond's Vanishing Cream—the protective cream — will keep your skin and complexion beautifully smooth and soft and free from blemish, however much you may expose it to wind, or rain, or the dust-laden atmosphere of concert halls and dance rooms. Use it on convenient occasions during the day; it will vanish instantly. It forms an excellent base for powder, and, being delicately scented with the odour of Jacqueminot roses, is very refreshing.

SPECIAL SAMPLE OFFER

If you do not already follow the Pond's method, let Miss Fay Compton's example tempt you to begin to-day. Fill up and send us the coupon below, and we will send you free sufficient of Pond's Two Creams to give the method a convincing trial. All Chemists sell Pond's Cold Cream and Pond's Vanishing Cream, in jars, price 1/3 and 2/6, and in tubes, price 7½d. (for handbag) and 1/-. The Cold Cream also in extra large jars 5/-, and in extra large tubes 2/6.

CASHEL SHOOTING AFFAIR.

THREE MEN ARRESTED.

In connection with the firing of about nine gunshots into the house of Mr. John Lonergan, Upper Friar street, Cashel, at two o'clock on Thursday morning, three young men, named Thomas Kirwan and Thomas Taylor, of Cashel, and William Casey, of Cahir, have been arrested and charged with the outrage.

They were brought before Mr. Francis Phillips, Peace Commissioner, yesterday, and, after formal evidence by Sergeant Healy, were remanded to the next District Court in Cashel, bail being allowed in the sum of £20, and two sureties of £10 each.

FOOTBALL TEAM'S EXPENSES.

LORD WILLIAM BERESFORD DECEIVED.

At the Waterford District Court yesterday James Power, an ex-soldier, of Portlaw, County Waterford, was charged with obtaining money by false pretences. Amongst the sums to which Power pleaded guilty was one of 25s. obtained from Lord William Beresford. Writing from Newtown Anner, Clonmel, Lord William's statement, which was read in Court, was as follows:—

"I remember Saturday week last, the 13th inst., on which date James Power, Portlaw, whom I know from infancy, called on me and intimated that there was a football match between Portlaw and Clonmel on the following day at Clonmel, and that he wished some help to finance the conveyance of some of the players from Portlaw to Clonmel. I gave him one pound and five shillings towards the expenses consequent on the match. (Signed) William Beresford."

Power, who agreed to pay back all the moneys obtained, was discharged on probation.

SALES OF WORK.

CHRIST CHURCH, RATHGAR.

A sale of work was held yesterday by the Rathgar Girls' Auxiliary in Christ Church, Rathgar, in aid of the Missions to China and India, which are supported by the church. Miss Rosa Hudson, who is home on furlough, after five years in Manchuria, opened the sale.

The principal stallholders were: — The Misses Gilmer, Brunton, McElnay, K. Richardson, C. Hudson, and V. Thompson, Refreshments; the Misses Harris, Johnston, B. Keith, and D. Grieve, Work Stall; the Misses Hurley, M. Findlay, and P. Kirkpatrick, Handkerchief; the Misses McGregor and Lemon, Sweet Stall. Admission tickets, Master Frank Mitchell.

MOLYNEUX ASYLUM FOR THE BLIND.

The Molyneux Asylum for the Blind, Leeson Park, Dublin, held its annual sale of the inmates' work yesterday, and had an excellent and varied assortment of articles, both useful and ornamental, on view, including hand-woven tweed, raffia work, baskets, rush, willow, and cane chairs and tables. The Work Stall had a large quantity of stockings, jumpers, and other knitted garments.

The principal stallholders were: — Mrs. Butler, Miss H. Butler, Mrs. T. Overend, and Mrs. Greville, Country Produce Stall; Miss Sibthorpe, Miss Mason, Miss Adair, and Mrs. Hearn, Inmates' Work Stall, in charge of Miss Langtry, Assistant Matron and Work Mistress; Mrs. Huggard, Miss K. Huggard, and Miss Willington, Sweet Stall; Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. Donaldson, Lady Walker, Mrs. A. Blood, and Miss Devenish, Tea Stall.

The sale was opened by Lady Shaw. The last report of the institution states that the year, which began with an adverse balance of £110, has ended with a credit balance of £15 16s. 5d., a result due to reduced expenditure in almost all departments, and to an increase in receipts from dividends and inmates' work. The Work Department has had a record year both in the ordinary work and in the results of the last annual sale.

THE WORLD CALL.

In connection with the Church of Ireland Missionary Convention, as announced in our advertising columns, there will be a special Service in St. Patrick's Cathedral next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, at which the Bishop of Salisbury will be the preacher. Delegates are requested to be in their places not later than 7.45 p.m., after which hour seats will not be reserved.

There will be Holy Communion, with missionary intercession, in Christ Church Cathedral on the following morning at 10.30 o'clock, followed by a conference in the Synod Hall. A public convention will be held in the Diocesan Hall, Upper Baggot street, Dublin, next Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at which the Primate will preside, and the Bishop of Salisbury and Dr. Garfield Williams will be the principal speakers.

The Archbishop of Dublin will preach on "The World Call" to-morrow evening at 7 o'clock in St. Peter's Church, Aungier street, Dublin.

SHORTHAND-TYPISTS AND TYPISTS. Exam. announced for February, 1927. 30 vacancies. Last exam., July, 1925: 8 successes. Special Classes now forming. McGUIRE'S COLLEGE, Gardiner's row, Dublin.—(Advt.)

MILK PRODUCTION.

EVIDENCE BEFORE ADVISORY COMMITTEE.

The Advisory Committee on the cleanliness and wholesomeness of the milk supply in Saorstat Eireann met on Thursday in Government Buildings, Dublin. Sir William Thompson (in the unavoidable absence of the Chairman) presided, and the following were also present:—Dr. Hennessy, T.D.; Dr. M. J. Russell, Messrs. J. L. S. Smith, J. Johnston, P. F. Dolan, F. O'Connor, and Mr. C. Tyrrell-Smith, Secretary.

Dr. Spencer Sheill, F.R.C.S.I., representing the Irish Clean Milk Supply, adduced figures in support of his contention that diarrhœa and other diseases of infants were due to the consumption of impure milk. The methods of production followed in this country, particularly with regard to the milking conditions in summer, he said, favoured contamination, and were behind those of other countries.

Dr. Sheill kindly consented to defer the continuation of his evidence to meet the convenience of Mr. Wilfrid Buckley, C.B.E., chairman and founder of the National Clean Milk Society, etc., who stated that he could say, from eighteen years' experience of milk production, that clean milk was a matter of education rather than coercion and legislation.

Mr. Buckley considered that the production of clean milk was a comparatively simple matter, and depended upon a knowledge of the elementary facts and the adoption of proper methods. The great difficulty lay in the elimination of tuberculosis, and in this direction progress could only be slow, and the maintenance of immunity was very liable to disappointment. The fundamental conditions of clean milk consisted in the sterilisation of the utensils, the careful grooming of cattle, the use of the small top milk pail, and cleanliness of the hands and persons of the milkers.

He reckoned that the difference in cost between slovenly and cleanly methods was not more than 1d. per gallon; that 3d. per gallon was sufficient to meet the cost of the elimination of tubercular cows, and that a further advantage came to the dairy owner in the shape of the improved health of the herd as a whole.

He approved of pasteurisation to a limited extent, but it did not atone for filth nor convert bad into good milk.

He advocated the compulsory classification of milk on a basis of bacterial content, the grading to be thorough and restricted to three classes, and all persons dealing in milk to be licensed.

He suggested that bacteriological control might be substituted for ordinary inspection, but believed in frequent veterinary inspections undertaken at the time of milking and as a means of education. There should be more co-operation between the local authorities and the producers. He urged the employment of whole-time veterinary inspectors.

The Committee adjourned until the 1st December next.

FREE CHURCH APPEAL.

At the Free Church, Great Charles street, Dublin, the annual sermons will be preached to-morrow by the Rev. J. O. Gage Dougherty, M.A. (at Morning Prayer), and the Rev. R. Northridge, M.A. (at Evening Prayer).

This old church, which will celebrate its centenary in less than two years, is almost wholly dependent for its upkeep on the free-will offerings of its members.

WIRY.
It is said that the wiry people last best, which is probably true. There is, however, no doubt about the lasting quality of our Wire Mattresses, and they do not sag in the centre. We have recently put on the market a specially fine Mattress, made of heavy 4-ply galvanised wire, mounted on superior pitch pine frame. We call it The Stafford. It is moderate in price, and fills a long-felt want for a really first-class Wire Mattress at a low price. Traders should make a point of stocking this new Mattress. When used under one of our glorious Hair Mattresses the combination gives not alone comfort, but sleep. Look for the "O'D." Trade Mark. None Genuine without it. Particulars and prices sent to Traders on request. WHOLESALE ONLY.

The Irish Times.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1926.

NEWS SUMMARY.

IRELAND.

The wisdom of the Free State Courts of Justice Act, 1924, was questioned at yesterday's meeting of the Incorporated Law Society of Ireland, and special reference was made to the serious effect which it is having on the system of credit.—(Page 5.)

GREAT BRITAIN.

Hesketh Pearson, the author of "The Whispering Gallery," was remanded in the Marlborough street Police Court, London, yesterday, on a charge of having obtained a cheque for £225 by means of false pretences in connection with the publication of the book.—(Page 8.)

An outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease has been confirmed at Whittonditch, Wiltshire.—(Page 7.)

The miners' delegate conference in London yesterday was unable to arrive at a decision, as negotiations in the districts were in progress. It adjourned without fixing a date for its next meeting.—(Page 7.)

The House of Commons yesterday considered the renewal of the Emergency Regulations. At four o'clock the debate was adjourned.—(Page 8.)

Major W. H. Carver, Conservative, was elected for the Howdenshire Division of Yorkshire yesterday by a majority of 3,985 over the Liberal candidate, Mr. F. C. Linfield.—(Page 7.)

SPORTING

At Manchester yesterday Abbot's Luck won the Lancashire Nursery Handicap.—(Page 10.)

At Kempton Park Clonlara won the Kempton Park Handicap Hurdle Race.—(Page 10.)

FINANCIAL

London Stock Markets were steady, but there were few features.—(Page 12.)

The Treasury bills were placed at 4 23-32 per cent., against 4 25-32 per cent. last week, and discount rates were easier. Loans were in good supply at 4 per cent. down to 3¾ per cent.—(Page 12.)

Week-end business in Dublin was better, with irregular prices. Rails and Banks were steadier. Guinness and Courtaulds over lowest. Dunlops finally higher.—(Page 12.)

The British Way.

In the December issue of The Round Table an obviously well-informed writer describes the working of the new Parliament of Iraq. The imposition of a democratic régime on a half-civilised people is always an interesting experiment; but the British founders of the Constitution of Iraq undertook their task with many misgivings. The first Iraq Parliament, which succeeded the provisional Government of 1920, leaped at once into the panoply of nominated Senate and elective Lower House. The Senate consists of twenty members, who are appointed by the King on the advice of the Prime Minister and the High Commissioner. Its President to-day was a prominent instigator of the insurrection of 1920, and is, as the writer observes, an example of the process whereby an extremist firebrand, when appointed to a responsible post, often becomes a sober and useful servant of his country. If the Senate and the Lower Chamber disagree, the matter is discussed at a joint assembly of both Houses and is settled by a two-thirds majority. The Lower House consists of 88 members, and rests upon a basis of adult male suffrage, qualified by an ingenious system of indirect selection. There is one secondary elector to every two hundred primary electors, and the colleges of secondary electors, who, as a rule, are educated men, vote for the total number of members by whom their districts are represented in Parliament. For voting purposes the country is divided into fourteen of these districts. In the event of a by-election only the secondary stage is repeated, and the secondary electors remain unchanged.

The Parliament has completed two sessions, and the result achieved by the indirect system has been satisfactory. The secondary elector's votes are influenced mainly by two motives—personal considerations and a desire to support the Government which is the personal guardian of his welfare. In the term, "change of Government," the average Iraqui still sees, not a general election, but a revolution. Thus the Government has a large voice in elections to the Lower House, and at the last election the Cabinet used its influence very wisely. It included in its unofficial list of "acceptable candidates" many of its most bitter opponents, and events have justified its action. There are no "abstentionists" from the new Parliament of Iraq. The machinery of legislation is on the British model: bills are referred to standing committees and pass through the usual stages, and, as in the Oireachtas, Ministers have the right to speak in both Houses. There are no "parties" in the Chamber, but only groups of individuals who follow different leaders. The Opposition opposes, as is the nature of all Oppositions, but has no definite set of principles; and the Government shows an accommodating spirit in the acceptance of amendments. Over all the transactions of Parliament presides the tactful and sympathetic spirit of the High Commissioner and of the British advisory officials, whose influence probably is the greater because they have no direct control. By Article IV. of the original treaty the King consents to be guided by the High Commissioner's advice in international and financial affairs; and hitherto this arrangement has worked without a hitch.

Is the Parliament of Iraq in any sense a representative body, and is it doing its work with reasonable efficiency? The writer in The Round Table gives frank answers to both questions. The Parliament does not represent public opinion in the British sense, because there is no public opinion; but it consists of individuals who fairly represent the different classes and interests of the people. Furthermore, it is a reasonably efficient instrument of legislation. Petty delays are frequent and Ministers are apt to shirk responsibility: they have been known to invite the High Commissioner to furnish them with the excuse of "pressure" for unpopular measures. On the other hand, the Government has made sound and important laws, and the King, Cabinet and Parliament are resolved that the great experiment shall be a success. They have been faithful to the treaties, and the existence of a native Parliament has not hampered Great Britain in the discharge of her international obligations. The writer summarises his conclusions in a single sentence:—"The great achievement of British policy in Iraq is not that it has produced a parliamentary machine that works with moderate efficiency, but that it has succeeded beyond expectations in preserving that spirit of co-operation without which no Power can ever hope to fulfil a task such as that which we have undertaken in Iraq." It seems, therefore, that in the ancient land between the rivers the British genius for pacification and compromise is winning not the least notable of its triumphs. It is helping a nation to run—not without many stumbles, but still to run—that never learnt to walk. Yet a British newspaper has proposed that Britain shall surrender her mandate for Iraq and Palestine to Signor Mussolini's Italy.

Pede Pœna Claudo.

Just one hundred and fifty years ago Cooley began the construction of the Four Courts, Dublin, that noble pile whose Corinthian portico dignifies the riverside. To-day the reconstruction of the Four Courts draws near to completion, and the time is not distant when the law will resume its traditional seat at what once was the city's centre. At yesterday's meeting of the Incorporated Law Society of Ireland, Mr. T. G. Quirke, the President, announced that the Society had been allotted new and spacious premises in the restored building; and we hope that within the space of a year the re-opening of the old halls of justice will relieve the present material congestion under which the exponents of the law labour. Congestion of another sort requires relief by other means than mason's work. At present the judges of the Free State High Court wrestle with a growing burden of appeals. Mr. Quirke drew public attention to an evil which has been a topic of growing dissatisfaction among men of the law and other persons anxious for the prosperity of the State. Owing to the provisions of the Courts of Justice Act, 1924, civil actions relating to debts up to £300 must be taken in the Circuit Courts. Of these courts there are eight for the twenty-six counties, sitting at intervals of several months. Long delay and expense, therefore, are involved in the recovery of debts. Formerly a creditor could take proceedings in the High Court where sums exceeding £50 were in issue. Even where action is taken in the Circuit Courts the law's delays are not exhausted. Debtors against whom judgment is given may appeal—and do appeal, en masse—to the High Court, and the creditor then is obliged to seek his money at the hands of a tribunal so gravely overweighted with business that his case may not be heard for two years. Unscrupulous merchants thus have a ready means of evading prompt payment of their obligations. They can run up accounts to the tune of £300 with English business men and can delay payment, knowing that their creditors will shrink from the expense of taking witnesses to remote provincial towns and from the possible need to fight an appeal that may not be heard for two years. Such a state of affairs sets a premium on dishonesty and involves the honest merchant in the inconvenience that results from British reluctance to trade with a country where the law limps. Mr. Quirke stated yesterday—and the fact is notorious in commercial circles—that there had been already a serious tightening of credit as a result of these circumstances. The Free State Government surely must be alert to recognise the desirability of a national reputation for swiftness in the execution of justice. To remedy the present tardiness the appointment of at least one more judge to the Bench of the High Court seems to be required. If the hearing of appeals were expedited, they would be sought less frequently by shifty litigants.

Cancer Research.

At a meeting of the Dublin University Biological Association, held nearly a fortnight ago, some alarming facts regarding the growth of cancer in Ireland were reported. In 1924 there were nearly 3,000 deaths from this dreadful disease in the Free State alone, and every year claims more. We rejoice that a strong committee for cancer research in Ireland has been established, and we commend to all our readers the report—which appears in our columns to-day—of its inaugural meetings. Every citizen owes support to a body formed to battle for the nation's health; for there is not a household in the land which may not need to seek either succour or protection from the result of these experts' investigations. The cause of cancer is still obscure, and the best method of treatment still awaits discovery or perfection. Other diseases, formerly rampant among the people of civilised lands, have been conquered by science. Smallpox as an epidemic, spreading death and disfigurement, has been overcome. Tuberculosis has been brought under control, so that many a life that would have succumbed to its ravages is liberated now from even the fear of affliction. Cancer, however, continues to stalk unarrested through the land, claiming victims from hall and cottage. Medical science ultimately will cope successfully with this plague, reduce its incidence, and, perhaps, abolish it as a mortal malady. Already it can save patients in whom the disease has not reached a certain stage of development. If the public rallies to the Irish committee and provides funds for exhaustive research, it may be that a fresh distinction will be won by the medical schools of Ireland in the discovery of that sure remedy for which stricken sufferers throughout the world still sigh.

Wren's London.

The British House of Commons by a crushing majority has refused sanction to the City Churches Measure, which provided for the demolition of churches in the City of London and the sale of their sites. At least half-a-dozen churches were concerned directly, and the terms of the measure brought nearly twenty into danger. The Church Assembly and the House of Lords had approved the plan of demolition; but on Thursday the House which is the voice of the multitude spoke, and uttered "Nay." In many a narrow street between noisy warehouses; in closes behind huge blocks of commercial offices and reached by slender laneways, grudged by the money-changers; and at corners where vast tides of traffic sweep past incessantly, and even in the earth beneath loaded trains rattle, these quiet relics of quieter days stand. No longer does a pious civic population fill their pews on Sundays and holy days. A few city caretakers sit under their preachers. Foreign sightseers seek admission on week-days, and toilers sometimes enter to escape the city's roar and to meditate awhile. Nevertheless, these buildings are no mere useless blocks of masonry. Their rusticated walls, their columns and towers and spires, shaped by Wren or Hawksmoor, familiar to the Londoner's eye and dear to his imagination, are to him lasting reminders of nobler things than his daily affairs. Schemes were canvassed for the removal of these churches, stone by stone, to the country or to America for re-erection; but, once disturbed, the stones would be but the formless materia prima of the builder's art, and the soul of the churches would have flown. Their vacant sites would be wounds to the city's unity, and, when the blocks of offices rose in their place, London would have lost a precious fragrance of the past.

COURT AND PERSONAL.

During the week the King gave audiences to several of the Premiers and High Commissioners of the Dominions at Buckingham Palace. On Thursday His Majesty left London for Berkshire, and had a day's pheasant shooting with the Hon. Sir John Ward at Chilton Lodge, near Hungerford. This afternoon the Queen will be present at the Chelsea Palace Theatre, where a performance of "Madam Butterfly" will be given in aid of the funds of the National Institute for the Blind.

The Prince of Wales has promised to attend the ball in aid of the Enham Village Centre, which will be held at Claridge's Hotel next Wednesday. The Duchess of Northumberland will act as hostess and the Countess of Bective as Hon. Secretary.

The Duke and Duchess of York returned to London yesterday from Studley Royal, where they were the guests of Mr. and Lady Doris Vyner, who were to have been in attendance on Their Royal Highnesses during their trip to Australia and New Zealand; but owing to urgent private affairs they are unable to leave England. The Hon. Mrs. John Gilmour, youngest daughter of the late Viscount Chelsea and the Hon. Lady Meux, will take Lady Doris Vyner's place as Lady-in-Waiting to the Duchess, and the appointment of an Equerry to the Duke will be announced next week.

Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles have been spending several days with the Rev. the Marquis and Marchioness of Normanby for their pheasant shoot at Mulgrave Castle. The house party included Viscount and Viscountess Downe, Lord and Lady Middleton, Lady Elizabeth Phipps, the Hon. Thomas and Lady Bertha Egerton, Miss Cocking, and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Foster.

The Duchess of Sutherland is spending the week's end in Yorkshire. The Duchess of Hamilton and Lady Margaret Douglas-Hamilton returned to England yesterday from New York. Julia Countess of Dartrey will leave London next Thursday for Bombay, and will not return till the middle of March. Sir Delves and Lady Broughton have joined the s.s. Maloja at Marseilles for Colombo. Sir Ian Malcolm will leave England next Tuesday for a month's stay in Cairo.

The Marquis and Marchioness of Aberdeen and Temair have left the House of Cromar, Tarland, for London. Viscountess FitzAlan will present the prizes this afternoon at the Bridge Tournament in aid of the Ivory Cross funds, which is being held at Claridge's Hotel.

The Countess of Bessborough has left London for Paris, and will return in about ten days. The Countess of Dunraven has arrived at Castletown, Carrick-on-Suir, from Dunraven Castle, Glamorganshire. Lord and Lady Louth have left Louth Hall, Ardee, for Summerfield, Elstree, where they will spend the next three weeks.

The Hon. Mrs. Plunket and Miss Plunket have left St. Anne's, Clontarf, and are at Vernet-les-Bains, in the South of France.

Important Announcement—On Friday next Switzers New Hairdressing Salons for Ladies will be opened. Designed on luxurious lines, equipped with the most modern appliances and staffed by highly skilled operators, these new Salons are sure to merit the approval of every patron.

IRISH WEDDING IN LONDON.

Only relations and friends attended the wedding yesterday of Lord Cromwell's sister, the Hon. Dorothy Albreda Bewicke-Copley, and Colonel Philip A. Meldon, Royal Artillery, eldest son of the late Sir Albert and Lady Meldon, of Vevay, County Wicklow.

The ceremony took place in the Brompton Oratory, and Father Ross officiated. The wedding had been twice postponed on account of the illness of the bridegroom.

£6,000 FOR A LIBRARY.

A further sum of £6,000 was obtained yesterday at the Michelham sale, when the contents of the library were auctioned.

To-day's Arrangements and Weather Forecast will be found on Page 9.

LONDON LETTER.

THE FIRST DOMINION ENVOY.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
FRIDAY NIGHT.

One of the prerogatives assigned to the King under the terms of the report of the Inter-Imperial Relations Committee on the appointment of Dominion Ministers to foreign Governments was exercised for the first time this morning at Buckingham Palace when His Majesty received Brigadier-General A. L. Macfie M. Massey, who kissed hands on his appointment as Envoy-Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to represent the Dominion of Canada at Washington. This suggests that Dominion envoys, like British Ambassadors, will be received by the King before taking up their appointments.

A Conservative Victory.

An interesting feature about the Howdenshire by-election, the result of which was declared to-day, is that the Socialist forfeits his deposit. The election was caused by the appointment of Colonel F. S. Jackson to be Governor of Bengal, and, as a strong Conservative seat, it was expected that it would be held by the Government candidate. It was not expected, however, that he would have a majority of votes over those of the Liberal and the Socialist combined. Another interesting point is that the division is adjacent to Central Hull, where Commander Kenworthy is seeking re-election as a Socialist. The new member for Howden, Major W. H. Carver, is President of the Hull Chamber of Commerce, and is a well-known figure in the district. During the war he raised the "Commercials" Battalion in Hull and served with it in Egypt and France.

Housing Subsidy Reduced.

I mentioned some weeks ago that there was a possibility of the reduction in the housing subsidy and it is announced to-day that the Ministry of Health have published the draft of a proposed order, the effect of which will be a reduction. Houses which have not been completed before October 1st, 1927, will receive four pounds instead of six pounds annually for twenty years, and, in the case of houses subject to special conditions, the sum will be seven pounds ten shillings instead of nine pounds. In agricultural parishes there will be a reduction of thirty shillings annually for forty years. The proposed reduction is based on a consideration of the cost of erection, the necessary provision for the revised estimate having been made in the 1924 Act.

Big Ben as a Signal.

A "round robin" asking that coloured lights shall be fixed in the clock of the Houses of Parliament is being signed by many members of the House of Commons. The idea is that members approaching the House may be warned by a red or green light that a division is about to take place and speed their steps accordingly. A number of members maintain that they have missed divisions by walking carelessly across the courtyard of the House, whereas a warning light would bring them running from all directions. The suggestion is somewhat coldly regarded in official quarters, but will be considered if a sufficient number of names is appended to the memorial.

The Fog Problem.

Arrangements for dealing with traffic in London during fogs have made some improvement during recent years, but they are still rather primitive. The General Omnibus Company have a staff of five hundred men for fog duty, and they carry lamps to guide the vehicles at about a hundred different points. Flares and naptha lamps are employed on the tramway undertakings, and the tramcars are fitted with new white lights at the rear, in addition to the ordinary red tail-lights. All these efforts, however, are inadequate. Every winter fogs in London are frequent, and from time to time there has been talk of combined efforts by the municipal authorities to provide more efficient means of lighting the roadways at these periods. Sooner or later the serious problem must be faced if the traffic disorganisation at such times is to be alleviated.

Aerial Exploration.

There is an increasing tendency to use aeroplanes for exploration purposes, and the South Pole will be the object of an Argentinian expedition, which will start from Buenos Ayres next month. A Dornier-Wal flying boat, piloted by Major Zanni, will be used, and, in addition to other work, the expedition will endeavour to discover the messages left by Captain Scott on his last expedition. A somewhat similar journey to a different clime will be that undertaken by Mittelholzer, the famous Swiss airman, who will leave Zurich shortly in command of a seaplane expedition to Equatorial Africa.

The King's Wishes.

The announcement that the King does not wish the names of his grand-parents, Victoria and Albert, to be given to new members of the Royal Family, since he considers that the names are sufficiently held already, causes little surprise. The views of the King on this matter were made clear at the baptism of the first of his children born after the death of Queen Victoria, Prince George, since he was her first male descendant not to be named Albert. Queen Victoria definitely expressed her desire that all her descendants should be either Victoria or Albert, and her wish was duly honoured during her life-time.

Conservatism and the Poor.

The Conservative Office is showing initiative in its efforts to educate the voter. On Wednesday evening Mr. Baldwin and Mrs. Baldwin visited the East End, and held a reception of some fifteen hundred Conservative workers of the neighbourhood, while social functions are being arranged on every side. The latest developments is the adoption of the community singing movement, and at the conference of the Conservative and Unionist Associations in the Metropolitan division next Tuesday a resolution is to be discussed suggesting that it is desirable that steps should be taken to organise musical talent among girls of leisure and choirs on community singing lines, with a view to supplying systematic entertainment at political clubs and meetings. A great Conservative smoking concert is to be held in the Queen's Hall on December 10th, when some 2,500 people will be present. On this occasion community singing is to be a feature.

An Exhibition of Cats.

White cats, with sapphire eyes; blue, with copper eyes; Abyssinians the colour of rabbits; Siamese, with sealskin points on delicate fawn coats; mahogany red cats, the only known tortoiseshell male, and hundreds of other feline beauties, will be on view at the annual Show of the National Cat Club at the Crystal Palace next week. Great strides have been made in cat culture since the first show took place in 1871, and many of the varieties now so much esteemed did not exist then. The exquisite chinchillas, for instance, are comparatively modern, and they have improved so much in perfection of coat that their predecessors of the earlier part of the century would be hopelessly outclassed. Blue Persians are still the most popular, followed by Siamese, red tabby, and cream Persians; but the smooth English cats are growing in favour.

General Hertzog arrived at Lisbon last evening.

The Dutch Royal Family, owing to the economical measures introduced by the Government, has resolved to cash only 90 per cent. of the Royal grants for 1927.

TORNADO IN AMERICA.

MANY DEATHS.

FIRE IN WRECKED BUILDINGS.

"PANDEMONIUM."

FROM "THE TIMES" CORRESPONDENT.

NEW YORK, Friday.

Over fifty persons have been killed and, perhaps, 150 injured, by an unusually late tornado which swept a path across Central Arkansas into Missouri on Thursday, with an offshoot which razed a Louisiana town.

Accompanied by heavy rain, the storm overthrew dwellings like matchwood, causing besides the loss of life, damage to buildings estimated at several hundreds of thousands of dollars. A number of houses caught fire.

The storm struck Heber Springs, Arkansas, at sunset and destroyed fifteen blocks of dwellings, nineteen persons being killed.

OTHER CASUALTIES.

Eight were killed at Moscow, five at Oppello, and one at Sheridan, Arkansas.

Over the Missouri border at Brandesville three were killed and twenty injured, while most of the business buildings, the church, and the Community Hall, were destroyed.

Other casualties occurred at Competition, Knobview, and Big Piney, all in Missouri.

In Louisiana the storm obliterated the Royana Petroleum Company's camp near Haynesville, where five persons were killed, and struck Merrouge about midnight, sweeping a path 100 yards wide across the farming section, and killing seven more people.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

NEW YORK, Friday.

Nearly all telegraph and telephone lines in the affected areas are blown down, and it is impossible yet to form an accurate estimate of the number of casualties.

The heaviest loss of life appears to have occurred at Hever Springs, Cleburn County, where the death-roll is estimated at 30, and the number of injured at over 60.

STREETS CHOKED WITH DEBRIS.

About a dozen blocks of buildings were blown down by the pitiless fury of the hurricane, and the streets of the town were choked with débris. To add to the horror and confusion, many houses caught fire.

Eight are reported killed and 30 injured at Moscow, Arkansas. At Brandsville, Missouri, where three were killed and 20 injured, the church and nearly all business premises were destroyed.

Many people were enjoying a Thanksgiving dinner at Brandsville when the ominous rumblings of the approaching tornado was heard. In a few seconds all was pandemonium, the shrieks of women and children being heard above the roar of the wind.

WHITE STAR LINE.

NEW NEGOTIATIONS FOR SALE REPORTED.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

NEW YORK, Friday.

It was heard in Wall street late to-day that the negotiations for the sale of the White Star Line of ships of the International Mercantile Marine to the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company for £7,000,000 were nearing completion.

The directors of the International Mercantile Marine met this afternoon, and, although it was reported that only routine business was transacted, it is learned that the sale was virtually decided upon.

Under the tentative plans, as reported, part of the purchase price will be paid in cash and the balance by deferred payments.

DANGER OF COAL BRIQUETTES.

FIRE IN A WAREHOUSE.

An outbreak of fire caused by spontaneous combustion of German coal briquettes occurred in the warehouse of Mr. Andrew J. Doyle, automobile agent and motor engineer, South King street, Dublin, last night.

The promptness of the Dublin Fire Brigade, under Captain Myers, prevented the fire from extending beyond the basement rooms.

Shortly after 8 o'clock an assistant in a fruit shop at No. 51, next door to Mr. Doyle's premises, saw smoke coming from a room in the rear. The Fire Brigade was called in, and in a store-room at the rear found that smoke was pouring through the wooden floor. They cut a hole in the floor, through which firemen were lowered, with a line of hose, and they found that the basement room under Mr. Doyle's shop was burning fiercely and that the flames were extending to other rooms.

After forty minutes' work they had the fire under control. The ceiling of the room was badly burned, and in another few minutes the flames would have burnt through to the shop, which contained, besides six motor cars, valued at over £3,000, considerable quantities of rubber tyres and other inflammable material.

Mr. Doyle's premises are next door to the Gaiety Theatre, and but for the timely control of the outbreak the consequences might have been very serious.

Inspector D. F. Ryan, College Station, with a force of Guards, kept the crowds clear of the threatened premises.

FIREMAN OVERCOME BY FUMES.

The fire on board the German steamer Ida Blumenthal at Dublin Harbour (reported in a late edition of yesterday's Irish Times) is believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion in a cargo of coal briquettes. Lieutenant Power, of the Dublin Fire Brigade, when inspecting the ship's hold yesterday, was overcome by gas fumes, and had to be taken to St. Vincent's Hospital. He is reported to be doing well. The fire was overcome early yesterday, and the firemen all day pumped water into the Ida Blumenthal's hold in order to prevent a recurrence of it.

ORIEL COLLEGE, OXFORD.

WAR MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIPS.

Oriel College, Oxford, is offering three War Memorial Scholarships at their next Scholarship Examination—one for Classics, one for Modern History and one for Natural Science.

These scholarships are of an annual value of about £80. The examination for the Classics and History Scholarships will be held in January next. The scholarships are intended for the sons of men who were killed in the war, or subsequently died of wounds inflicted during the war.

The standard to be obtained for the award of the scholarships will depend, to some extent, on competition, but, in any case, it is not probable that the College would award a scholarship except to a candidate who showed real capacity, which was likely to enable him to obtain fairly high honours at the University.

Candidates must be under 19 years of age on 1st January, 1927.

SITUATION IN COALFIELDS.

EXPECTED LOCAL SETTLEMENTS.

MINERS' CONFERENCE ADJOURNS.

The Miners' National Delegate Conference met in London yesterday to consider local agreements, but, as negotiations in the districts are still in progress, the conference was unable to arrive at a decision. In the circumstances it discussed the situation in the various districts, as revealed in official reports, and then it passed unanimously a resolution submitted by the Miners' Executive, expressing indignation at the terms offered by the owners in several districts, and inviting the Government's attention to the refusal of employers in Nottinghamshire, Leicestershire, Kent, and Somerset to meet the accredited representatives of the Federation members.

Although no day was fixed, there was an understanding when the conference adjourned that a further meeting will be called when a fuller survey of the negotiations is available.

UNDERSTANDINGS.

From messages received last evening it is evident that in many areas agreements have been, or are upon the point of being, reached. The miners, in the meantime, are returning in large numbers to the pits. Official returns issued yesterday showed an increase of 13,083 on Thursday's total. 441,571 men, in all, were busy in the mines. In Somerset over a thousand went back, and as many more, who presented themselves, will be absorbed as soon as working places are available.

The conference at Derby between the owners and representatives of the County Miners' Association reached an understanding on the heads of terms to be incorporated in a district agreement, and adjourned until to-day. Late yesterday afternoon a telegram was received at the headquarters of the Lancashire and Cheshire Coal-Owners' Association, at Wigan, stating that the terms for resumption in the two counties have been accepted by both sides. According to a Manchester message, the terms include an eight-hour day, a temporary continuation of the April rates, and a truce for three years.

LABOUR CENSURE MOTION.

In parliamentary circles last night it was learned that the Parliamentary Labour Party intends to place on the Order paper, for early discussion in the House of Commons, a motion censuring the Government for its conduct of the coal dispute. The Government is to be asked to give a full day for the discussion, and it is expected that the debate will take place during the week after next.

MR. CHURCHILL ON THE STOPPAGE.

Mr. Churchill, with Mrs. Churchill, was entertained by his constituents of the Wanstead Branch of the West Essex Unionist Association at dinner in London last night. Referring to the coal stoppage, Mr. Churchill said that if any one had told him a year ago that it would be possible to have endured such privation and to have come through it with such economic strength and such a measure of trade, he could not have believed it. The financial strength of the country had been maintained in an extraordinary manner.

IRISH COLONEL DIES FROM STARVATION.

A STRANGE DIET.

The strange dietary of Lieutenant-Colonel Felix Call, of the Royal Irish Regiment, was described yesterday at an inquest at Crowhurst, when it was stated that his death was due to heart failure, following self-imposed starvation.

Mrs. Call said that when her husband, who was aged 43, returned from India last May, he looked ill, and said that his food disagreed with him. He read a lot of books on dieting, and would not eat animal food.

Mrs. Cramp, who was employed by Colonel Call, stated that, as a rule, his meals were:—

BREAKFAST—One orange and two grapes.

MIDDAY—One potato, half a lettuce or two or three cabbage leaves (raw), one teaspoonful of a raw carrot, two dry biscuits and little butter.

Dr. Mill said that the Colonel absolutely refused to eat food that was prescribed for him.

The Coroner said that starvation was self-imposed, in the wrong opinion that it was the right dietary. It was a peculiar, distorted view.

FOOT-AND-MOUTH DISEASE.

WILTSHIRE OUTBREAK.

The Ministry of Agriculture in London announce that a fresh centre of foot-and-mouth disease has been established in Wiltshire, in consequence of an outbreak having been confirmed at Whittonditch, Rassbury, late on the 25th inst.

One bull and four cows were found to be affected, and the slaughter of the total stock of 37 cattle has been carried out. The origin of the outbreak is at present obscure.

The usual restrictions have been imposed over an area of approximately 15 miles radius from the infected premises, affecting parts of the counties of Wiltshire, Berkshire and Hampshire.

IRISH TURKEY PROSPECTS.

ARGENTINE COMPETITION MAY AFFECT PRICES.

In the Christmas turkey market in England this year Irish breeders and feeders will have to meet serious competition from the Argentine. From that part of South America offers have been made at prices which are likely to have a depressing effect upon the trade. The birds offered are in excellent condition, and are certain to meet with a good inquiry.

Supplies from France are of a doubtful quantity in view of the efforts to place an embargo on exports from that country. Italian birds, however, will be in evidence, and are reported to be now in good condition.

In Ireland, owing to the favourable season, turkeys have done well, and, if placed on the market in first-class condition, prices may be kept at a satisfactory level, even in face of strong foreign competition.

The demand, however, depends whether the industrial situation in England has improved by the second week of December.

EARL HAIG'S VISIT TO IRELAND.

ARRIVAL IN DUBLIN YESTERDAY.

Field-Marshal Earl Haig of Bemersyde, Commander-in-Chief of the Expeditionary Forces in France and Flanders during the Great War, is at present in the Free State on a brief holiday. Accompanied by his daughter, he arrived in Dublin by the British and Irish Steam Packet Company's steamer from Liverpool yesterday morning.

It was not to be expected that the great soldier's arrival would pass unnoticed; for his fine strong features and soldierly bearing are familiar to ex-soldiers and civilians alike. Indeed, he had hardly put his foot on the gangway to leave the vessel when he was recognised by a group of docker ex-Service men, who sprang smartly to attention and gave a military salute of welcome to their former commander in the field.

It was a pleasant little incident signifying that the finest thing the war created—the spirit of camaraderie—still remains; and Earl Haig warmly appreciated it. Returning the salute, he walked down to the men and chatted with them for several minutes about their regiments and the sectors they had served in during the war.

Subsequently our representative saw Earl Haig, who explained that he had merely come to Ireland for a restful holiday, and that his visit was entirely unofficial.

"IRISH TIMES" FUEL FUND.

22,685 HOMES PROVIDED WITH FIRES IN FOUR WEEKS.

Yesterday the Irish Times Fuel Fund completed the fourth week of its free distribution of fire blocks to the poor of Dublin. The total number of persons who have been supplied during the twenty-four days is 22,685.

The free distribution of fire blocks will be continued daily (Sunday excepted) to ticket-holders only at the "Irish Times" Fuel Dépôt, 49 City quay, Dublin, between the hours of 10 and 4 o'clock.

Tickets, entitling the holders to two stones of fuel, are being distributed to those persons whose needs are most pressing, and among whom acute distress exists, by the St. Vincent de Paul Society and the Association for the Relief of Distressed Protestants.

Conferences, local committees and parochial associations are asked to provide the transport of their fuel supplies from 49 City quay, Dublin. Local volunteer help ought to be enlisted for this purpose.

SIX NOMINATIONS FOR THE SENATE.

CLAIMS FOR ELECTION TO THE VACANT SEAT.

Seanad Eireann shall be composed of citizens who shall be proposed on the grounds that they have done honour to the nation by reason of useful public service, or that, because of special qualifications or attainments, they represent important aspects of the nation's life.—Article 30, Constitution.

Six candidates have been nominated for the vacancy in the Free State Senate:—

ROBERT A. ANDERSON, 1 Earlsfort Mansions, Dublin.

PATRICK J. BRADY, solicitor, Glena, Booterstown, County Dublin.

RICHARD A. BUTLER, Popeshall, Skerries, County Dublin.

SEAN MILROY, 55 Lower Baggot street, Dublin.

JOHN O'NEILL, Uplands, Delgany, County Dublin.

FREDERICK M. SUMMERFIELD, 138 Lower Baggot street, Dublin.

Their qualifications are thus set forth in the nomination papers lodged on their behalf:—

MR. R. A. ANDERSON—"By his association with Sir Horace Plunkett in the Irish Agricultural Organisation Society he has done honour to the nation by his useful public service. By his special qualifications he represents one of the most important aspects of the nation's life." (Nominator—Sir John Purser Griffith.)

MR. P. J. BRADY—"Ex-President of the Incorporated Law Society of Ireland, 1922; Director, Great Southern Railways Company; Director, Hibernian Hotels; member of Parliament for St. Stephen's Green Division of Dublin Borough, 1910-1918." (Nominators—Messrs. James Moran and Joseph O'Connor.)

MR. R. A. BUTLER—"Former Senator and past President of the Irish Farmers' Union." (Nominator—Mr. Thomas Linehan.)

MR. MILROY—"Member of Dail Eireann from 1921 to October, 1924; active worker in national movement for last 20 years; writer on national, political and economic subjects." (Nominator—Mr. P. W. Kenny.)

MR. J. O'NEILL—"Previous service in Seanad Eireann; Chairman of Industrial Inquiry Commission under the First Dail; Chairman of the All-Ireland Munitions Committee (1915-1918); member of the Commission on Post-war Trade." (Nominator—Mr. J. C. Dowdall.)

MR. F. M. SUMMERFIELD—"Managing director, F. M. Summerfield, Ltd., 138 Lower Baggot street, Dublin; President, Irish Motor Agents' Association, 1923-24; President, Motor Agents' Association, 1924-25; Vice-President, Irish Motor Agents' Association, 1925-1926; representative of Irish Free State on Council of Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders (England), 1924-1925-1926." (Nominator—Dr. William O'Sullivan.)

The vacancy was caused by the death of Mr. Stephen O'Mara last July. The election of his successor will take place on the 26th January next.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Blaukney Hounds, of which he is Master, Colonel F. V. Willey, ex-President of the Federation of British Industries, at Lincoln yesterday said that if it were not for fox-hunting he would not work so hard as he did, and he did not think that he would stay in England. He found that it was easier to work abroad undisturbed by counter-attractions.

There are to-day a thousand gatherings where employers and workmen are meeting trying to conciliate or compose their differences.—Mr. Hayday, M.P.

IRISH CANCER RESEARCH.

A REAL EFFORT TO CHECK DISEASE.

THE NEW COMMITTEE.

A real effort on every available line is to be made by the Irish Cancer Research Committee to gain more knowledge of the origin and treatment of the disease, which appears to be greatly on the increase. A series of meetings has already been held in Dublin.

At the first, which took place on October 25th at the Royal College of Surgeons, the following members were present:—

Mr. Justice Wylie (in the chair), Sir John Lumsden, Dr. Parsons, Dr. Moorhead, Professor Wigham, Professor Bigger, Dr. Solomons, Dr. Doolin and Dr. Cassidy. A letter of apology for absence was received from Mr. Fullerton.

Dr. Solomons proposed, and Professor Bigger seconded, that the organisation be called "The Irish Cancer Research Committee."

THE CONSTITUTION.

On the motion of Dr. Moorhead, seconded by Sir John Lumsden, the following draft constitution was adopted after discussion:—

(1)—The Committee shall consist of representatives of the following bodies:—

(a) The Royal College of Physicians in Ireland.
(b) The Royal Academy of Medicine in Ireland.
(c) Trinity College, Dublin.
(d) The Joint Committee of the British Red Cross and St. John Ambulance.
(e) The Royal Dublin Society.
(f) The Royal City of Dublin Hospital, with four to add to their numbers.

The following are the representatives of the several bodies named:—

Royal College of Physicians—Professor Moorhead, Dr. Solomons.

Royal Academy of Medicine—Professor Bigger, Dr. Doolin.

Trinity College—Professor Werner, Professor Wigham.

Joint Committee of British Red Cross and St. John Ambulance—Sir John Lumsden, A. M. Fullerton.

Royal Dublin Society—Dr. W. C. Stevenson, Horace H. Poole.

Royal College of Surgeons in Ireland—Sir William Taylor, Mr. T. E. Gordon.

Royal City of Dublin Hospital—Mr. Justice Wylie, Dr. Parsons, Mr. Pringle, Dr. Cassidy.

(2)—The functions of the Committee will be:—

(a) The supervision of cancer research to be carried out in the laboratory placed at the disposal of the Committee by the Board of Directors of the Royal City of Dublin Hospital, or in such other place as this Committee may approve.

(b) The appointment of Director and staff.

(c) To administer such funds as may be entrusted to them for the work of the department, and to make such appeal for further funds as may seem necessary to them.

(3)—The Committee may form such subcommittees as may from time to time appear to them advisable for the investigation of cancer or allied subjects.

The following officers were appointed:—

Chairman—Mr. Justice Wylie.
Vice-Chairman—Sir John Lumsden.
Secretary—Dr. Cassidy.

Alderman Hubbard H. Clark was proposed and unanimously elected Treasurer.

A deputation was appointed to wait on the heads of University College, Dublin, asking them to nominate representatives on the Committee.

ORIGIN AND TREATMENT.

A further meeting of the Committee was held in the College of Surgeons on Tuesday, November 16th, Mr. Justice Wylie in the chair. The Secretary reported that (a) he had not heard from University College, Dublin; (b) Alderman Hubbard H. Clark had agreed to act as treasurer.

Sir John Lumsden said that he thought that at the very outset of their work it should be known that they were not the advocates of any particular treatment. He knew it was reported that this Committee was formed in support of the Erlangen method. This was quite untrue, and, if not contradicted, might seriously jeopardise the usefulness of the Committee. They were formed to make a serious attempt to investigate scientifically the origin and treatment of cancer.

The Chairman said that he quite agreed with the necessity for and the importance of that statement. It would be a catastrophe if the public were led to believe that this Committee was wedded to a particular treatment or exclusively attached to a particular hospital. It would be well to recapitulate shortly how it came into being. The Royal City of Dublin Hospital is about to open a new department for the treatment of cancer, taking over the apparatus which has for some years been so successfully worked by Dr. Cassidy at the Coombe Hospital.

RESEARCH WORK.

Attached to this new wing of the City of Dublin Hospital there is a laboratory and other facilities for research work in connection with the disease. The hospital offered the use of these premises to a body such as this one, if formed, and they all felt that such an opportunity to make a real effort to check this disease, which appeared to be making increasing ravages in their population, should not be let slip. From the constitution of the Committee and the various learned societies represented on it the public might judge that a real effort on every available line would be made to gain more knowledge of the disease. They might not succeed, but at best they could try to succeed and not sit supine while cancer appeared to be yearly on the increase.

Professor Moorhead and Mr. Pringle also urged the necessity for making public the wide and general nature of the Committee's members.

INVITATIONS TO UNIVERSITIES.

The Secretary was directed to request Queen's University, Belfast; University College, Cork, and University College, Galway, to nominate representatives on the Committee.

Another meeting took place at the College of Surgeons on Tuesday.

The following were present:—

Mr. Justice Wylie.	Professor Wigham.
Sir William Taylor.	Professor Werner.
Professor Moorhead.	Mr. Doolin.
Professor Bigger.	Dr. Solomons.
Mr. Clarke.	Dr. Cassidy.

The Secretary reported that he had not as yet heard from the various Colleges to whom he had written. It was decided to publish reports of the meetings already held.

After a discussion of several technical and administrative matters the meeting terminated.

MAHARAJAH BREAKS HIS BAT.

The Maharajah of Dongarpur hit with such vigour when playing for Rajputana and Central India against the M.C.C. team at Ajmer yesterday that he broke his bat in two. He was dismissed, however, when he had scored 27, as the result of a spectacular catch by Boyes. The home side scored 123. Tate took four wickets for 21 runs in 25 overs, of which 12 were maidens.

Leyland and Sandham then made a good stand for the M.C.C., and scored 94 without being separated.

£10,000,000 CROWN.

RUSSIAN IMPERIAL JEWELS FOR SALE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

RIGA, Friday.

The famous "Imperial Crown of All the Russias," the choicest of all Russia's regal emblems, which was made for the Coronation of Empress Catherine in 1762, is to be offered for sale, according to advices from Moscow. This famous jewel is declared to be valued at over ten million pounds sterling.

The Soviet Government has already disposed of a large number of gems in the collection of Russian Royal jewels to foreign dealers.

THE MARLBOROUGH MARRIAGE.

STATEMENT BY DUKE'S SOLICITORS.

Messrs. Lewis and Lewis write as follows to The Times:—We are instructed by our client, the Duke of Marlborough, to write you as follows:—Many contradictory reports have appeared in the Press recently with regard to the ecclesiastical proceedings which resulted in the annulment by the Sacra Romana Rota of the ceremony of marriage which took place in New York on November 6th, 1895, and in this connection numerous false statements have been published about our client. He desires it to be authoritatively stated through us that the application for this annulment was made by Mme. Balsan, and not by him.

POTATO SHORTAGE IN ENGLAND.

BEET AND OTHER ROOT CROPS GOOD.

The total production of potatoes in England and Wales for this year is estimated at 2,763,000 tons, says a preliminary statement from the British Ministry of Agriculture last night—or 450,000 tons less than last year, and much the same as the short crops of the two preceding years.

Yields per acre of turnips, swedes and mangels, however, are well above the average.

The sugar-beet crop, four-fifths of which is grown in the Eastern and North-Eastern counties is likely to be rather over a million tons, against 428,000 tons last year. The area of cultivation has been increased from 54,750 acres to 125,800 acres.

THE HOWDENSHIRE ELECTION.

CONSERVATIVE VICTORY.

The result of the polling in the Howdenshire Division of Yorkshire was declared yesterday as follow:—

Major W. H. Carver (Con.)	10,653
Mr. F. C. Linfield (Lib.)	6,668
Mr. J. W. Kneeshaw (Lab.)	2,318
Conservative majority	3,985

Major Carver was, therefore, declared elected, and Mr. Kneeshaw's (the Labour candidate's) poll was so small that he forfeited his deposit.

After the declaration of the poll Major Carver said that he felt that the Conservative victory in Howdenshire might be taken as a trustworthy guide to the real opinion of the British people.

At the last election Lieutenant-Colonel the Hon. F. S. Jackson, Unionist, was unopposed.

Major Carver has received the following letter from the Prime Minister:—

"Please accept my warm congratulations upon your fine victory. Howdenshire has maintained its consistent support of sound government."

THE STRANDED HEAD LINER.

EFFORTS TO REFLOAT THE GLEN HEAD.

Thursday night's efforts to refloat the steamer Glen Head, which went ashore in Cork Harbour on Wednesday night, having failed, the task of lightening the ship was begun yesterday. Two barges were engaged from early morning unloading several hundred tons of the Glen Head's mixed cargo.

Another attempt was to be made to tow the vessel off last night at flood tide, but such is the state of the tides at this season of the year that it was feared that the vessel would not be refloated until much more of the cargo has been unloaded.

The Glen Head went ashore in Cork Harbour during hazy weather on Wednesday night while making for the sea. She belongs to the Head Line, Belfast, and carries a mixed cargo, including barley, for Waterford and Antwerp.

IRISH CATTLE TRADE.

PROTEST AGAINST PRESENT CHARGES.

The fact that, while live stock values had now gone back virtually to pre-war level, market tolls, railway rates, freights and droverage charges still remained on the aggregate at 100 per cent. over pre-war figures, was strongly commented on at a large and representative meeting of the Irish Cattle Traders' and Stockowners' Association, last evening at the City Arms Hotel, Dublin.

The Chairman (Senator Counihan) said that the overhead charges were top-heavy, and the transport companies had failed to realise that the rapidly diminishing margin of profits in the trade was retarding advancement and withdrawing capital from it. Overtures had been made to them from time to time to reduce freight rates and other unreasonable charges to something like economic values, but these appeals had fallen on unsympathetic ears. Nothing had been done to lighten the burden of the trade, on which these companies largely depended for their traffic.

A deputation, consisting of Senator Counihan, Messrs. Matthew Bruton, Edward Staunton and the Secretary (Mr. John P. MacAvin), reported that they had interviewed Mr. Elliott, commercial manager of the Great Southern Railways, in reference to the Committee's recommendations as to modified live stock rates and cheap traders' tickets. Mr. Elliott had received them, and heard their case sympathetically. He promised to submit the recommendations to the favourable consideration of his Board.

In connection with the Railways Tribunal, Senator Counihan and Mr. John Leonard were appointed to interview the Ministry of Agriculture as to certain proposals of the railway companies which it was considered would be detrimental to the trade. A Committee was appointed to formulate the objections.

There was widespread complaint of the treatment of members at fairs by the provincial hotel keepers. Traders, on arrival, found that adequate accommodation was not available, notwithstanding that it must have been apparent to hotel keepers on the eve of fairs that accommodation would be in demand by the trade. For such accommodation as was available, exorbitant charges were made. The Secretary stated that he had already made representations to the Provincial Hotel Keepers' Association to have these grievances remedied.

LATE NEWS.

UNITED STATES AND MEXICO.

SITUATION SOMEWHAT EASIER.

FROM "THE TIMES" CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, Friday.

The likelihood that the United States might sever diplomatic relations with Mexico has unquestionably been lessened by the indication that Senator Borah, Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, and other Senators would seriously criticise such a step. There remains the possible use of the arms embargo as a weapon against the Calles Government, with the fear of Bolshevism in Central America as an excuse for its employment, but no decision, one way or another, has yet been reached.

It is still difficult to say how much of the announced fear of the State Department, that Bolshevist doctrines may spread from Mexico outwards through Central America, is genuine, and how much manufactured. Many of the Americans whose knowledge of that part of the world is most intimate—and all the Central and Latin Americans believe that any such development is fantastically impossible, the only difference between them being that the Americans are willing to allow that the State Department is sincere in its professed anxieties—insist that the talk of a Mexican-controlled Bolshevist hegemony is a screen behind which other purposes are concealed. When inquiry is made as to what these purposes may be, the reply invariably shows that, as far as the principles underlying the present dispute are concerned, Mexico is considered to be fighting the battles of all the countries in the Southern part of this hemisphere.

The struggle, as these Central and Latin Americans see it, is between the desire of the new countries to domesticate the control of their mineral and other national resources, and the ambition of the Great Powers, typified by the United States, to exert over the holdings of their citizens abroad a sort of extra-territorial jurisdiction.

CIGARETTES SEIZED ON THE BORDER.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

The Londonderry police on last Thursday night seized ten thousand cigarettes which were being taken across the Donegal and Derry boundary in a motor car owned by Mr. John Grant, a well-known Derry trader, and a Justice of the Peace for Derry City. The cigarettes were handed over to the Customs authorities at Derry.

Mr. Grant and John Breslin, driver of the motor car, were charged at a Special Court, before Mr. R. W. Glass, R.M., in Derry, yesterday, with smuggling 20lb. 10oz. of tobacco, in the form of cigarettes, from the Irish Free State into Northern Ireland, and after hearing police evidence, the Court adjourned the further hearing for a week in order to enable the Customs authority to decide the amount of the penalty that would be demanded.

Police Sergeant Jackson stated that when the motor car crossed the border he asked Mr. Grant to produce his Customs pass, but Mr. Grant was unable to produce it. On searching the car he found the cigarettes in parcels under bags of turf.

Mr. Grant rose in Court to make a statement, but fainted. On recovering, he said that the whole business was a pure accident. It would be ridiculous on his part to attempt to smuggle cigarettes from the Free State into Northern Ireland, when at the present moment he had 45,000 of the same class of cigarettes in his establishment, and the price was the same in the Free State as in the six counties. He knew nothing whatever about the cigarettes being in the car.

The Clerk—This is only an adjournment; you had better say nothing more at present.

Mr. Grant—I do not like it to go out to the public that I am a smuggler. The whole thing has stunned me. I knew nothing about it.

Mr. Glass then adjourned the proceedings for a week, and admitted the two defendants to personal bail of £50 each.

THE POTTERS' GUILD.

INTERESTING EXHIBITION IN LONDON.

An extremely interesting Exhibition has been arranged by the Guild of Potters at the Colnaghi Gallery in New Bond street, London. The china figures shown are remarkable.

Mr. Charles Vyse, the President of the Guild, has in "A Saturday Night," "The Madonna of the Racecourse," and the "Flower Seller," little figures full of character, and most beautifully finished. Another dainty little portrait figure is one of Miss Dorothy Black, by Ethel Sleigh and Phyllis Simpson, while a little gem is a portrait of Christopher Robin, the son of Mr. A. A. Milne.

There are a number of portraits of hounds carried out in pottery. Some of the Persian designs exhibited by Ida S. Perrin, of pots, fruit dishes and bowls, after the designs of De Morgan, are most artistic. A Madeleine Raper shows a number of pottery cottages, which are very interesting. A reproduction of Sulgrave Manor and a cottage in Devon are quite pictures in pottery.

COURT IN A JAIL.

CHARGE AGAINST WATERFORD MEN.

At Ballybricken (Waterford) Jail on Thursday night, before Mr. F. J. MacCabe, District Justice, Thomas Hickie, Todd Flynn, Edward Ryan, Michael Gleeson, John Whelan, Michael Morrissey, Henry O'Keeffe, and John Cregan were prosecuted under the Treasonable Offences Act in connection with the recent raid on Ballinamult Civic Guard Station.

The charge was that, prior to the 14th November, they unlawfully took part in the organisation of an association purporting to be a military force not established and maintained as such by law; further, that they did conspire and confederate and agree with each other and with other persons not in custody to rob, while armed with lethal weapons, official documents, records and equipment of the Civic Guard Barrack at Ballinamult, Co. Waterford.

On the application of Superintendent O'Riordan, Cappoquin, the accused were remanded for fourteen days.

CORK MEN ADMITTED TO BAIL.

At the Cork District Court yesterday, Messrs. Michael Murphy, Dennis Hegarty, and Eugene O'Neill, who were in custody on a charge of conspiring with others to rob the Civic Guards Barracks and with the shooting of Sergeant Fitzsimons, were, on the application of Superintendent Mansfield, remanded for fourteen days, or sooner.

They were allowed out on bail of £500 and two sureties of £250 each.

DUNGARVAN MEN DETAINED.

Five men who were detained by the Civic Guard in Dungarvan yesterday morning, were taken in the afternoon by train to Waterford, guarded by four soldiers. These men were detained immediately after the raid on Ballinamult Barracks, but were released after some hours.

FIRING AT CIVIC GUARD PATROL.

At the Blackwater Fish Conservators' meeting a report was read stating that developments were expected in connection with the shooting at Civic Guards who were on fishery patrol duty last Tuesday. One man has been arrested.

The Chairman said that that showed them what they were up against. He was still of opinion that the Civic Guards and bailiffs on patrol duty ought to be armed in certain districts.

WORST STORM OF A LIFETIME.

FIGHT FOR LIFE IN MID-ATLANTIC.

CAPTAIN'S TRIBUTE TO HIS CREW.

Captain Caldicott, the skipper of the steamer Aldworth, which put into Falmouth after experiencing a terrific storm in mid-Atlantic, said yesterday that he wished to pay a tribute to his men.

They were admirable, even heroic, he said, and I cannot speak too highly of them. I am only sorry that so many of them have lost or damaged belongings. I have had 27 years' experience of command, and during that time have been in some tight corners, but this is absolutely the tightest thing I have ever been in. I have never had anything approaching it even. At one time I did not expect to come through at all. This was when the gale was at its worst on the 20th, and it was most serious, as far as the position of the ship was concerned. We were practically flooded right out. It kept on like that for 36 hours, during which time we were making no headway. We were head on and just kept afloat.

TREMENDOUS SEAS.

After this the wind moderated, and we got the water down and got on our course. If the conditions had not improved we should have had to battle on and hope for the best until we all dropped. As it was we very nearly dropped, and most of the men are knocked up now after their efforts and terrible experience.

The force of the waves was terrific, he continued, and I have never seen anything like it before. I have been in more wind, but never in such a sea. You could hear the sea coming quite two minutes before it descended on us. The first sign of any trouble with the ship was when the engine room and stokehold became flooded through the skylights being burst in and the seas coming over. The fires were very nearly out, but, fortunately, they were not quite extinguished, and we succeeded in keeping them going. The pumps got into a queer state, but the engineers improvised a jury pipe leading to the bilges, and that is how we kept the water down until the weather moderated.

COMPLETELY UNDER WATER.

When we were able to get on our course we started off at 4 knots an hour, and finished up at 8.2 knots. After we got going the vessel ceased making water and the seas gradually calmed down. When the storm was at its height we were getting the waters amidships and fore and aft, and at times we were completely under water. We never got to the point of thinking it impossible to save the ship, and we were determined to save her and ourselves if humanly possible, and are thankful to have arrived safely in port.

The wireless man stuck it finely. He went through a very strenuous time from the commencement of the storm till the finish, sending out and receiving messages. None of us had anything to eat except dry biscuits, and a cup of tea now and then, which was made in a bucket in the stokehold. I want to say a word of praise for the "donkey man," named Cook, who was oiling and greasing for sixteen hours at a stretch. He had the heart of a lion. It should also be said of the messroom boy, aged 16, who never showed the slightest sign of funk, that he was wonderful and the bravest of the lot, being a little marvel. His parents are out of work, and he regularly sends half of his small wages to them.

A NIGHTMARE.

The wireless operator, J. M. Verrels, who belongs to Moseley, Birmingham, was interviewed in the operating room, where he spent so many anxious hours. "I was here," he said, "all the time of the gale, except once or twice, and once I had gone out I had to get back by climbing up the ventilator, so badly smashed was everything. Messages seemed to be coming about every two ticks. I had nothing to eat except biscuits, and nothing to drink except water, except that once I managed to get some tea in a medicine bottle. It was a nightmare all the time, and I shall never forget it."

SIX DAYS WITHOUT SLEEP.

E. Hearle, of Sunderland, the chief engineer, who was spoken so highly of by members of the crew in the previous night, interviewed, said:—"We had a very rough time down below, with the engineers and firemen closed in. It was hot and oppressive, and heavy seas were coming down and striking the cylinders, so that we were scalded once or twice, although not seriously. I was in the engine-room about six days, with only four hours' sleep."

L.M.S. APPOINTMENT.

It is officially announced that the Directors of the London, Midland and Scottish Railway Company have appointed Mr. Glynne Roberts, O.B.E., who for the past few years has held the position of Assistant to the General Manager, to be Assistant to the President of the Executive and Superintendent of Central Office.

Mr. Glynne Roberts has had a very wide railway experience. He received his early training in the Goods and Traffic Departments of the London and North-Western Railway at Holyhead, Chester, Dublin, and Manchester. In 1911 he was transferred to Euston, and since has occupied a number of important positions, including that of chief clerk to the Chief Goods Manager, and chief clerk to the General Manager. Appointed assistant to the General Manager in January, 1922, he has since been closely associated with the present General Manager, the Right Hon. H. G. Burgess.

"THE WHISPERING GALLERY."

AUTHOR IN POLICE COURT.

A CHARGE OF FALSE PRETENCES.

When "The Whispering Gallery" case came before the magistrate at the Marlborough street Police Court, London, yesterday, Mr. Freke Palmer, who appeared on behalf of the publishers of the book, described the case as a serious one on account of the fact that the defendant had tricked Messrs. John Lane, The Bodley Head, Ltd., into publishing a book concerning very eminent people, dead and alive.

The defendant, Hesketh Pearson (39), of Abbey road, St. John's Wood, described as a writer, was charged with having on November 19th last obtained from Mr. A. L. Lane, the Secretary of John Lane, The Bodley Head, Ltd., a banking cheque for £225 by means of false pretences, and with intent to defraud. Pearson was remanded for a week, and bail was allowed.

"PURE FICTION."

COUNSEL'S DESCRIPTION OF THE BOOK.

Mr. Palmer, referring to the book, said that it purported to contain facts and conversations by eminent people, and taken from a diary which the defendant said was compiled by a very eminent diplomat, and it turned out to be pure fiction, the creation of his own mind.

The false pretences, Mr. Palmer stated, were in respect of the manuscript of "The Whispering Gallery." The defendant had stated that the author was such a distinguished diplomat that he could not possibly tell the name except in secret to one of the directors of the firm. The name he gave was Sir Rennell Rodd, whom they all knew to be a distinguished diplomat, and who had been one of His Majesty's Ambassadors. But Sir Rennell Rodd would tell them that he entirely repudiated the manuscript of the diary, and that he knew nothing of Pearson.

The story started in May, 1922, when prisoner became acquainted with Mr. John Dunbar, the managing director of Odham's Press, Ltd. He had employed him in journalistic work from time to time up to this week. In July the prisoner approached Mr. Dunbar with a view to serialising "The Whispering Gallery." He stated that it was being published in America, and handed over proofs of the book.

The Magistrate (Mr. Mead)—Has it been published in America?

Mr. Palmer—Yes; it has been actually published there.

A GREAT SECRET.

Proceeding, Mr. Palmer said that Mr. Dunbar had asked for the name of the compiler of the diary, and prisoner stated to him that it was a close secret. "I have given my word not to disclose it," was what he actually said. Mr. Dunbar then pointed out that it was no good for the Press as a serial as apart from a book. He also said that the anonymity of the author was against its publication as a serial. He pressed Pearson for the name of the diplomat, and Pearson eplied "Rodd." Mr. Dunbar said: "Who the dickens is Rodd?" Pearson annswered: "Sir Rennell Rodd."

On the 27th August Pearson called on Mr Dunbar with the manuscript and asked: "Will you submit it to Mr. Lane?" explaining at the same time that other publishers with whom he had been negotiating were proceeding too slowly. On the same day Mr. Dunbar wrote to Mr. Lane, enclosing the manuscript and giving Pearson's name and address. Thus Pearson went to the prosecuting firm with an excellent introduction from Mr. Dunbar, whose name in the publishing world carried considerable weight. An interview was suggested, and the first interview took place at a country inn, where Pearson was staying for his holidays in September.

"VERY EMINENT MAN."

The discussion was carried on with the young Mr. Lane. Pearson told him he had known of the existence of the diary for several years, and said it had been kept by a very eminent man, and that he was under a bond of secrecy not to divulge the name. He said he had several times mentioned it to Mr. Dunbar. Subsequently he (Pearson) had induced the author to make a selection, and to agree to publishing the diary. After some discussion at this interview it was arranged that Pearson would be paid £250 on the day of publication.

On September 10 he saw Mr. Allen Lane. An agreement was carefully read through by Pearson, who made alterations, and, after signing it, he said: "The name of the diarist is Sir Rennell Rodd." Pearson said: "I am going to submit this agreement to the diarist, and you must realise that the name must be kept a strict secret. Only you and Dunbar know the name."

Mr. Allen Lane reported the whole thing to the directors, except, of course, the name. Later Pearson said that he had submitted the agreement to the diarist, and, in October, that he had succeeded in getting the American publishers to suspend publication of the American edition until the end of October, so that the English publication should not be interfered with.

Counsel then narrated in detail the circumstances of the publication of the book on November 19, the attacks made upon it, and the action taken by Messrs. Lane.

AN EXPRESSION OF SORROW.

Pearson called on Mr. Dunbar on November 23, and on entering the room said:—"I am very sorry for having caused all this trouble." Mr. Dunbar said:—"Did you tell me a lie?" and Pearson replied: "Yes, unfortunately I did." Pearson asked:—"Did I give you Rodd's name?" and Mr. Dunbar said: "Yes, and I have written it down on a slip of paper."

Mr. Dunbar added:—"You are not going to deny that you gave Mr. Lane Rodd's name?" and Pearson replied: "No, I have just apologised to Sir Rennell Rodd for doing so."

Detective Inspector Harwell said that when he arrested Pearson on Thursday at a solicitor's office and read the warrant to him, he replied: "Not guilty."

On the application of Mr. Percy Robinson, who defended, Pearson was granted bail, himself in £500 and two sureties of £250.

LAWN TENNIS PLAYER-CRITICS.

The proposed amendments to the amateur definition which the Council of the Lawn Tennis Association are to submit at the annual general meeting on December 13, are not favoured by the International Lawn Tennis Club of Great Britain.

At the annual general meeting of the club at the Royal Automobile Club yesterday evening the following resolution, proposed by Colonel A. R. F. Kingscote, was carried:—"The International Club, while anxious to support the Lawn Tennis Association in every effort to promote amateurism, is opposed to any legislation which under threat of penalty would tend to check educational publicity undertaken by amateurs, it considers that amateur players are benefiting both the game and amateurism, when, subject to existing regulations, they contribute signed articles to the public Press or broadcast their views on the game."

SIX-TOED CATS.

VIEWS OF PROFESSOR GATENBY.

A letter which appeared in the Irish Times on the 24th inst. from Professor J. Brontë Gatenby, of the University Zoological Department, Trinity College, Dublin, describing a tabby cat, hexadactylous in all four paws, has aroused great interest among the general public. In the course of an interview with an Irish Times representative yesterday, Professor Gatenby gave some further details about his interesting pet, and said that he had received a number of letters from people who have cats with similar peculiarities. "Several conditions are met with," Professor Gatenby said. "There are instances of (a) polydactuly in all four limbs, (b) polydactuly in only two limbs, (c) a large size of paw, together with polydactuly (so-called Russian). Polydactuly in all four limbs is found in many breeds of cats."

Regarding inheritance, from some of the accounts given by readers of the Irish Times, it seems that a polydactylous cat bred with another having the same peculiarities will give all offspring polydactylous; that a cross between a polydactylous cat and a normal cat will give the offspring polydactylous and normal, according to a Mendelian ratio, polydactylism being dominant.

"Polydactylism in cats seems to have been studied by Dr. Haddon, of Cambridge, and Mr. H. Balfour, of the Pitt Rivers Museum, Oxford, but I have not been able to find any published work on the subject by them.

NOT PECULIAR TO CATS.

"These digital peculiarities are found in horses, pigs, human beings and many other organisms. The well-known Cæsar's horse, instead of having one hoof, had two, and was, in a sense, polydactylous, being a reversion to the ancestral type. The best studied case of the inheritance of digital peculiarities is brachydactuly in human beings, which has been studied extensively in America. Brachydactuly is the condition in which all the digits are extremely thick and stubby.

"From the broader aspect of organic evolution, the inheritance of such small digital peculiarities is of great interest. If one assumed that the possession of extra digits was of special use to the animal in the struggle for existence, the occurrence of polydactuly might be of great importance to the survival of the species in which it was found.

"The manner of origin of such digital peculiarities is quite unknown, and there is no sort of evidence bearing on the problem. Most zoologists would place polydactuly among the mutations of discontinuous variations, because such peculiarities appear suddently."

DUBLIN AND THE PROVINCES.

DUBLIN.

Dance in Clery's.—Three hundred persons attended a dance in Clery's ballroom, Dublin, last night, in aid of the funds of the Peamount Care Committee. The dance was a great success. Mr. W. A. Manahan's band supplied the music.

Clergyman's Return.—At the Mission Church, Townsend street, Dublin, last night, the members of the congregation and friends presented the Rev. T. C. Hammond, Superintendent of the church, with a handsome illuminated address and a substantial cheque on his return from a nine months' tour of Canada and Australia. Mrs. Hammond was presented with a gold wristlet watch. The Rev. Gage Dougherty, M.A., presided.

Boy Put on Probation.—In the Children's Court yesterday, before Mr. G. P. Cussen, D.J., a boy named John Frederick Ashe was summoned for breaking eight panes of glass at Fenian street and Denzille lane on the 5th October, and also for discharging an air gun at the same place, and having the air gun in his possession without a firearms certificate. The cases were dismissed under the Probation Act, and the air gun was forfeited.

DEPARTURES:—T. Saville, M. J. O'Meara, G. Ogden, T. Barton, W. Fletcher, E. R. Brittain, T. Broadley, J. Johnston, E. Wilson, A. B. Cave, W. E. Davis, T. Maguire.

LEINSTER.

Act of Sane Man.—When claims for compensation for the breaking of plate glass windows in the premises of Messrs. Nathaniel Thackaberry and George T. Lewis, Bunclody, came before the Wexford Circuit Court yesterday, it was submitted for the County Council that the claims could not be upheld, as the man who did the damage was found to be insane. Mr. Justice Doyle said that the man pleaded guilty to the charge of breaking the windows, and his plea was accepted; and it was later, while on bail, that he attempted to commit suicide. He (the Judge) was obliged to hold that the man committed the offence while he was presumably sane. He awarded the amount claimed—£10 and £24, respectively.

Damages for Motoring Party.—At Wexford Circuit Court, Mr. Justice Doyle, K.C., awarded John F. Mullany, Kilmacow, Co. Kilkenny, £160 against Messrs. A. G. and S. Davis, Ltd., Enniscorthy, for damage done to a Dodge motor car in a collision with the defendants' steam lorry at Ballyvergin Cross, Co. Wexford. Patrick Walsh, Claremont road, Dublin, and his wife, who were travelling in the motor car at the time of the collision, were awarded £40 for injury to personal property.

Local Doctors Cheaper.—With regard to the appointment of a medical officer to administer anæsthetics and assist the medical officer at the Meath County Hospital, a letter was read from the Ministry, at a meeting of the Meath Board of Health on Thursday, stating that the Minister considered that the appointment of a resident house surgeon for a six months' period would be more economical than the appointment of an extern officer. At the suggestion of Mr. Macken, who said that a local doctor would be much cheaper, it was decided to ask the Department to agree to the proposal to appoint an extern assistant.

Newbridge Housing Plan.—The Local Government Department have written to the Newbridge Town Commissioners approving of plans submitted in connection with alterations and improvements of houses at the military barracks, which are being acquired by the Commissioners from the Board of Works to relieve the want of housing accommodation in the township.

Wexford Pork Competitions.—The Department of Lands and Agriculture have informed the Wexford County Committee of Agriculture that they were obliged to adhere to their decision not to give a grant towards the Pork Competitions held by the Wexford Meat Factory.

Death After Hunting.—On returning home after hunting, Charles Strong, an employé at Wellington Bridge Railway Station, County Wexford, went to see a pony, and shortly afterwards was found dying in an out-house. He lived only a short time.

Unlicensed Tractor. — Richard McEvoy, Cloneen, Mountmellick, was fined £20, mitigated to 5s., at Tullamore yesterday for having an unlicensed tractor.

NORTHERN IRELAND.

Portadown Pleasure Gardens.—As satisfactory progress cannot be made with the construction of the pleasure gardens in Partadown during the winter season, owing to the nature of the work and the situation of the site, the Urban Council has decided to suspend further operations until the springtime.

Drove Sheep Into River.—Alleged to have chased a sheep into a river and stoned it, cutting its leg, Peter Polin, of Mullaghmore, Hilltown, was fined £5 and costs at Warrenpoint Petty Sessions yesterday.

Caught in Shafting.—While repairing a wall at Raceview Woollen Mills, Ballymena, yesterday, Maxwell Hendry, a labourer, was caught in some shafting and died as the result of injuries. He was a married man, aged 45 years.

WOMEN FAINT IN COURT.

STELLA MARIS MURDER CASE.

SMITH IN WITNESS BOX.

The trial of Alfonso F. A. Smith for the murder of John A. Derham was continued yesterday at the Kent Assizes, in Maidstone.

The Crown alleges that Smith was jealous of Derham; that by a bogus telegram he enticed him to a villa called Stella Maris, where Mrs. Smith was living with her children, and that he shot him with a revolver. The defence is that the revolver went off during a struggle and that Smith had no intention of committing murder.

The trial will end to-day. Remarkable letters written by Smith were quoted yesterday, and the excitement in the court was so great that several women fainted.

Giving evidence, Smith said that he was greatly attached to his wife and three children. Last Christmas they met Derham, who became a friend of the family and visited the house frequently. Some time later he formed the opinion that Derham was paying too much attention to Mrs. Smith, and spoke to him about it. They had a row about it and Derham was "knocked-out." His friendship with Mrs. Smith, however, continued, and in July last a solicitor was consulted with a view to a divorce.

Calling at Derham's lodgings, he found certain letters and photographs of Mrs. Smith, which made him exceedingly angry. He smashed furniture in the place and left a letter which started: "I have traced you here. You have attempted or accomplished stealing my wife."

Continuing, Smith said he was frantic at the loss of his wife, and began to drink heavily, but could find no solace in drink. He was in a very unsettled condition when he borrowed a revolver from a friend, but had no intention of shooting Derham. At the time he contemplated suicide.

REMARKABLE LETTER.

He discussed the position with his wife, however, on August 10th, and she promised to give up Derham. Later he wrote to his wife:—

"My own darling little wife,—You have made me happier than ever I hoped to be. I have been made miserable lately, and in hell. Now you have given glimpses of the Heaven, which, with your help, my wife, I leave no stone unturned to reach. The made, the criminal, folly I have been steeped in is a thing of the past from yesterday for ever. You must forgive me, as you forgave me last night, and although you will learn of two reckless and foolish things I have done, they all belong to that nightmare of the past. You asked me to forgive you last night, and I could only say: 'I love you,' and that conquered everything. I bury yours; will you let me bury mine? Atonement I must make some day, and punishment I deserve. These will be easier now, because of you. I feel like a man who has been in a terrible fever, delirious and wandering, and am just wakening from a deep, refreshing and life-giving sleep. Do not throw a lifebelt to me and then draw it away at my last gasp. You have a great heart and courageous. I need it always and I want it. Your words to me last night will never leave my memory. I could never love anyone like you. God bless you, with all the love in my heart.—Your own husband, Frank."

When counsel read the letter several women in the body of the court began to cry and a jurywoman collapsed. The judge adjourned the court for a few minutes.

When the court resumed, Smith said, replying to his counsel (Sir Edward Marshall Hall), that on August 11th he took a letter from the postman, and found that it was a love letter to his wife from Derham.

Counsel—What was your state of mind?

Smith—It is impossible to describe.

The lifebelt had been withdrawn? Yes.

THE TELEGRAM.

Smith added that he sent a telegram to Derham in his wife's name, as he was anxious that the three of them should meet to discuss matters. When Derham arrived nothing was definitely settled. He suggested that both of them should go away for two months, while Derham suggested that he (Smith) should go to Paris, where a divorce could be obtained.

"I took the pistol out of my pocket," declared Smith, "and said that I would shoot myself. They snatched it away from me, and I made no attempt to keep it. My wife went out of the room and put it under the tap. She returned it to me in the kitchen in the presence of Derham and my sister-in-law. She asked me to break it for her. I opened the breach and the cartridges fell on the floor. After I had dried the revolver, I loaded it with four cartridges, and put it in my pocket."

A game of cards was suggested, Smith continued, but he told his wife and Derham that he did not want to play, that he was going to do away with himself.

Sir Edward Marshall Hall—What was the next thing?

Smith—It all happened in a flash. I went to get a chair, and put my hand to the back pocket of my trousers to take out the revolver.

Smith gave a demonstration of how he performed this act. "I was getting the chair and pulling out the revolver," he said. "Of the next that happened all I know is there was a terrific struggle. I was struck on the head, the revolver went off, and the next thing I am absolutely conscious of was speaking to Inspector Rivers."

Sir Edward Marshall Hall put down his brief dramatically on to the table, and, looking squarely at Smith, asked him: "Have you any recollection of yourself ever pulling that trigger?"

Smith looked unflinchingly at Sir Edward and replied emphatically: "I swear I never touched the trigger."

COUNSEL'S APPEAL.

Sir Edward Marshall Hall, K.C., addressing the jury, said that it was impossible that a man could have designed to commit murder and carry it out in the way set out by the prosecution. He asked the jury to say that the language Smith used regarding Derham was absolutely justified, and that at no time had he murder in his heart against Derham. He asked them to find that Derham, a big powerful man, did hit Smith in the face and with the other hand try to get the pistol, which, in the course of the struggle, went off.

Counsel concluded with an appeal to set the prisoner free, so that he might get hold of the lifebelt thrown to him once and then taken from him, and return to happy times with the wife and children he adored.

Smith, for the first time during the trial, displayed signs of emotion as he listened to Sir Edward's address, and Mrs. Smith, who was in an anteroom, peered now and again through the window into the interior of the court.

Mr. Justice Avory will sum up at 10.30 o'clock this morning.

CHRIST CHURCH CATHEDRAL.

The annual church parade of the Dublin Battalion of the Girls' Brigade will be held in Christ Church Cathedral, Dublin, to-morrow, when over 500 officers and members are expected to parade. The preacher will be the Right Rev. R. K. Hanna, M.A., Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland. The offerings will be for Miss Carr's Home for Destitute Children

At Morning Service (11 o'clock) the Dean will preach on "The World Call," and there will be Special Intercession for Missions.

MR. W. J. FENNELL'S HORSES.

Andorra, who won a race the other day at Warwick, was bred by that good County Kildare sportsman, Mr. W. J. Fennell, who, unfortunately, has not been enjoying the best of health of late, and in consequence is selling some of his thoroughbreds. Among these is a promising filly foal, now almost a yearling, by his own stallion, Cramond from Andorra's dam, Pyrenee. Cramond is a beautifully-bred horse, being by Tracery out of Cantrip, by Desmond out of Pawky, who produced a Derby winner in Aboyeur, so that the foal alluded to lacks nothing on the score of lineage. There are also several yearlings by Cramond, one of which is out of Ashdale, the dam of Wardly Dell, etc.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

THE EMERGENCY REGULATIONS.

LABOUR MEMBERS AND THE GOVERNMENT.

FROM OUR PARLIAMENTARY CORRESPONDENT.

WESTMINSTER, Friday.

When the Emergency Regulations again came up for renewal this afternoon it was expected that the Labour Party would make the proceedings considerably livelier than they have been during the first part of the week. Those who anticipated "scenes," however, were disappointed, as the discussion in the main was tame to a degree.

The Government's supporters did not think that the occasion called for any intervention on their part, and they left most of the talk to Labour members, who followed one another in a vain attempt to convince the Government that the Regulations were no longer required, and that they might be dispensed with. The only two speakers from the Liberal benches were Captain Wedgwood Benn and Mr. George Thorne, and on the Ministerial side of the House, apart from the Home Secretary's opening speech, the discussion was confined to Captain Streatfield, Mr. MacQuisten, and Mr. Grotrian.

The Home Secretary himself was very anxious that the regulations should be dropped at the earliest possible moment; but he was advised by the Chief Constables in the coal-mining areas that it would be better and safer to keep them in force for a short time longer.

PEACE AND GOOD-WILL.

Mr. Clynes thought that the Government had missed a good opportunity by not making a gesture of peace and good-will. There had been very few industrial disputes which had been conducted with so great a regard for observance to the law, and the conclusion that some people would come to was that the regulations were intended to be used for repression and provocation. Captain Wedgwood Benn based his argument against the continuance of the regulations on constitutional grounds. He asserted that they were only intended for a national crisis. There was no national crisis now, and the use of these autocratic powers was very dangerous even to the Conservative Party itself.

Mr. Lawson thought that the Prime Minister would have been well advised to declare a general amnesty all round. "This dispute, which seems to be ended," he went on, "is not ended. The thing that is called peace is not peace."

Sir Henry Slesser backed up Captain Benn's constitutional argument. The essentials of life were not threatened, and he very much doubted whether any of these Regulations could be sustained in a Court of law.

THE KIRKWOOD TRIAL.

Mr. Buchanan described incidents at the recent trial of Mr. David Kirkwood, at Renishaw. The whole thing, in his opinion, was a farce, and if this was the kind of justice meted out to a member of Parliament, what sort of justice could an ill-equipped miner expect?

There was one little scene towards the end of the debate. Mr. Paling, a Labour member, was talking about the hardships of the miners, when he paused to accuse Earl Winterton of laughing.

Earl Winterton—I was wondering what the hon. member would have said had he fought at Gallipoli.

Mr. Paling made an angry retort: "The noble lord is one of those who promised the men that if they went to Gallipoli they would be given homes fit for heroes to live in. Having fought for the purposes of preserving the privileges of the noble lord, they are now called revolutionaries, because they wish for the implementing of the promises made to them. The only thing that the noble lord, the Home Secretary, and the precious, honest Prime Minister can do, is to offer these men a standard of life worse than that which existed fifty years ago."

The Speaker here intervened, and, as it was on the stroke of 4 o'clock, the further debate was adjourned and the House rose.

"YE ANCIENT ORDER OF FROTH-BLOWERS."

A BRILLIANT DANCE.

"Ye Ancient Order of Froth Blowers" held a dance last night in the Metropole Ballroom, Dublin, that can best be described as the most brilliantly successful of the season. The proceeds will be devoted to the Irish Times Coal Fund. The energetic efforts of the Dance Committee of "Blasters" and "Blowers" was responsible in no small measure for the success of the dance. Nearly five hundred people were present, one of the biggest attendances at a dance in Dublin for years. Care-free gaiety, excellent dancing, and a first class band made the evening most enjoyable, and when midnight struck the company sang "The Froth Blowers' Anthem," and were granted an extension of the dancing time-limit.

This is the first time that "The Froth Blowers' Anthem" has been sung in public It was composed and written as a fox-trot and anthem by Blower Cedric May, one of the leaders of the Roger-May Dance Band. It has a merry, lilting air, and should be very popular.

The Rogers-May Band was at its best last night, and the various dance numbers were encored time after time.

The "Blasters" and "Blowers" of the Order were present in full force to witness the triumphant entry of the Froth Blowers' Tankard, measuring four feet high, over a foot in width, and made of solid silver.

An exhibition of the Charleston and fox-trot by Blower Val North and Blower Eileen North were a feature of the evening. The two youngest blowers in the world, Blower Cynthia and Blower Cyril, aged nine and eleven years respectively, also gave an exhibition of the Charleston.

The members of the dance committee were: Blaster Eric Kendall, Blower Mrs. Eric Kendall, Blaster Hubert Geoghegan, Blower Betty Lambert, Blower Cedric May, Blower Olga Meyer, Blower A. Crawford, Blower John Fagan, Blower Harry Kapp and Blower Mrs. Geoghegan.

Among those present were:—Captain Henry, Mr. and Mrs. J. McLean, Captain and Mrs. Purcell, Mr. J. Lockington, Dundalk, and party; Captain H. Crossley, Mr. S. Sloecock and party, Mr. Hugh Curran, Commandant J. Fitzmorris and party, Mr. C. Hewatt and party, Captain Saragni and party, Blower Alec Singleton, Mr. and Mrs. W. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson, Mr. Walter Rogers and party, Mr. Alec McMurtry and party, Mr. F. Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Wilson and party.

THE ART OF EATING.

GASTRONOMICAL FAIR IN FRANCE.

PARIS.

In France not to know something of culinary matters is a woeful sign of ignorance and bad taste. Not only the chef who cooks the dish, but the manufacturer, financier or professional man who eats it, knows perfectly well of what it is composed and how the ingredients are put together. Hence the gastronomical fair which was opened at Dijon this week is likely to be a great success, staged as it is in a district flowing with milk and honey, otherwise poulets de Bresse and good Burgundy.

In connection with the fair, Excelsior has taken the trouble to assemble gastronomical foibles and sayings of great men. Men of law, the paper finds, are among those attaching the greatest importance to the table. It was a President of the Court of Cassation who said: "I regard the discovery of a new dish as a much more interesting event than the discovery of a new star." This gastronomic disdain of all things astronomic was, doubtless, shared by another magistrate, the author of a long epic poem on the art of eating, who was quite ready to vilify his own literary flights by declaring that never could a poem equal a good dinner.

Excelsior recalls that great men were not without their gastronomical weaknesses. Henry IV. had a fondness for melon, while Charlemagne delighted in roast venison; Napoleon and Voltaire considered a meal incomplete if it did not end with coffee.

The journal then makes an excursion into the likes and dislikes of well-known living men. The eminent barrister, Maitre Henri Robert, has a weakness for macaroni; the academician, Henri de Robert, for raw fruit; the poet, Leon Frapie, admits affection for the unpoetical snail; the novelist, Maurice Dekobra, much appreciates blanquette de veau, and it is whispered that M. Briand, when he goes to Geneva, makes a halt at a famous hotel at Chablis.—(Reuter.)

U.S. MARKETS.

DEARER MONEY.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)

NEW YORK, Friday.

On to-day's Stock market the advance was resumed, despite 5 per cent. call money. Pools showed activity among special stocks, and Baldwin Locomotive continued to respond to reports of large orders for locomotives. Texas Land Trust, wherein trading is infrequent and in odd lots, jumped 160 points to 1,090. Shipping, Farm Implement issues, and Food Shares presented several points of strength, but Domestic Oils were sluggish, reflecting the record-breaking production of crude oil; and bears uncovered several weak spots in Motors. Rails joined in the advance in the final hour, and Baldwin Locomotive established a new "record" price of 159. U.S. Steel Common Shares were taken in large blocks at above 155, and International Mercantile Marine Preferred, General Asphalt, and South Porto Rico Sugar rose 4 to 7 points. The market closed strong. Government Bonds steady; Railroad Bonds irregular. The day's sales amounted to 1,560,000 shares.

Money on call closed firm at 5 p.c. bid and 5¼ p.c. asked. Actual business ranged from 4½ p.c. to 5 p.c., with the ruling rate 4½ p.c. The last transaction was at 5 p.c. Sterling exchange irregular. Silver ½c. up at 54½.

You gain 4/6 on every 15/6 you invest.

Every Savings Certificate you buy represents 15s. 6d. saved. But it represents very much more than that. For, while it can never diminish, it is always growing. In five years your 15s. 6d. becomes a £1. Similarly, £387 10s. becomes £500, a clear profit of £112 10s. in 5 years. Surely such a rate of growth makes thrift well worth while. FREE STATE FARMERS' PLIGHT.

THE BURDEN OF TAXATION.

At an agricultural conference, held in Thurles, resolutions were passed, viewing with alarm the present depressed state of agriculture, and urging on the Government the necessity of coming to the aid of the farmers.

The Chairman of the North Tipperary County Council (Count O'Byrne), who presided, said that credit societies for the greater part of the country had proved a failure. The price of cattle was very low, and barley prices were ridiculous.

Mr. P. L. Ryan, Chairman (South Riding) County Council, said that, even if a Government loan was secured, it should be administered through the County Committee of Agriculture. Ministers talked about having passed numerous Acts of Parliament; but of what use were any of them to the farming element? Mr. Hogan talked about farmers feeding cattle with barley; but had they the cattle?

OVERHEAD CHARGES.

Referring to taxation, he said that the overhead charges were entirely above what the people could meet, and was caused by high salaries, too many officials, and high freights. It was little wonder that business in the country was dead. The only people busy all over the Saorstat were inspectors, officials in motor cars, tax-gatherers, sheriffs and bailiffs.

He proposed a resolution, viewing with alarm the present depressed state of agriculture, and urging on the Government the necessity of coming to the aid of the farmers.

Mr. Timonly, County Council, seconding, said that, before the Shannon or any other scheme was carried through, ameliorative measures should be introduced for the farmers; they would require short term loans for the purchase of manure, and long term loans for the restocking of land.

Mr. Hassett, Co.C., strongly advocated tariffs.

Mr. C. O'Neill said that the Government had not an idea of how to govern the farming community; the time for paying annuities should be extended.

TAXATION.

Mr. Heffernan, T.D., stated that, while prices for farm produce was not more than 30 per cent. pre-war, their expenses were at least 100 per cent. above those of 1914. He proposed that they call on the Government to set up a commission of inquiry, with a view to finding out if a reduction in the cost of State departments could not be effected. Local taxation also should be reduced.

Mr. P. L. Ryan said that the County Councils had made a big fight for the reduction of expenditure locally, but their hands were virtually tied.

A resolution was adopted calling on the Land Commission to serve notice when instalments became due, and protesting against writs.

Mr. Treacy said that the outlook was deplorable, with taxation amounting to £28,000,000, which, under the old régime, was only £12,000,000.

HOW HUMAN SPEECH IS PRODUCED.

SIR RICHARD PAGET'S LECTURE.

"How Human Speech is Produced" was the subject of an interesting lecture given by Sir Richard Paget, Bart., to the members of the Royal Dublin Society at Ballsbridge yesterday afternoon. Speech, he said, was the result of particular combinations and successions of movements made by the tongue and lips in order to symbolise thought or such thoughts as were intended for publication. In other words, speech was a particular kind of gesture language which they had all learned to recognise by the changes of sound which the gestures produced. All writing by which man had learned to record his thoughts was but another form of gesture language. In writing people made certain symbolic movements with their [illegible] and just as there were many differ[illegible] in which symbolic gestures might be [illegible]eloped, according to the way in which the particular community looked at things, which resulted in the production of different languages, so there have been many different ways of symbolising thought by hand gestures, resulting in different principles of writing.

With the latter-day development of the telephone and broadcasting, he said, the spoken word was coming into its own again. From the point of view of symbolising human thought, even the best of their present languages were very imperfect. The perfect language would have a separate gesture symbol for each separate idea, and as a result they would all be able to thir[illegible] far more clearly and express themselves far more easily than at present. International authorities on language, like the Danish Professor, Jespersen, seemed to think that English was the best language that had yet been developed by man. But although English had got rid of most of the unnecessary inflexions found in Greek and Latin, it was still far from perfect.

The lecturer illustrated the use of homophones—words which have the same sound but different meanings—for example, mole, which might mean an animal or a dark spot on the skin or a breakwater.

Above all, they ought to improve the spelling, which was the worst feature of English, and the greatest handicap to the extension of the language. A set spelling was not a necessity. One of the finest things that could happen to the English language would be that they should all be allowed to spell once more as they pleased. Then when the hold of the present spelling was broken they could settle down to some reasonable and scientific method by which words would be spelled as they were intended to be pronounced. He believed that if English spelling were rationally reformed and English pronunciation standardised, as it would be in a generation or so, by the operation of broadcasting, and if the language itself was cleared of its worst anomalies, English, by its own excellence, would become a universal language.

PRO-CATHEDRAL CEREMONIES.

The devotion of the Forty Hours' Adoration will be solemnly inaugurated in the Pro-Cathedral, Dublin, to-morrow, when High Mass, at which the Archbishop is to preside, will be celebrated at 12 o'clock. High Mass will be celebrated at 11 o'clock on Monday morning and Tuesday morning, and there will be solemn Benediction on Sunday evening and Monday evening at 8.30 o'clock.

The Prince of Wales received the Maharaja of Burdwan last evening.

Prince Henry, who has kept to his bed since his operation for tonsilitis, was allowed to get up for a time yesterday. He is making satisfactory progress towards recovery.

WEATHER FORECAST.

General Inference.—A shallow depression over South-East England is moving very slowly south-eastward, and a ridge of high pressure is spreading over Scotland and Ireland from the Atlantic. Winds will be mainly northerly, at first moderate to fresh in the West, but will become generally light and indefinite later. Local showers are probable at first, but subsequently the weather will be fair, apart from fog.

Ireland.—Wind northerly, light to moderate, becoming indefinite; fair, apart from fog; which will become fairly general on Saturday night; frost at night.

All Irish Seaboards.—Wind becoming light and indefinite; mainly fair, coastal fog later; sea moderate, becoming slight.

THE LAST OF THE MOHICANS.

GONE!! . . . What a weight of poignant sorrow that single word carries when it stands for the extinction of a whole civilization. These brave and sturdy North American Indians have vanished in the sombre mists of time, carrying with them their arts and crafts perfected by many generations.

Their moccasins and leather equipment prove them to have held the marvellous secret of keeping leather soft, pliable and indestructible.

We regret the loss of their methods, but Science Polish can more than take their place. It enhances all the wonderful properties of leather and, at the same time, beautifies, preserves and waterproofs.

GOSSIP FROM THE COURSE.

THRILLING END OF "THE FLAT."

THE BEST FINISH OF THE SEASON.

TO-DAY'S RACING.

HINTS FOR NOVEMBER HANDICAP.

From Our Travelling Correspondent.

MANCHESTER, Friday Night.

The dying flat-racing season is disappearing with a burst of fireworks. Four thrilling finishes marked the racing here this afternoon, and the handicapper, Mr. Leycester Penrhyn Hornby, has excellent reason to feel proud of his work. In the whole of the season we have not seen a better finish than that for the Ellesmere Welter Handicap; for the eight-year-old Francis Joseph and the three-year-old Tetratema gelding Ripolin ran a dead-heat. And what a dead-heat it was!

The favourite was Mr. Albert Lowry's Bachelor's Vow, and when he shot out below the distance he looked like coming home alone, but he went out as quickly as he came in; and then Francis Joseph went on, to be immediately challenged by Ripolin, who drew level with him. Never have a couple of jockeys ridden with more vim. Weston, anxious to get as near his hundred winning mounts as possible before the end of the season, was trying everything he knew, and Childs would concede no point to his younger rival.

NECK AND NECK.

For the last furlong they raced neck and neck, and neither would give an inch to the other, both horses running their race out with unflinching gameness. The spectacle fairly thrilled the crowd; and when they passed the post no one could tell which had won until the judge's decision was announced in the frame.

I have never seen an old horse run a better race than Francis Joseph, who is eight years old, and whom Captain Boyd-Rochfort has kept at the top of his form. He ran the race of his life here and pulled out the last ounce that was in him. Indeed, he and Childs showed themselves a great pair of veterans. The judge said Bachelor's Vow was third and only two lengths away, but the gap between them seemed to be much greater.

SILVER CRAG JUST GETS HOME.

Just before there had been a most inspiriting finish for the Sedgeley Handicap. Here Silver Crag, who has been most disappointing this season, was favourite. He and Maia drew out at the distance, with the latter just in front. A little further on Silver Crag headed her, but the filly was by no means done with, and running on again she pulled out a great effort. Most people thought it was a dead-heat, but the judge decided that the good-looking son of Silvern had won by a short head. This was a welcome turn of luck to Wootton's stable, which has not been doing well in the past month—indeed, since Perfect Son lost the Cesarewitch.

The day was sunny, but again there was a thick mist on the course, and the visibility was not much better than that of yesterday. For the first race, a two-year-old selling plate, we had an exciting contest, when the outsider, Heather Bell, a daughter of Honey Bee, got up in the last few strides to win by two short heads from the Bachelor's Double filly Double Shield and Flighty Lady.

DEAD-HEAT FOR SECOND PLACE.

The next race, the Flying Handicap, was less of a tax on weak hearts; for after Lady Clara had forced the pace she weakened a quarter of a mile from home, and Open Prospect went on to win by three lengths, Proconsul and Sea Kale running a dead heat for second place. Lord Wembley under his big weight ran well in this race.

There were no fewer than twenty runners for the Lancashire Nursery, in which the Derby winner, Grey Hill, was favourite, in spite of his penalty, from the Mertoy colt. Grey Hill was well in the van until they were a furlong from home, when he faded out suddenly as if he did not stay on. Then followed a great finish, in which Abbot's Luck won by a short head and a head from Giovanni and the Mertoy colt. The last-named can be counted unlucky to have been beaten, for he lost a couple of lengths at least at the start, and came on the scene very late. The winner, who is a good-looking colt by Abbot's Trace, was bought for a trifle over £100 as a yearling by the Doncaster trainer, Vasey, who still has him.

It may be noted that the first, second and third were the three drawn nearest to the stand rails, and practically all the races at this meeting have been won by horses drawn on the stand side. It is a 7lb. advantage to be drawn there when the going is heavy on this course.

Captain Boyd-Rochfort had his second winner of the day when Inscription, in the Pendleton Maiden Plate, beat her only opponent, Silent Gun, who bolted before the start.

THE CLOSING DAY.

To-morrow we close the season, with the Manchester November Handicap as the set piece. The only fresh pieces of news on the race are that Fordney, who was fancied, has been cast in his box and does not run, and that Bayford, who has been favourite for some days, has not yet been backed by his owner. Both the Manton pair, Cross Bow and Tournesol, are to run, but I do not care for the chance of either. Of Mr. S. B. Joel's pair, I prefer the three-year-old, Pantera, to the older Pons Asinorum, who has got a good deal to do with 9st. 2lb up. Gonedry has too much weight, and Mandelieu may not be too dependable. Perfect Son is sure to have followers again, but he may have gone a trifle stale as the result of his exertions this autumn. Myra Gray should run fairly well, and the owner of the Linsolnshire winner, King of Clubs, rather fancies his chance. If the boy can ride Law and Order, the big filly should finish close up.

My own choice is for the three-year-olds, Pantera, Dark Japan and Bayford. Dark Japan is a good deal fancied, and should finish in the first three, but I give a preference for BAYFORD, who is an improved colt since he beat Blancona so handsomely at Haydock Park last month.

GOOD RACING PROMISED.

There will be other good racing to-morrow besides the Handicap. HATAMEN, who has been a little disappointing this season, is well expected to win the Farewell Handicap. The Irish two-year-old, Elphenor, who was second to King Bird in the National Produce Stakes, is a likely runner for the Beresford Stakes, but may not beat another two-year-old in NAYSAN, who has fine speed and has won her last two races in a common canter. The Worsley Nursery is open, and I select PALE HANDS to win. NALDERA should not have a great deal of difficulty in beating Roidore in the Final Plate.

HUNTING NOTES.

THE MEATH HOUNDS.

The good sport was well maintained on Thursday, the 25th, at Slane, when the best hunt in that district for some years was brought off. As usual, Slane Castle demesne and surroundings were well stocked with foxes, one of which was dusted sharply nearly to Little Wood and killed. Subsequently, another took us, with Leslie's gorse on the right, to ground short of Tankardstown. These were, however, only preliminaries to the fine gallop that followed. The morning papers of yesterday dilated on the dense fog in England and on its absence over here, but to do justice to Ireland, it produced so thick a fog on Thursday all round Hussey's gorse that it could not be drawn. All the better, perhaps, as Leslie's was tried instead, and held the "right article." The pace was good into Slane, when our quarry turned back and was hunted at a continuously increasing speed to Gough's Hill, where, fortunately, an opportunity offered itself to stop hounds, with some difficulty, almost at dark. Very few saw this hour's gallop, which was of a very high order and over a very difficult bit of country.

Yesterday the meet was at Dunsany Castle, where a large field were welcomed by Lord and Lady Dunsany. The home coverts held plenty of foxes. Scent was remarkably good, and a first fox was hunted at tip-top speed from the Railway Wood to ground in the boundary ditch of Killeen, on the Smithstown side, and only just saved his brush. A lot of demesne hunting followed from a second visit to Dunsany, from which a left ring through the Round O and back through Dunsany followed before scent gave out. Gerardstown having been drawn blank, hounds went on to Corbalton about 2.30, and spent the afternoon hunting a lot of foxes in the demesne. Afterwards Corbolis was drawn blank, and nothing more was done.

IRISH RACING REVIEW.

Maharajah of Rajpipla Heads List of Owners: Mr. J. J. Parkinson's Dual Success: Figures for the Past Season.

It cannot be said of the past Irish racing season that it passed off as successfully as many of its predecessors. A noticeable feature was the falling off in the attendances, particularly at what may be termed the Metropolitan meetings, which embrace the Curragh, and this diminution became even more marked when, on November 1st, the Betting Tax came into operation. The prevalent depression in trade and the consequent tightness of money has been reflected in the decreasing patronage of racing, and what with the entertainment tax and the betting duty followers of the sport have to pay dearly for their amusement.

From the day of its inception it was made manifest that the betting tax was going to have an injurious effect on the "gates" both here and in England, and though one will not be able to definitely pronounce on its results until next year, there is no doubt that it is anything but popular, and unless it is considerably modified, or, better still, abolished, racing and breeding is likely to suffer severely.

THE STATISTICS.

Strangely enough the list of winning owners in Ireland was headed for the second year in succession by an Indian potentate. Last season it was the Aga Khan and now it is the young Maharajah of Rajpipla, who, thanks to the victories of Embargo in the Irish Two Thousand Guineas and the Irish Derby, comes out on top. Embargo is, of course, Irish-bred, and in this connection it is very satisfactory to find that there has been no falling off in the demand for horses raised in this country which still continue to fetch such big money, thus giving practical proof of the prosperity of the breeding industry, which is such a great national asset.

At the same time it is a matter for regret that some of our principal breeders do not extend a more generous measure of support to the home executives by keeping and running more of their horses here than they do. It must be borne in mind, however, that these great studs, which have been established at great cost and give a good deal of employment, are run as commercial concerns, and the produce for the most part sent to the best markets in the world, where they, as a rule, sell so wonderfully well, and in most cases acquit themselves on the Turf afterwards with such distinction. Another factor is that the prize money in England is so very much greater than in Ireland, and hence the temptation to exploit them there, all of which is very natural.

A SUCCESSFUL OWNER-TRAINER.

All our other classic races were also won by horses trained in England, but in the case of One Thousand Guineas and Oaks, both of which were accounted for by Resplendent, the owner is an Irishman, living in Ireland, and, though Lavengro also won him a good race, Mr. D. Sullivan's prominent position in the table is in the main due to the achievements of Resplendent. As is his wont Mr. J. J. Parkinson in his dual position of owner and trainer did right well, and in point of value and the number of races won did best of the Irish owners, in addition to topping the poll in the trainers' list—a double event to be proud of. With his own horses he won 53 races, worth £4,142, whilst in his capacity of trainer the master of Maddenstown turned out in all 44 winners of 92 races, or 11 more than last year.

Other owners to win over £2,000 were Messrs. J. T. Rogers, J. J. McAuley, H. Ussher, C. Wadia and H. M. Hartigan, Major Dixon and Mrs. E. A. V. Stanley, whose colt, King Bird, came across from Newmarket and fairly spreadeagled a big field of what were considered very useful two-year-olds in the National Produce Stakes.

THE LEADING TRAINERS.

Amongst the trainers it was a very near thing for first place between Messrs. J. J. Parkinson, whose record for the season is referred to above, and Michael Dawson, who, as usual, did excellent service for his patrons, and, though his string at Rathbride Manor included no horse of outstanding class, he managed to account for 74 races, worth in all £6,627.

Mr. J. T. Rogers, the Conyngham Lodge trainer, also had a very good season, during which he accounted for 32 races, which brought in a little over £6,000. The principal money-spinner for the stable was Archway, of whom great things were expected after his fine victory in the Phœnix Plate, but his escutcheon was besmirched a little later when he succumbed to Gainsharp at Leopardstown, and he did no better in the National Produce Stakes last month. Mr. M. Arnott again holds a prominent position in the table, and he is closely followed by Messrs. H. Ussher and H. M. Hartigan.

THE JOCKEYS.

That Moylan would finish up the season as the leading jockey has been an assured fact for some time. Like Joseph Canty, whom he deposes from the championship, Moylan is as versatile as he is accomplished, being equally good on the flat and over hurdles and fences. It was a little hard on him not to get his "century," but in only falling two short of that number he did remarkably well, and attained to a position in the jockeys' list which he had never previously approached. Canty, who rode with all his wonted dash and brilliance, had the fine score of 78 wins, and that good "all-rounder," D. Ward, once more kept up his end right well with 49 successes, or three more than Wing, who, of course, rode exclusively on the flat. But for the accidents which kept him out of the saddle at a busy period of the season, Ward would have been much higher up in the table.

Of the younger generation of jockeys, John Doyle did by far the best, and he bids fair to become as accomplished and successful a horseman as his father was in his day. Mr. T. B. Cullinan leads in the amateur division with 16 wins, Mr. S. H. Dennis coming next, and Mr. J. T. Widger third.

THE SIRES.

Pride of place amongst the stallions is occupied by Argosy, whose son, Embargo, in addition to carrying off our two principal classics, won a good race at Derby a fortnight ago. Argosy was purchased a short time ago by Mrs. Bailey, the owner of Rathbane Stud, Limerick, where his sire, Bachelor's Double, is located.

Appended are summarised tables of the leaders in the various sections:—

LONDON BETTING—YESTERDAY.

In the principal London offices yesterday betting on the last big handicap of the year was fairly brisk. Bayford remains favourite on the 9 to 2 mark, and Perfect Son and Dark Japan were each supported at 6's, while Mandelieu was noticed at his previous rate of 10's. Pons Asinorum, a newcomer into the market, found admirers at 100 to 9. Law and Order during the last twenty-four hours has been backed at varying rates from 100 to 7 to 9 to 1. Careful inquiries last evening have put the market status of this horse at 100 to 8, which is a fair taken and offered quotation. Market Basket and King of Clubs were each befriended for small sums at their quoted prices. Details:—

COURSING THRILLS.

KEEN LADDIE WINS THE IRISH CUP.

PURSE AND PLATE DIVIDED.

From Our Special Correspondent.

Keen Laddie won the National Produce Stakes; last season he took the Duggan and Belsize Cups, and yesterday at Clounanna he achieved a great triumph in the Irish Cup—great in every sense, seeing that he won it on practically three legs. It was one of the most remarkable performances in the history of the Cup.

After running his second course there was always a doubt as to whether the injury which he then sustained would cause his withdrawal at the end of each of the other trials which he survived. Yesterday afternoon, when he was picked up after beating Charley's Fancy, his chances appeared to have entirely vanished. The injury to his chest had become more apparent; one of his feet was bleeding; he was limping badly, and, having fallen into a drain, he presented a sorry spectacle—a picture of abject misery.

He had done splendidly, however, in beating Charley's Fancy, for there had been serious misgivings as to whether he would be able to go to slips with the white and blue. But in the interval between the fifth and deciding rounds he had recovered sufficiently to justify his owner in giving him his chance in the supreme test against Kilclooney. Not only did he raise the flag; he beat his rival in hollow style.

There could not have been a more thrilling spectacle for the coursing enthusiast than this game greyhound battling out that decider against tremendous odds, odds which would have brought about the downfall of a less resolute and finished runner.

For three parts of the run up they ran shoulder to shoulder. Then Kilclooney showed slightly in front (about a quarter of a length); they were soon dead level again, for the brindled made a tremendous effort. But never subsequently did his challenger get in front, for, coming better out of a jostle, Keen Laddie shot to the head of affairs. He soon had a length between them, and when he brought round the hare had increased the advantage to three good lengths. That settled it. Kilclooney had shot his bolt.

Around swept Keen Laddie for the important second score. He placed Kilclooney, but the latter looked on and lost his chance, and Keen Laddie running with great fire drove pussy to the fawn, who scored his only point by bringing his teeth into play—a decisive victory for the Mullingar dog.

In a sense it was a disappointing wind-up to the best meeting which has been held at Clounanna. It was a short course, but the manner in which the gallant Midlander pulled through was most impressive, and everyone was well pleased and satisfied that the best dog had won.

Though Kilclooney reached the last round, his style of coursing did not appeal to the experienced onlooker. No doubt, he had been hard run all through, and in the closing stages he hung off his game a lot. Indeed, a cleverer and more determined dog than Victorious Tune would have put him out in the fifth round. But the son of Lively Tune failed to reproduce his form of the previous two days, and was well beaten when the other began to look sideways at the hare at the top of the field. Charley's Fancy did exceptionally well to get so far, but he made a poor show against the ultimate winner.

The Purse and Plate were divided, Open Fire and Magill sharing the honours in the Purse. Spirit of Mischief was not sent to slips in view of her engagement in the Greenall Cup, but for which she would likely have given Magill some trouble. Mr. Harte's pair, Killybegs Boy and Hidden Doctor, divided the Plate.

To the end the hares ran splendidly, and the coursing was again brilliant. Mr. Davin was very happy in his decisions, and O'Donoghue was at his best with the slips. It may be remarked that last evening it was announced to the Press that the value of the Purse and Plate had been increased, the winner in each receiving £40 and the money for the others being increased in proportion.

Judge, Mr. Davin; slipper, W. O'Donoghue.

THE IRISH CUP—For 64 all-ages. Winner, £200 and piece of plate; second, £80; two dogs, £20 each; four dogs, £10 each; eight dogs, £5 each.

DESCRIPTIONS OF COURSES.

FIFTH ROUND.

KILCLOONEY beat Victorious Tune. In an excellent slip Victorious Tune changed sides; but Kilclooney was only a bare length in front when the hare was reached, getting the turn on the outside. For a time the white collar was scoring the faster; but Victorious Tune challenged, and began to reduce his arrears, and, with Kilclooney inclined to stand off his game, his position began to look somewhat serious. The red collar, however, had too much leeway to make up, and when a stout hare beat the Midlander, Kilclooney had a good bit in hand, the result of his strong beginning.

KEEN LADDIE beat Charley's Fancy. It was a great buckle for speed, and they ran level for 100 yards. Half-way up Charley's Fancy showed nearly a length in front, but they were running locked together nearing the hare, when Keen Laddie forged up for a lead of four lengths. Charley's Fancy also lost the second, and it was all over, for Keen Laddie rattled up a strong sequence, and had the course well won when he toppled over into the drain, and the other went on to chase a racing hare home.

DECIDING COURSE.

KEEN LADDIE beat Kilclooney. From another grand slip they ran shoulder to shoulder for a long way; but Keen Laddie, coming best out of a slight cannon, drew clear, and, gradually widening the gap, swept round with his hare a long three lengths to the good. He also took the second. Then Kilclooney had a chance; but, quick as lightning, Keen Laddie was there again, and as he used his game Kilclooney legged her—a highly meritorious performance by the winner.

TO-DAY'S SPORTING FIXTURES.

MUNSTER'S VISIT TO BELFAST.

FIRST INTERPROVINCIAL RUGBY MATCH.

The most important event in to-day's Rugby programme is the meeting between Ulster and Munster in the first of the season's interprovincial matches, which will be played on the Ravenhill ground, Belfast. The big improvement in Southern Rugby this season, particularly in back play, points to the match being a much closer affair than many might imagine. Both sides have undergone changes from the teams originally selected, but the Northerners are the greater sufferers in this respect. R. M. Byers, the Oxford centre three-quarter, and G. A. McIlwaine, the Cambridge forward, are unable to play, and their places will be filled by B. A. Barr, a N.I.F.C. and Richmond player, and J. W. Lusk, who has been doing good work with Edinburgh University. A. C. Douglas has also declared off owing to illness, and his place at wing three-quarter will be taken by J. C. Hardy (Royal Corps of Signals). On the Munster side, W. O'Connor (Garryowen) cannot play, and W. Murphy, the Cork Constitution centre, comes on.

DUBLIN v. EDINBURGH.

The inter-University match between Dublin and Edinburgh promises to be the chief attraction of the five senior games set down for decision in local circles. The Scottish side, judging by their form this season, are a very strong combination, and they are bringing over their full side, which will include J. S. Smith, the wing three-quarter of the famous Oxford team of two years ago, and three South African students, of whom Du Toit is, perhaps, best known. Trinity will be strengthened by the inclusion of R. J. Cussen, their captain, whose first appearance it will be since his injury in the Bective match. The game gives every promise of providing much bright play, and should draw a large gathering to the College Park.

Bective Rangers have Queen's (Belfast) as visitors to Donnybrook, and though the Northern students are experiencing a lean season, they will doubtless give the Rangers a close game.

THE OTHER GAMES.

Lansdowne play Clontarf at headquarters, and, while the Northsiders are improving in every match, the home side, even though they will be without W. E. Crawford, should prove successful. Monkstown play Wanderers at Sydney Parade, and here a keen game should be the outcome. At Williamstown, Blackrock College entertain Palmerston, and unless the Clonskeagh club improve a lot on their previous form, the College XV. should win with ease. There is a full list of matches in both the Junior and Minor Leagues, while all the schools are fully occupied.

ASSOCIATION PROSPECTS.

LIGHT PROGRAMME IN FREE STATE LEAGUE.

There is no outstanding match in the Free State League for to-day, but, with Jacobs visiting Bohemians, there should be an interesting struggle at Dalymount Park. Shelbourne have to go to St. James's Park, but collateral form suggests that Shelbourne should secure the points. Dundalk will be at home to Bray Unknowns, and this will likely be the closest match of the series. To-morrow Shamrock Rovers play Athlone at Milltown, but after the Rovers' hollow victory over Bohemians, Athlone's prospects do not appear to be bright.

The draw for the first round of the Irish Cup could not have been a more attractive one. The clashing of Celtic and the Islanders, Cliftonville v. Linfield, Newry and Ards, and Larne and Glentoran furnishes a rare problem, and it will be with some misgivings that Distillery will go to Seaview to play Crusaders.

ROWING.

DUBLIN UNIVERSITY BOAT CLUB. MICHAELMAS TERM RACES.

The annual Michaelmas Term races were held yesterday at Island Bridge by the Dublin University Boat Club. Owing to the number of entries for the Usher Cups (presented by Mr. R. H. Usher in memory of the late Mr. F. Usher) two preliminary heats were rowed off on Thursday. The races were rowed in fixed seat tub pairs, and are chiefly for the junior members of the club. This year an exceptionally large number of new members have joined, and, judging by the form displayed yesterday, the club ought to be able to put several good junior crews on the water during the regatta season. In addition to the pair races an interesting match between fours representing the Medical and Engineering took place, and resulted in an easy win for the latter crew.

At the conclusion of a pleasant afternoon's sport tea was served in the Long Room, following which Mr. R. H. Usher presented the cups to the winning pair, N. S. Klass and W. J. Hamill.

BADMINTON.

LEINSTER V. ULSTER.

The meeting of the representatives of Leinster and Ulster at Elm Park, Merrion, last night, provided a very interesting and even contest, and after eight games played, the result is still in doubt, each side winning four games. The issue will be decided at four o'clock this afternoon, when J. D. McCallum and Miss Beattie (Ulster) will be opposed by R. H. Lambert and Miss Homan (Leinster). Several of the games fluctuated a great deal, and the final game, between R. A. Goff and W. Hamilton (Leinster) and J. A. Davidson and J. D. McCallum (Ulster) was intensely exciting, the Leinster pair making a great recovery in the last game, to win after being led 14-9. Goff was also concerned in a very close match in the Singles against O. L. Goldsmith, and pulled the game off after being 7 down in the third game.

Betting—"Sporting Chronicle" and "Sporting Life"—4 to 1 agst. Grey Hill, 6 to 1 Mertoy colt, 7 to 1 Residue 100 to 9 Voice Box, 100 to 8 each Sunderland, Cinq a Sept, and Devonshire House; 100 to 7 each ABBOT'S LUCK, Eclair, Giovanni, and Rosalia; 20 to 1 Firmament, 25 to 1 any other.

The colours could not be discerned until half-way, where Sulky, Shoestring, Abbot's Luck, Grey Hill, and Osaka filly were practically racing in a line. At the distance Abbot's Luck took command from Giovanni, while Grey Hill, Shoestring and Sulky were beaten. Mertoy colt raced into third place close home, and in a thrilling finish Abbot's Luck held off Giovanni by a short head; a head separated second and third. Devonshire House was fourth, Rosalia fifth, Osaka filly sixth, Sulky seventh, Residue eighth, King Bird ninth, Grey Hill tenth and Pleasant Thoughts last.

CURRAGH TRAINING NOTES.

THE CURRAGH, Friday.

A fine morning.

BRABAZON'S Glenanaar, Ballyfinaghy, Lord Burdon and Dunbarry Star were usefully employed.

BEHAN'S Parkgate, Khedive, Breaker, Galahad, and Lasso had bouts of healthy exercise.

COOMBS' Saorstat and Carlovia galloped a mile and a quarter.

DOYLE'S Minnetonka, Tranquillete, Merrie Memories, and others of the team had road exercise.

FORDRED'S Molloy, Geraint and No Deceit covered a mile and a quarter.

MACAULAY'S La Petite Chose, Eager Hen and The Dole cantered.

PERRY'S Blue Look Out, Mistress Purl, Liam Orb, Mohezanna and others of the team exercised on the road.

INTERNATIONAL BOXING.

ENGLISH CHAMPION AT PHŒNIX PARK.

GUARD BEATS LONDON POLICEMAN.

A feature of the boxing tournament held in the Dépot, Phœnix Park, last night, in aid of the Civic Guard Benevolent Fund, was the reappearance in public of Irish University boxers, who have confined their activities for some time past to inter-University contests.

The Dublin University representative, T. Millar, is a welter-weight of much promise. He is fast, shows good footwork, and punches cleanly with both hands. The other University representative, Cronin, of University College, Dublin, though lacking experience, gave a game display.

Of the two big fights of the night, one came up to expectations and one did not. Marshall, the British and European welterweight title-holder, gave an electrifying display against Guard Chase, the Irish middles champion, whom he beat on points. His footwork and left-hand punching were good, while his short arm work at close quarters frequently worried his opponent. Chase fought with determination and made the most of his few opportunities. He rallied in splendid fashion in the last two rounds of an interesting contest.

Constable Gibson, on the other hand, never touched form to justify his reputation as champion of the London Police, Flanagan easily holding the upper hand throughout the contest. The only other cross-Channel boxer, A. Rich, of Cardiff, was clever and shifty, but lacked aggression, and Guard Murphy packed too much power in his right hand for the Welshman.

Details:—

FEATHERWEIGHT.

Pte. O'Donnell (A.A.A.) beat J. Cronin (University College B.C.), the latter's seconds throwing in the towel in the third round. Cronin was only a novice, but put up a game display, his retirement being the result of a misunderstanding.

BANTAMWEIGHTS.

D. Behan (Phœnix B.C.) beat Pte. Walsh (A.A.A.) on points. Behan was faster at the start, but was not very fit, and slowed down considerably under his opponent's straight lefts. Burns was also lacking in stamina, however, and Behan lasted the better to earn the verdict.

P. Dalton (Limerick beat M. O'Hehir (G.S. Rly. B.C.) on points. After a slow start, in which both men placed too much reliance on the left, the bout developed into a very hard hitting contest, in which Dalton, the smaller man, showed great pluck, and was a popular winner.

LIGHTWEIGHT.

T. Hickey (Phœnix B.C.) knocked out Pte. Spittle (A.A.A.) in the first round. Spittle was obviously inexperienced, and Hickey knocked him out with a left uppercut in the first session.

WELTERWEIGHT.

T. Millar (Dublin University) beat C. Fagan (Gt. S. B.C.), the latter's seconds throwing in the towel in the second round. Millar had all the better of the opening round, and Fagan's seconds threw in the towel, when their man went down under a series of body punches early in the second.

MIDDLEWEIGHTS.

Guard J. Murphy (G.S.) beat A. Rich (Cardiff) on points. The Irishman was very clever in the first round, and Rich could not lay a glove on him, but when Murphy assumed the offensive in the second the Welshman showed much cleverness in stalling, and made Murphy miss repeatedly, though, but for an occasional uppercut he did little scoring himself. The Guard continued to have the best of matters, his right being always a menace to the Welshman, who had his eye opened early in the fifth round. Murphy was a clear winner on points.

Ben Marshall beat Guard Chase on points. Marshall showed rare speed, and scored with snappy lefts to the head, and right swings to the body. Chase landed an occasional light left lead, and also got home some left counters when the Englishman came in, but, generally speaking, he could make little of the Englishman's defence. Marshall forced the fighting in the third session, and outboxed Chase at close quarters, but the latter fought on with great determination, and early in the fifth round staggered his man with a right swing to the jaw. Following up his advantage, he made desperate efforts to land with right hooks, and held his own well until the finish.

HEAVYWEIGHT.

Guard Flanagan knocked out Constable Gibson in the fifth round. Flanagan had all the better of the opening rounds, in which Gibson seemed slow, and, possessing as his chief attribute, unlimited powers of absorbing punishment. He took a count of four in the third round, and was never really in the picture. He went down under a shower of right hooks and swings in the fifth session, and was unlucky in just failing to rise before the count.

Dr. John Wilkinson, who has been appointed as Medical Officer of Health and Surgeon to the Barry District Hospital, South Wales, was born in County Kildare. He won several championships as a sprinter, and captained the National University Rugby team in 1919 when they defeated Trinity College. He is only 26 years of age.

GAELIC GAMES.

OPENING OF DUBLIN SENIOR LEAGUES.

JUNIOR INTER-PROVINCIAL AT WATERFORD.

BY PAT'O.

The opening ties of a new competition are always interesting, for clubs are zealous in securing the all-important initial points. Dublin County Committee make a start with the 1926-7 Senior Leagues at Croke Park to-morrow, and ties will be played through regularly to the opening of the 1927 championship games next spring. Kevins and Young Ireland are a well-matched pair in the Hurling League. The South City men are faster and neater, but Irelands—drawn from the old Grocers and Commercial clubs—have the dash and weight suited for the present heavy conditions. A close finish is expected here, but the football match fixed for 1 p.m. between Garda and McKee, is the tit-bit of the programme. Keenest rivalry prevails between the Guards and the leading Army team. The Guards have been in invincible form recently. Including ten men of All Ireland reputation, they are deemed the strongest individual team in Ireland to-day. Their one-sided triumph over O'Tooles in the 1926 League final stamped them as a side of rare merit, and, on that day's play, many good judges ranked them with Kerry. Sherlock, Kirwan, Russell, Shea and Scanlan are behind, and these backs are fast, strong and reliable. Colleran has few superiors at centre field, whilst Stanley and Megan in attack are too well known for comment. McKee are not obsessed by the record or reputation of their rivals from the joint civic forces. The Army team have some brilliant footballers, including Paul Doyle, Higgins Brothers, and Goff, of the Kildare All Ireland fifteen. With Captain Murphy, of Cavan, well supported in attack, McKee can pull out a formidable side, who expect to do well in next season's games. They hope to repeat their hurlers' recent surprise victory over Guards, and, at worst, are confident of giving them a fast, hard hour's play.

At Waterford, Kerry and Dublin (second strings) meet in the Junior Championship semi-final for 1926. Kerry's secretary assured us after the senior final that he had a team at home quite as good. League football in North Kerry has brought out a wealth of talent, and the Kingdom men travel with supreme confidence in following the good example of the seniors. Against them Dublin sends down a widely selected side. Half-a-dozen clubs are represented from outlying townships. Crumlin, Clondalkin, Howth, Clontarf, Ballyboden and Milltown have strong clubs, but their combination must improve on their ragged display against Kildare in the Leinster final. The team is being reorganised, and the players have benefited by earlier games together. The forwards shot wildly when last seen out, and must settle down quickly to their work to have a chance against Kerry, who are reputed to be clever fielders and accurate before goal. The winners meet Armagh in the final. The Ulster team made a favourable impression when they drew with Sligo on the occasion of the Kerry-Kildare game. Since then, they had a hollow victory at Cavan, and have a big, enthusiastic Northern following. The Armagh team is genuinely junior; very clever at ground work, their catching and placing can be improved, and they move with great freedom before goal. Their final with to-morrow's winners must provide a first-class game.

The Army Hurling final for the Chaplain's Cup produced a stirring finish during the week, when the 20th Battalion (Kilkenny) soundly beat a much-fancied team from G.H.Q. Henry Meagher and Power, the inter-county players, were a big asset to the 20th, who finished with great dash. An all-Army selection will, at the moment, run any provincial selection close, and such a match would be an attractive fixture during this "slack" season in big games. Schools' Leagues have important ties over the week-end.

ATHLETICS.

NATIONAL ATHLETIC AND CYCLING ASSOCIATION OF IRELAND.

A meeting of the Standing Committee was held on Thursday, 25th instant, at 56 Dame street. Mr. J. J. Keane presided. Also present:—Dr. J. M. Ryan, Dr. R. J. Rowlette; Messrs. T. Nagle, T.D.; E. Fleming, H. M. Finlay, M. P. Farnan, S. O'Breasail, and P. S. O'Callanain (Runaidhe).

A discussion took place in regard to the proposed formation of a Provincial Council for Connaught, and arrangements were made in connection with the meeting, which was definitely fixed for Tuam on Sunday, 5th December. The desirability of securing the co-operation of the Connaught G.A.A. in the project was expressed, and it was agreed that invitations to the meeting should also be extended to the Chairman and Secretary of each G.A.A. County Board in the province.

Arising out of a communication from the Cork County Board regarding the Cross-Country Championships for 1927, it was decided that individual entries, subject to the usual limitation, would be accepted for the Senior Championship only, and that the inter-club and inter-county competitions would be continued as heretofore.

D. M'Keown, Pembroke Labour A.C., appeared in connection with the handicapping of road races and drew attention to several events the handicapping of which it was alleged was irregular and unfair to certain of the competitors. The Council decided to investigate the complaints immediately.

DUBLIN RATHER BUSIER.

FAVOURITES STILL EASING.

The week-end market was rather more briskly dealt in on 'Change than on other days of the week, with a generally easier tendency in market favourites like Guinness and Courtaulds Ordinary Shares, but in both cases prices closed over lowest. There were some irregular price movements in the Funds, British and local. Banks closed steady. Guinness Ord. Shares were pressed for sale on London account both for cash and the next account, 9th prox., but later became harder. British and Irish Steam Pref. were firm without further change. Rails were practically neglected, with a little support for Great Southern issues. Dublin United Tram issues were rather on offer. Dunlop Rubber Ord. did not further alter until end of the day, when the price improved. Walpole Brothers Pref. were materially better. These shares will become the first charge on the company when the Deb. issue, already notified for extinction, is paid off presently. Manufacturing Shares were exceedingly idle. Courtaulds were again rather pressed, and Bradford Dyers also lost ground. Thread Shares were quite neglected, but Fine Cotton Spinners recovered the dividend. Tobaccos were again almost neglected. Oils were firm, and Irish Times Pref. further advanced to 74 x.d. 2s. 9d. per share. Oils marked time. Merchants' Warehousing were less firm.

LONDON STEADY.

VERY LITTLE DOING.

The volume of business put through in the London Stock Markets, as a whole, yesterday was decidedly quiet, but, despite the slackness of interest, a generally steady tone was maintained. A good feature was the firm tone of the gilt-edged market, where the 3½ p.c. Conversion advanced on a good inquiry, while others displayed a steady to firm appearance. A generally steady and quiet tone ruled in Foreign Government Stocks, and closing values for the most part showed little alteration from their previous quotations. A slightly easier tendency developed in certain issues among Home Rails, but with a few exceptions final values showed no movement. Little of interest transpired in Colonial and Foreign Rails. Industrials, apart from a few individual features, were quiet and steady. Whiteleys were again an active centre, but quotations moved erratically. Among Textiles, Courtaulds were a fraction firmer, while Nuera Ord. also went forward. Tobaccos generally were quiet. Iron, Coal and Steels were quiet and alterations of an irregular character. Among Oils, Apex continued a good feature. South African Mining issues displayed a somewhat firmer tendency, while Tin Shares hardened on the improvement in the quotation for the metal.

PROPOSED REORGANISATION OF ARMSTRONGS.

We are officially informed that an important step is being taken in connection with the affairs of the eminent Tyneside business of Armstrong Whitworths, and that proposals for reorganisation will be laid before the debenture holders, note holders, and shareholders as soon as the advisory committee, which is considering the matter, has completed its inquiry and approved of a scheme. The committee is composed of the following representatives of finance and commerce:—Sir George May, Secretary of the Prudential Assurance Co., Ltd. (Chairman); Mr. Archibald H. Campbell, Chairman of the London Stock Exchange; Mr. J. H. Clifford Johnston, director Mercantile Investment and General Trust Co., Ltd.; Mr. R. P. Sloan, Chairman Newcastle-upon-Tyne Electric Supply Co., Ltd.; Mr. J. Proctor Green, joint managing director Refuge Assurance Co., Ltd., Manchester, and Mr. J. Frater Taylor, Vice-Chairman W. G. Armstrong, Whitworth and Co., Ltd.

PARA PLANTATIONS.

Letters of allotment have been posted in connection with the recent issue of 2,000,000 Preferred Ordinary Shares of 2s. each at par in Para Plantations, Ltd.

STORES DEVELOPMENTS.

William Whiteley's shares continued the outstanding feature in the Industrial market, changing hands up to 96s. 6¾d. on what was described as buying for control. Rumours were persistent concerning the negotiations which are believed to be in progress. The names of Selfridges and the Drapery Trust were mentioned, while Mr. James White, of the Beecham Trust, is also reported to be taking an active part in the proceedings. William Whiteley, Ltd., has a share capital of £900,100 in £1 shares, of which £450,000 is in Ordinary and £450,000 in 4½ per cent. Cumulative Preference, the balance being management shares. There is also £900,000 in 4 per cent. Debenture Stock. For each of the last three years 25 per cent. has been distributed on the Ordinary Shares, and on account of the current year 5 per cent. was paid last month.

TATE AND LYLE'S DIVIDEND.

After placing £100,000 to general reserve, the directors of Tate and Lyle, sugar refiners and manufacturers, propose to recommend at the meeting to be held on 9th December a dividend on the Ordinary Shares of 6 per cent. for the year, subject to tax, placing £90,000 to dividend reserve, carrying forward £52,018. No interim payment was made on the Ordinary capital of £3,312,000 in May last, the directors having decided to postpone consideration of dividend until the close of the year. For 1924-25 the full dividend was 13¼ per cent., including an interim of 4 per cent., but only £50,000 was placed to reserve and nothing went to dividend reserve, the carry forward being £52,732.

LANCASHIRE ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER.

The directors have decided to issue to the holders of 7 per cent. Cumulative Participating Preference Shares and Ordinary Shares 250,000 7 per cent. Cumulative Participating Preference Shares of £1 each at the price of 24s. per share.

LIVERPOOL MARINE INSURANCE.

It is announced that the Liverpool Marine and General Insurance Company, Limited, have entered into a preliminary agreement with a strong composite tariff office for the future working of the company, under which the office referred to has guaranteed the current and future policies of the Liverpool Marine and General.

LEYLAND MOTORS, LTD.

We are informed by the Secretary of Leyland Motors, Ltd., that the various rumours suggesting that negotiations are taking place with a view to the fusion or amalgamation of that company with certain other well-known motor vehicle manufacturers are without foundation.

PROVINCIAL EXCHANGES.

BIRMINGHAM.—Motor market slightly ragged. Humbers rallied. Rovers better. Napiers strong. Standards further weakened. Triumphs easier. Lucas rising. Dunlops very firm. Austins 6/1½, Debentures 88⅞; Bluemels, 39/9; S.T.D., 4/4½; Enfields, 29/3; Humbers, 38/10½; Lucas, 72/6; Dennis, 116/6; Napiers, 37/-; Rolls-Royce, 36/9; Rovers, 7/3; Singers, 44/9; Standards, 34/-; Swifts, 2/3; Triumphs, 28/9; Dunlops, 31/9; Parent Deferred, 33/6.

MANCHESTER.—Textiles still firm. Advances in Dyers and Spinners. Bleachers, 44/6-45/-; Calicos, 31/-31/3; Bradford Dyers, 48/6-49/-; Sewing Cottons, 54/-54/6; Fine Spinners, 45/-45/6; "Slubbers," 7/3-7/6; Coats, 60/-60/6; Ship Canal, 15/9-16/3; Velvets, 22/-23/-; Dunlops, 31/6-31/9; Amalgamated Cottons, 6/-6/3; Hoyles, 28/6-29/6; Nuera Silk, 36/-; do. Def., 24/3.

LONDON CHANGES.

A firm tone prevailed in the Gilt-edged section as a whole. Conversion Loan 3½ p.c. were in good request, and at the close an improvement of ¼ was recorded to 74⅝. The 4½ p.c. were quoted ex the div. at 93⅝.

Among Foreign Government stocks, Peruvian Corp. Pref. moved up smartly to 53, or 1½ points firmer. Brazil 4 p.c. 1889 dropped back to 53, or a point easier.

RAILS IRREGULAR.

Apart from Midland, which were firmer, Home Rails were quiet, and a trifle easier in places. Southern Def. Ord. slipped back to 44, or ½ lower, and Metro. Districts at 56½ were also ½ lower. Underground £1 shares also eased the turn, and at the close a decline of 6d. was registered to 12s. 6d. Great Westerns and North-Easterns were content to repeat their overnight levels, but Mid. Ord. were the turn higher, being quoted ½ to the good at 73½ at the close.

Colonial and Foreign Rails were quiet, and final values showed but little change. Cordoba Central 2nd Pref. were a good spot, and the final value of 54½ showed a gain of 1½ points. Leopoldina also hardened the turn to 52, or ½ better, while Buenos Ayres Great Southern gained a similar amount to 99½. Mexican 6 p.c. Pref., on the other hand, dropped back to 10, or a point easier.

RUBBERS DULL.

A dull tone prevailed in the Rubber share market yesterday, while the volume of business transacted continued on a small scale. Price movements were not numerous, but in the majority of instances movements, where recorded, were against holders. A steady and quiet tone ruled in the Commodity market. Spot and Dec. sold 1s. 7¼d. lb., January to March fetched 1s. 7¼d., April to June 1s. 8⅛d. per lb. In the Share market, Batu Tiga and Bukit Kajang were both 1s. 3d. lower, while Glenbervie dropped back sharply to 50s., or 2s. 6d. lower. Highlands dropped 7½d. to 53s. 9d., and Linggi at 48s. 1½d. x.d and Manchester North Borneo at 37s. 6d. c.d. were both 1s. 3d. down. Pilmoor also lost 1s. 3d. on the day to 50s. c.d., and Seafield at 46s. 3d. were 1s. 10½d. lower. Sembilan dropped 2s. 6d. to 77s. 6d., and Tebrau lost a like amount to 60s. x.r. and c.d. Un Sua Betong, on the other hand, were marked 7½d. firmer to 93s. 9d., while Sialang closed showing an advance of 1s. 3d. to 61s. 3d. x.d.

TEA SHARES BETTER.

Although the volume of business put through in the Tea share market yesterday continued on an extremely small scale, a distinctly firmer tendency was evident, and several appreciable improvements were registered by the close of the day. While in a few instances the final level was the turn lower, the majority of movements were in favour of holders.

OIL SHARES ACTIVE.

As on the previous day, business in Oil Shares yesterday was not particularly brisk, although firmness continued to be displayed, and a few specialities were selected for special attention, to which prices were not slow to respond. Business in the recognised leaders was only on a moderate scale, but in the absence of sales and with a fair demand existing prices further strengthened. Shells, from the overnight's level of 4⅛, improved to 4 3/16, and the bearer shares also gained 1/16 at 4 3/16, the firmness of these shares reflecting the favourable impression created by the declaration of an extra dividend by the Shell Union Oil Corporation. Royal Dutch were easier at the start at 30⅞, but advanced steadily to 31, the result of the day's business being an improvement of ⅛. Shells Unions, however, receded ⅛ to 31⅞. Renewed strength was displayed by Anglo-Persians, which were well bought, and rose ⅛ to 6 9/16, while the 8 p.c. and 9 p.c. Prefs. strengthened to 26s. 9d. and 28s. 4½d., respectively. Burmahs were also a good market, rising 1/16 to 5 15/16. Business in Mexican Eagles was small, but, although the Ord. weakened at one time to 18s. 6d., they rallied to the overnight level of 18s. 9d. In the Trinidad group an active business was transacted in Apex and Trinidad Leaseholds, both shares being in keen demand. Apex rose to 5 19/32 bid and left off with a gain of ⅛ at 5⅝, and Leaseholds also improved ⅛ to 4⅛. Transactions in Venezuelans were generally on a small scale. British Controlled Common weakened at one time to 4s. 6d., but rallied to the overnight level of 4s. 9d., while the Pref., after touching 8s. 1½d., finally registered a small gain at 8s. 6d. V.O.C. Holdings were well maintained, the Ord. at 3 11/32 and the Prefs. at 3 11/32.

POOR SHOWING IN INDUSTRIALS

Apart from a few specialities the Industrial market finished the week quietly. Movements were again of an irregular nature. William Whiteleys were subject to considerable fluctuation, the Ord. shares being marked down to 80s. at one time, following the denial that negotiations were proceeding for an amalgamation with Selfridge. Buyers came forward at this level, and they finished with a net loss of ½ at 4 7/16. Other Stores and Drapery descriptions remained quietly firm. A smart improvement was witnessed for General Electrics, which closed 1s. 9d. to the good at 31s. 3d. Other Electric Equipment issues were uncertain. There were few buyers about for Coal, Steel and Engineering descriptions, and, apart from B.S.A. at 17s. and Pease and Partners at 16s. 3d., the tone of this section was dull. Few changes attended Textiles, where Fine Spinners met with supporting orders from the North, and finished 1s. higher at 45s. 9d.; Bradford Dyers, Calico Printers, English Sewing Cottons and J. and P. Coats were unaltered. Of the Artsilks Nueras firmed up somewhat, the Ord. to 37s. 9d. and the Def. to 26s. Courtaulds showed little variation, and closed steady at 5 3/16.

Carreras were alternately buyers and sellers at 16⅞ in the Tobacco group, where trading was anything but brisk. "Bats." hovered around 95s. 9d., and "Imps." scarcely moved from 115s. 4½d. Breweries were irregular. Guinness fell 5 to 600. Newspaper issues came in for renewed attention on bonus talk. Associated Deferred put on 1/16 to 8 3/16, "Mirrors" 1/16 to 8, and "Pictorials" 1/16 to 4 7/16. "Daily Mail" Trust were also in strong demand, rising 2s. 6d. to 66s. 6d. On the other hand, Allied Ord. eased slightly to 53s. Nitrates lacked friends, Lautaros being a weak spot with a further decline of ⅛ to 3. Telegraphs and Telephones were featureless, but among Wireless Marconis rallied 3d. to 16s. 6d. Sudan Plantations further improved to 5 3/16 in the Land group, where Forestals hardened to 23s. 9d. Shipping shares were quiet but firm, with Court Lines favoured at 32s. There was little doing among Insurances, and Banks were devoid of any important change. Foodstuffs and Caterers were scarcely mentioned, though Liptons hardened further to 11s. 9d. Buyers were in evidence for Dennis Bros., which improved 1/16 to 5⅞, with Napiers marked up a similar amount to 1⅞.

In the Miscellaneous department, the buying movement in Dunlops was resumed; the price rose 4½d. to 32s., with quite a number of shares changing hands. Lever Pref. issues also came in for good support, both the Sevens and Eights putting on 6d. to 20s. 1½d. and 19s. respectively. Gamage Ord. slipped back 1s. to 20s. 6d. The Chemical Combine shares were very firm, with Nobel Ord. at 37s. 6d. and the Def. at 18s. 7½d., both a few pence harder. British Aluminiums eased to 47s. 9d., but Wall Paper Def. stiffened to 32s. 7½d. Swedish Match "B" Shares lost 1/16 at 15 1/16. Among recent issues, Manbre Sugar new Ord. advanced to 49s. 6d. and the Def. to 12, with Swears and Wells Pref. dealt in at 3d. premium.

INSURANCE SHARES.

LONDON METALS MARKET.

TIN RISING.

Value of TIN improved in face of higher foreign advices combined with a steady demand, cash on balance showing a net gain of 50/- and forward 20/- per ton, compared with the closing rates of Thursday. Standard cash quoted £315 10/- to £315 15/-, three months £303 5/- to £303 10/-, settlement price £315 10/-; 700 tons sold, cash at £315 to £315 10/-, three months £303 to £304, finally £303 10/-. English ingots quoted £313 10/- to £314. COPPER generally steady with dealings on a moderate scale. Standard cash quoted £56 15/- to £56 17/6, three months £57 10/- to £57 12/6, settlement price £56 15/-; 700 tons sold, cash at £56 15/-, three months £57 12/6 to £57 11/3 and £57 12/6; electros quoted £65 to £65 10/-, wire bars £65 10/-, best selected £64 15/-, S.S. £92. LEAD slightly irregular but steady on balance; 800 tons sold; good soft foreign pig December at £29 6/3, January £29 10/-, February £29 11/3, March £29 12/6 to £29 11/3, settlement price £29 5/-, English £30 15/-. SPELTER quiet but fully steady on reserved sellers; 300 tons sold December at £33 12/6, February £33 11/3 to £33 12/5, March £33 11/3, settlement rice £33 12/5 per ton.

GLASGOW IRON AND STEEL.—It is suggested that steel works may resume about the middle of December. There is still a fair demand from foundries for cast iron machinery; scrap at 85/- to 87/6, but demand will probably fall off when blast furnaces resume. Steel scrap 65/-, heavy wrought 70/-, both in request.

LONDON MINING MARKET QUIET.

VAGARIES OF THE FRANC.

Business in the Stock Exchange was not on a large scale yesterday, and this was not surprising in view of the experience of the previous day, and seeing that it was the last dealing day of the week. Public interest in the Mining market is only gradually returning, and its growth is checked by the vagaries of the franc. Rand Mines, Goldfields and New State Areas were all better, and African and European continued in steady demand on the diamond possibilities, the latest news of discoveries being regarded as promising. Sub-Nigel was subject to profit-taking, and as the Cape was no longer a keen buyer the price fell away. T.C.L., however, were wanted, and other Platinum issues were steady. There was not a great deal of business passing in Rhodesians, but Chartered and Tanganyika sympathised with other Paris shares and closed harder. Cam and Motor were also better, and Sherwood Starr were well spoken of, though they closed without quotable alteration. Kasempa and Northern Rhodesia eased the turn, but Congo Border and the other Northern issues held their ground. The tone at the close was firm. In the Diamond department, De Beers opened at the overnight's level, but support was forthcoming from Paris and also from other centres, including the Cape, and the quotation rapidly went ahead, closing only a trifle below the best of the day and appreciably above Thursday's closing; the Pref. also hardened, but Jagersfontein and Consolidated Diamonds were without change. Although the price of tin was finally £2 10s. higher at £315 12s. 6d. per ton, which is £6 7s. 6d. above the level of a week ago, the share market remained almost entirely indifferent. Business even in the Eastern descriptions was on a very moderate scale, and movements on balance were irregular in character and mostly insignificant in extent. Kramat Pulai were in demand, seeing that the shares are full of the 1s. dividend and 1s. bonus recently announced, but Ipoh, Renong, and one or two others were easier in the absence of demand. Coppers were harder under the lead of Rio Tinto, and among Russians, Russian Mining went ahead, while Canadians presented a very firm appearance. Colsing prices:—

THE MONEY MARKET.

TREASURY BILL RATE LOWER.

Tenders were received at the Bank of England yesterday for £45,000,000 Treasury bills, and, as anticipated, they were allotted on more favourable terms to the Government. Tenders dated Monday next at £98 16s. 5d. and above receive in full, and tenders dated Tuesday to Saturday at £98 16s. 8d. get about 65 per cent., above in full. The average rate indicated by these figures is about 4 15/32 p.c., as compared with nearly 4 15/32 p.c. last week.

The usual week-end ease prevailed in Lombard street, and borrowers were able to obtain accommodation over the night at 4 p.c. down to 3½ p.c. Fixtures for a day or a week were renewed at 4 p.c. There was not much doing in discounts, although the tendency was inclined to be easier on the Treasury bill results and on expectations of cheaper money next week. Most houses still adhered to 4 11/16 p.c. as the rate for fine three months' commercial bills, but the quotation was not very strong at this figure. The banks were buyers of January Treasuries at 4 15/32 p.c., and the "hot" Treasuries were also changing hands at that figure.

The Bank of England yesterday announced the sale of £19,000 of bar gold. Business in the Silver market consisted of some selling by China and a demand from the Indian bazaars, quotations remaining at 25⅛d. for spot and 25 3/16d. per ounce for two months' delivery. The market price of gold was unchanged at 84s. 11½d. per fine ounce.

French francs were cheaper during the day, but the latest rate of 133 showed a slight improvement. There was some depreciation in pesetas, Norwegian kroner and Rumanian lei, but Italy and Germany moved slightly against us. Generally, European rates showed very little alteration. There was also no change in the New York and Montreal rates, the former being again quoted at a little under 4.85. Argentine and Uruguayan dollars and Brazilian milreis were a trifle better. No further developments took place in the Eastern exchange, previous rates being repeated.

CHESS.

In our issue of Wednesday the following sentence appeared:—

"The Honorary Secretary of the Irish Chess Association, T. B. Rowland, says there is no truth in the statement that the Irish Chess Union is the directing body of chess affairs in Ireland."

Mr. T. G. Cranston, Honorary Secretary of the Dublin Chess Club, writes:—

"I desire to contradict this misleading statement on behalf of the Dublin Chess Club, who can claim to be the premier club in Ireland, and whose membership includes most of the leading players of the country. The only authority recognised by the Dublin Club is the Irish Chess Union, which has had undisputed control of the Irish Championships for many years, and is also recognised as the governing body for chess in Ireland by the leading clubs of Ulster, Leinster and Connaught. I would mention further that the forthcoming Belfast Congress, arranged to be held at Belfast during the week commencing 6th December, will be under the entire control of the Irish Chess Union, and has the full support not only of my club, but of all the other city clubs."

CHESS.

ARMSTRONG CUP MATCH.

The complete score of the Armstrong Cup match between Sackville and Dublin University Clubs was not contained in yesterday's report. The Trinity College students scored two draws against the present holders of the Cup at boards 1 and 8. Thus their total score was 1 to 7, and against the formidable combination which has won the Cup oftener than any other body of chessplayers they never made a better score.

This result is the more meritorious in that it was achieved in the absence of Professor Thrift, who had come with the best of reasons to be looked upon as a certain scorer for the University, irrespective of his tie for the championship of Ireland in the last tourney.

In the final of the Connaught Polo Cup at Delhi yesterday afternoon the Army-in-India team beat the Wanderers by 6 goals to 4 after a hard game.

DUBLIN BUSINESS DONE.

FUNDS IRREGULAR. GUINNESS AND COURTAULDS FINALLY SUPPORTED. DUNLOP RUBBER BETTER.

Government National 5 per cent. Sterling repeated 99, but Compensation 5 per cent. fell ½ to 96½.

British Funds were busy, but irregular. War Loan 4 per cent. rose ⅛ to 100¼, and Irish Land 2¾ per cent. ⅛ to 57⅝, but Funding Loan fell ⅜ to 84⅜, Conversion 3½ per cent. ⅛ to 74, and India 3½ per cent. 1/16 to 69¼, while War Loan 5 per cent. Stock repeated 100⅛.

Dublin Port and Docks 6 per cent. 1928 realised 99.

Banks were steady. Royals rose ¼ to 18¼, while Munster and Leinsters repeated 6⅛, Nationals 20¼, and Provincials 24, for mostly odd lots.

In Breweries, Guinness Ord. opened still easier, with sellers at 60 for cash and account, but at the later market the selling pressure relaxed, and the price closed 1/16 down on the day at 60 1/16.

British and Irish Steam Pref. repeated 15s. 6d.

Rails were very idle, but Great Southern Ord. rallied 1/16 to 18 1/16, and the Pref. ⅛ to 39⅛.

In Trams, Dublin United Ord. fell 1/16 to 6⅜, while the Pref. repeated 8½ for a few shares.

In Drapery Shares, Walpole Bros. 5 per cent. Pref. rose 6s. 6d. to 80s. for an odd lot.

Dunlop Rubber Ord. opened unaltered at 31s. 6d., and then rose to 31s. 8¼d.-31s. 9d. at the later market. Parent Trust Pref. fell 1¼d. to 15s. 4½d.

Among Manufacturing Shares, British American Tobacco fell 1½d. to 96s. 3d., and Imperials 1½d. to 115s. Courtaulds opened 6d. lower at 103s. 6d., touched 103s. 3d., and rallied to 103s. 9d. A few Bradford Dyers were sold at 49s., or 9d. under last price. Fine Cotton Spinners were good, and recovered the 9¾d. dividend to 45s. x.d. Helys Pref. rose 3d. to 17s. 3d. x.d. Swedish Match "B" fetched 15 1/16, and Lever Bros. 7 per cent. Pref. rose 1d. to 19s. 6d.

Alliance Gas rose 1/16 to 8 7/16.

In Trading, etc., Irish-American Oil repeated 21s. 6d. and Phœnix Oil 25s. 10½d. Irish Times 1st Pref. rose 1s. to 74s. x.d. City and County Builders remain scarce at 11½, the last quotation, but Merchants' Warehousing fell 6d. to 31s.

COMPANY MEETING.

SPIES PETROLEUM COMPANY, LIMITED.

RE-ORGANISATION SCHEME.

The 27th ordinary general meeting of the Spies Petroleum Company, Ltd., was held yesterday at River Plate House, London, E.C.

Mr. G. Grinnell-Milne (chairman of the company) presided, and, in moving the adoption of the report, explained the effects of the re-organisation scheme on the accounts of the company. The Russian assets, he said, were not affected by that scheme, nor was the company's claim against the Russian Soviet Government. The company had been extremely fortunate in being able to support its claim, not upon book values alone, but upon assets which had been identified in detail and proved to exist. The company was now presenting clean accounts showing all dead expenditures written off, and they were able to start their new career in the possession of substantial cash resources.

He wished to call the shareholders' attention for a moment to their claim against the Russian Soviet Government. Though the Board had at present nothing to report of an encouraging nature in regard to the company's claim after seven years of constant watching, resulting in disappointment, they felt, in common with others who had closely studied the position, that the Soviet Government had recently shown a disposition to consider foreign claims in a less uncompromising manner than before. The directors were of opinion that events must have borne in upon that Government the fact that, in order to enjoy the credit facilities in this country—of which it had felt and proclaimed a need—it would have to come to a settlement satisfactory to its creditors.

By the restoration of the property in Russia which had been financed and worked by foreign owners, the Russian Government would be conceivably released from large claims without making any cash payment, or a relatively small amount, and the very bulk of their making such settlements should put them in an entirely different position when seeking the financial assistance abroad of which they now appreciated the necessity.

In the meantime the company had a substantial sum of, roughly, £160,000 in cash and were desirous of being put into the position to use this sum, or a part of it, in carrying on good business when such was offered. The directors were of opinion that with the financial associations they had formed, they would be able to obtain an opportunity of entering into business which should result in substantial profits to the company. They desired to be free to avail themselves of such an opportunity if, after careful study, they considered they had found it.

The report was unanimously adopted.

By a subsequent resolution the Board were authorised and requested to entertain a wider field for employment of its funds than was contemplated at the time of the re-organisation of 1926.

LONDON WOOL SALES.

Public sales were resumed yesterday, when three catalogues held over from Wednesday last were brought forward. These jointly totalled 11,579 bales, being made up of 2,186 bales New South Wales and Queensland, 1,142 Victorian, 1,376 South Australian, 619 West Australian, 4,923 New Zealand, and 933 Cape. Good competition was forthcoming from a full attendance of buyers. Continental interests being centred on the better class of merino, and in which German purchasers were prominent. Bradford houses were responsible for a steady clearance of suitable crossbreds and slipes, and apart from slight irregularity amongst inferior merinos prices generally maintained the level established at the opening of the series.

BILLIARDS.

SMITH v. DAVIS.

Davis led Smith by 518 points at the end of yesterday afternoon's session in their 18,000 game at Liverpool. The Chesterfield player had an overnight unfinished break of 502 to continue, but he added only 32 before giving way. Smith next hit 85, and in the later play the receiver of points put on 124, 149 and 164 unfinished, and Smith 227 and 152. Interval scores:—Davis (rec. 3,000) (in play), 16,067; Smith, 15,549.

Davis made further progress during the evening session. He took his incomplete innings to 237 at the opening of play, and subsequently put on 380 and 5 unfinished. Smith's breaks were 218, 162 and 28. Closing scores:—Davis (rec. 3,000) (in play), 16,750; Smith, 16,213.

It will be learned with satisfaction by sportsmen generally (says our Curragh Correspondent) that the condition of the veteran Curragh trainer, Maurice Reidy, has greatly improved. He has now left the Kildare Hospital and is out and about again at his residence, Maddenstown Cottage, Curragh.

PRODUCE AND FOOD.

CATTLE.

BIRKENHEAD.—Supplies—2,762 Irish cattle, 171 Canadian and 1,640 sheep and lambs. A larger supply of cattle met a slow trade; small choice heifers made up to 8½d., bullocks 8¼d., other descriptions of heifers and bullocks 7¼d. to 7¾d., cows and bulls 5d. to 6½d. A steady trade prevailed for lambs at about 1/1. Canadian cattle made from 8d. to 8½d. per lb., sinking the offal.

GRAIN.

DUBLIN CORN.—Irish grain trade very slack, and with little interest here. Wheat 27/6 to 31/-, and extra nice parcels held for 32/- and 33/-; white oats 13/6 to 14/6, blacks nominally 10/9 to 11/9 and 12/3; barley 15/6 to 17/-, feeding 11/- to 12/6, grinding 13/- to 14/6 per barrel.

FLOATING GRAIN CARGOES.—BALTIC.—WHEAT—Cargo market remained quiet, but sellers were reserved, and most descriptions held for full rates. January 52/6, Rosafe 62½lbs. do. 53/6, South Russian on sample December 54/- to 53/-. Parcels firmly held; No. 1 Northern Manitoba October-November sold 58/-, November-December 56/9, Australian December-January 5,000 tons per Tisnaren at 55/3 per 480lbs. MAIZE quietly steady. Plate steamers afloat sellers 31/6 to 31/9, loading 31/3, November-December 31/-, December-January to February-March 30/9, Dan.-Gal.-Fox. December-January 32/3. Parcels quiet; Plate afloat sold 31/-, October-November 30/6, November-December 30/4, December-January 30/- per 480lbs. BARLEY remains slow. Cargoes and parcels of South Russian November-December sellers 31/3; parcels of Dan.-Bess.-Kus. November-December 32/-, Pate do. 32/-, No. 3 Canadian Western December 33/6 per 400lbs. OATS inactive; Plate afloat sellers 22/3, January-February 20/6, February-March 20/3, Chilian afloat 22/6, January-February 22/3 per 320lbs.

MARK LANE CORN.—There was a moderate attendance of buyers at the week-end market, and a quiet trade passed; price changes were not of much importance, while again tending easier for breadstuffs. WHEAT irregular, and tendency easier; No. 1 Northern Manitoba quoted 61/-, No. 2 do. 59/9, No. 3 58/3, No. 4 55/6, No. 2 tough Manitoba 58/3, No. 2 mixed Durum 57/- ex ship, all per 496lbs.; English 11/10 to 12/3 per 112lbs. FLOUR dull; London standard made 47/-, town whites 48/-, patents 49/- to 50/- per sack delivered in the Home Counties, with 6d. to 1/- per sack less for deliveries in the London districts. Of imported, Manitoba patents range from 45/6 to 47/6, Minneapolis 46/- to 48/-, Kansas patents 45/- to 46/-, Australian 45/- per 280lbs. ex store. MAIZE quiet; Plate landed 34/-, do. ex ship 32/3, Plate Cinquantina 57/- landed per 480lbs. BARLEY quietly steady; Californian 40/- to 47/-, Chilean Chevalier 52/- to 67/-, do. brewing 38/- to 48/-, Australian Chevalier 47/- to 50/- ex store per 448lbs.; No. 3 Canadian Western 34/3 ex ship, Persian ex ship 29/-, landed 30/6, Russian 32/9, Plate 33/-, both ex ship per 400lbs.; English malting 9/9 to 18/9, as to sample, feed 9/6 to 9/9 per 112lbs. OATS quiet, and spot parcels easier on freer offerings; La Plata landed 24/6, do. ex ship 22/9 per 320lbs.; English 8/3 to 8/10 per 112lbs. MILLERS' OFFALS weaker; broad bran quoted 8/-, middlings 8/9, fine do. 9/9, bags included; small feed oatmeal 9/9, light oats 8/3, ground oats 13/3 per cwt., free on rail. OATMEAL quiet; London-made flaked 18/-, rolled oats 17/- medium, also fine cut 18/-, coarse, also medium pinhead and whole groats 16/- ex mill per cwt. London Arrivals:—English—Oats 2,730, malt 630 qrs., flour 800 sacks; foreign—wheat 101,240, barley 3,400, oats 4,620, maize 7,220, beans 520, peas 560 qrs., flour 28,070 sacks.

LIVERPOOL.—Better Winnipeg and Argentine cables caused forward deliveries of WHEAT here to show a liberal improvement at the commencement of operations; then prices receded to a moderate extent, but again moved upwards, owing to rains in the Argentine, and demand for c.i.f. parcels, until a decided advance had been established, but late afternoon cables caused prices to finish under best. C.i.f. parcels No. 1 Manitoba October-November sold at 57/9, No. 2 afloat 56/9, No. 2 tough Manitoba, shipping, 53/9 to 54/-, No. 2 mixed Durum 15th December 52/9, No. 2 hard winter afloat 56/4½ to 56/6, No. 2 red winter early December 55/6, choice white Karachi afloat 57/9 per qr. C.i.f. parcels MAIZE River Plate November-December sold at 30/3, December-January 30/- per qr. Wheat on the spot firmly held. Maize spot parcels steady at 6/9 to 6/9½ per cental for River Plate. FLOUR steady, and officially unchanged. Straight run quoted 45/6 per 280lbs. ex mill. Graded wheat futures opened 3d. to 1d. per cental dearer, then gave way 4d. to 2½d., but again improved until 1½d. to 2½d. over Thursday night had been registered, but gave way later on, closing only 1d. to 1½d. over Thursday's final rates. Maize options closed nominally unchanged. Closing prices:—November 6/9 December and January 6/8 per cental.

WAKEFIELD.—English wheat declined 1/- per quarter. Oats easier but slow. Best barleys in good demand at reduced prices. Maize and beans easier on the week.

PROVISIONS.

LONDON (BOROUGH).—EGGS—Market dull and quotations somewhat irregular. Quotations:—English best 27/- to 29/-, Irish 22/6 to 26/6, Dutch mixed 21/- to 23/-, dirt brown 25/- to 27/-, Belgian 22/0 to 23/-, Italian 15lbs. 17/- to 17/6, 16lbs. 19/- to 19/6, 17lbs. 20/- to 22/-, cold stored 15/6; Danish, 18lbs. 26/-, 15lbs. 24/- to 25/-; Australian 17/6 to 18/-, South African 16/- to 17/-, Lithuanian blue 14/- to 16/-, red 11/- to 12/-; Russian blue 14/- to 15/6, red 12/- to 12/6; Polish blue 12/6 to 13/6, red 11/3, and Chinese 11/- to 13/- per 120. BUTTER—Market firm, with buyers more disposed to operate, chiefly on export account to the near Continent and the U.S.A. Siberian continues to be freely taken for export to Germany. With cold stored Australian and New Zealand butter now selling so freely, prices for some have advanced very near to new season's. Arrivals and shipments of Australian and New Zealand are increasing. New Zealand finest 146/- to 154/-, good to fine 133/- to 144/-, control finest 158/-, first grade 150/-; Australian finest salted 144/- to 150/-, good to fine 134/- to 142/-, inferior 124/- to 128/-, unsalted 136/- to 160/-; Argentine finest 138/- to 144/-, good to fine 126/- to 136/-, inferior 120/- to 124/-; Danish 170/- to 172/-, Dutch 170/- to 172/-, and Russian 132/- to 136/- per cwt. Dutch rolls 19/- to 20/-, per dozen lbs. CHEESE—Market unaltered, but business is restricted for all descriptions. English finest farmers' 102/- to 108/-, fine 90/- to 98/-, and leaf 100/- to 114/- per cwt. Stiltons 1/- to 1/7 per lb. Canadian coloured 88/- to 90/-, white 88/- to 90/-; New Zealand coloured 82/- to 88/-, white 82/- to 85/-; Dutch Edam, 45 p.c. 102/-, 40 p.c. 86/- to 92/-, 30 p.c. 72/- to 78/-, 20 p.c. 62/- to 69/-; Gouda, 45 p.c. 92/- to 99/-, 40 p.c. 88/- to 91/-, 30 p.c. 76/-, and 20 p.c. 62/- to 65/- per cwt. BACON—With supplies in excess of requirements the market displayed a weaker tendency for all descriptions. Danish officially reduced 5/- to 8/-; Swedish 5/- to 6/-, Dutch 7/- to 9/-, and Canadian 5/- to 7/-. Irish quoted 103/- to 122/-, being unaltered; Danish 92/- to 101/-, Swedish 85/- to 94/-, Dutch 89/- to 93/-, and Canadian 91/- to 97/- per cwt. HAMS—Market quiet, and American tend against sellers. English quoted 195/- to 260/-, as to weight; Canadian long cut 140/- to 146/-, short 134/- to 136/-; American long 145/- to 158/-, short 122/- to 130/-, and picnics 74/- per cwt. LARD—Market firm, though business proceeds quietly; American boxes 67/6 to 70/-, pails 73/6, and cartons 72/- to 74/- per cwt.

LIVERPOOL.—BACON—Irish in small supply, but limited demand, and prices show no change. Danish dull and lower, following decline in London prices, being now 100/- to 102/-, and Canadian in sympathy reduced to 88/- to 94/- per cwt. American selections of bacon here still tend downwards, owing to poor demand, and pressure of supplies, while traders are without their usual guiding factors from America, owing to the holiday there on Thursday. Cumberlands being reduced to 96/- to 101/- for light weight and 97/- to 101/- per cwt. for heavier averages. HAMS slow of sale, and all descriptions 1/- lower, long cut now 142/- to 146/-, short 118/- to 127/-, and extra skinless 132/- to 136/- per cwt. Shoulders quiet, but no further decline made in values. LARD on the spot steady at late rates for both prime steam and American refined, but buyers again operate for their actual needs only. CHEESE rules steady, and there is rather more inquiry for Canadian, owing to the firmness in Cheshire makes. BUTTER again dearer, owing to the strength in Copenhagen and London stimulating demand here. Danish raised to 174/- to 178/-, Irish creameries and Canadian 146/- to 150/-, New Zealand 156/- to 160/-, Australian 150/- to 158/- per cwt. EGGS quiet, with fresh Irish hen quoted 27/- to 29/-, and Egyptian 9/- per 120.

MANCHESTER—BUTTER—Danish official quotation wired unchanged, and top stands at 285 kroner per 100 kilos, against 397 corresponding period last year. Rather firmer feeling for all descriptions of Scandinavians, with, if anything, a prospect of advanced prices in all departments. Good quantities of Irish creameries are being marketed, and prices remain steady. Choicest qualities quoted—Danish 173/- to 175/-, special dairies extra; Finnish 164/- to 166/-, Swedish 162/- to 164/-, Irish creameries 145/- to 150/-, new season's New Zealand 158/- to 160/-. BACON—Irish in light supply, and no official change recorded. Danish 118/- to 124/-, and Dutch and Swedish 7/- lower. Should retailers follow reduction improved trade expected. General quotations—Irish 102/- to 110/-, North Ireland rolls 118/- to 124/-, Danish 97/- to 101/-, Dutch and Swedish 83/- to 89/-, Canadian 85/- to 92/-. LARD generally firmer; English refined 70/6 boxes, wholesale; American 66/- to 67/-, according to brand. CHEESE—Choicest Cheshire in short supply, and firm at around 1/2 per lb., but inferior makes show a downward tendency; finest Lancashire nominal; Canadian quiet and unchanged, finest white and coloured 88/- to 90/-, secondary grades 86/- to 87/-. EGGS steadier on lighter supplies; Irish extra selected 28/6, selected 27/-, duck 22/6, pickled 14/-, stores 15/-, English 25/-, 17/-, Danish 18lb. 27/-, 17lb. 26/6, 15lb. 23/6, pickled 14/6 to 16/6, Polish 13/-, Egyptians 9/-, Dutch duck 14/-.

DUBLIN FRUIT AND VEGETABLE.—Foreign fruits, etc., in fair supply, but very moderate request; prices show little change over the week from those quoted on Tuesday. Vegetables in good supply; cauliflowers and Savoy cabbage a poor sale; other leading commodities fair. Savoy cabbage 8/- to 16/- and 20/- per load, York 20/- to 30/- and 35/-, cauliflowers 9d. to 1/6, and selected 2/- to 2/6 and 3/- per dozen; sprouts 1/- to 3/- and 4/- per strike and float, lettuce 3d. to 1/6 per dozen, celery 2/- to 4/- and 5/- and 6/6 per bundle, parsley 6d. per tray, and 2/6 to 3/- per bag; Swede turnips 1/3 to 1/8 per cwt., carrots 1/- to 1/6 per dozen bunches, parsnips 3/- to 3/6 per bag, white turnips 4d. to 6d. per bundle, artichokes 1/6 to 2/- per float, tomatoes 3½d. to 8d. per lb., Canary Island tomatoes 4/- to 6/- and 7/- per box, beet 6d. to 1/- per bunch, and 4/- per bag; leeks 6d. to 1/- per dozen, thyme 2d. to 4d. per bunch.

DUBLIN POTATO.—City terms 5/6 to 6/- and 6/6 per cwt. for table potatoes; bulk supplies from growers, ex rail and otherwise, £3 15/- to £5 5/- per ton.

DUBLIN POULTRY AND GAME.—Seasonable poultry and birds show an appreciable increase over recent arrivals; demand equal to a clearance at firm prices. Game and wild fowl, also well-handled fresh-conditioned rabbits, are selling well. Best chickens 11d. to 1/2 per lb., small chickens 2/- each; large fat hens 2/- to 2/6, others 1/- to 1/6 each; fatted ducks 3/- to 3/6 each, stores 1/6 to 2/6, old 8d. to 1/- each; geese (per lb.), fatted 7d. and 8d., coarse and stubble descriptions 4/- to 5/- each; hen turkeys 8/6 to 9/6 and 11/- each; cock turkeys 12/6 to 15/- and 18/- each; prime young grouse 3/6 each, old 2/6; prime young partridge 2/-, old 1/6; prime cock pheasants 4/6 to 5/-, hen pheasants 3/6 to 4/-; large hares (best) 2/- each; wild duck 1/6 to 2/- each; widgeon 1/-, teal 9d., woodcock 1/6, snipe 6d., golden plover 10d., green 6d., wild pigeons 4d. each; best fresh well-handled rabbits 1/2 to 1/5 each.

DUBLIN BUTTER AND EGG.—A considerable decrease is noticeable in supplies of Irish creamery produce, as is usual at this time of year. Some dairies indicate that they will now have only sufficient for local requirements. Market is tending firmer with diminishing supply. Finest creams 1/3¾ to 1/3½ per lb.; 28lb. packages 1/4 per lb.; fair quality creams 1/3¼ per lb. Factory butter is meeting but a quiet enquiry, and fine grades rate at 1/2 to 1/2½ per lb. secondary 1/- to 1/0½ per lb.; farmer butter in limited supply and meeting an equal trade at 9½d. to 1/- and 1/1 per lb. Eggs of best fresh descriptions are not so plentiful as was anticipated, and production still appears to be at a very low level. New laid well-selected hen eggs meet a good demand; cold storage eggs in free supply, but trade is quiet. Extra selected retail lots best hen eggs 30/- to 31/- per 120/-; case lots ordinary and selected 26/6 to 29/-, small and mediums 19/- to 24/-; duck eggs, tested and repacked, 23/- to 25/- per 120; cold storage eggs 15/6 to 17/6 as to class.

CORK BUTTER.—The market continues unchanged. Creameries 137/- to 140/- per cwt., choicest mild 138/-.

IRISH BUTTER QUOTATION.—The Irish Dairy (Producers and Shippers) Association have fixed for the week ending Thursday next, 2nd December, 148/- per cwt. for choicest [illegible] wholesale, net, free on rail, Ireland; special dairies extra.

DUBLIN FISH.—Demand was good for the fair arrival of fish, with the exception of herrings, which made a slow sale. Lobsters totalled 6 chests, herrings 100 packages, mackerel 6 boxes, and a small consignment of fish from country hookers and wind trawlers made up the market. Prices:—Large lobsters 20/- to 25/-, seconds 10/- to 12/6, small 5/- to 7/6 per lot of 13; large soles 30/- to 40/-, mediums 20/- to 25/-, slips 5/- to 10/- per 9 pairs; turbot 6d. to 1/6 each; brill 6d. to 4/- each; plaice 20/- to 70/-, codfish 25/- to 35/-, ray 10/- to 20/- per half box; herrings averaged 3/- to 6/- per box; mackerel 20/- to 26/- per box.

BILLINGSGATE FISH.—Good supplies; steady demand. Soles 22d. to 28d., slips 16d. to 20d. per lb.; live eels 22/- to 28/-, dead 15/- to 24/- draught; turbot 17/- to 23/-, brill 16/- to 18/-, plaice 10/- to 17/-, halibut 14/- to 20/-, lemon soles 16/- to 20/-, witches 10/- to 15/-, cod 6/- to 8/-, hake 9/- to 12/-, whiting 3/- to 6/-, skate 5/- to 7/-, haddocks 4/- to 8/- per stone.

NOTICE OF CHARITABLE BEQUESTS. In the Goods of ROSE ANNE MAGAURAN, late of 4 Haigh terrace, Dun Laoghaire, in the County of Dublin, Widow, Deceased.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the 30th day 31st Vic., Chap. 54, Section 19, that the above-named Rose Anne Magauran, Deceased, by her Will dated the 1st day of August, 1923, gave and bequeathed the following charitable legacies and bequests:—viz.,

1. The sum of £200 for the celebration of Masses by the Franciscan Fathers of Church street, Dublin, to be said in a church or churches open to public worship in Ireland, for the repose of the soul of deceased, and of her deceased father, mother, brothers, sister and husband.
2. To the Abbot for the time being at the date of her death of the Benedictine Abbey, Caldy Island, Tenby, Wales, £500, for the purposes of the Abbey.
3. To the Abbess for the time being of the Benedictine Convent, Milford Haven, Wales, £50.
4. To the Catholic Boys' Home, 72 Middle Abbey street, £100, for the purposes of the said Home.
5. To the Carriglea Industrial School, Monkstown, the sum of £1,000, to be applied towards the reduction of the debts due by it: But the Testatrix declared that this legacy should be conditional upon the said school having discharged within two years from the date of her death (independently of the said amount bequeathed by her) at least one-third of the debts due by it at the date of her death: And in the event of its failure to do so, the Testatrix directed that the said legacy should be revoked, and that the said sum of £1,000 should fall into and form part of her residuary estate.
6. To the National Maternity Hospital, Holles street, for the purposes of the said Hospital, the sum of £100.
7. To the Asylum for the Blind, Drumcondra, the sum of £100.
8. To the Night Shelter for Men, conducted by the St. Vincent de Paul Society, the sum of £100.
9. To the Children's Hospital, Temple street, Dublin, the sum of £100.
10. To St. Joseph's Orphanage, Dun Laoghaire, the sum of £200.
11. To the Asylum for the Blind, Merrion, £50.
12. To the Catholic Truth Society, Ireland, £40.
13. To the Irish Mission to China, £10.
14. To the Parish Priest of Dun Laoghaire at the date of Testatrix's death the sum of £10 towards the erection of the proposed Public Statue to the Sacred Heart in Dun Laoghaire, provided it has not been erected at the date of the Testatrix's death or that the cost thereof had not been defrayed.
15. To the Parish Priest of Dun Laoghaire the sum of £100, towards the erection of the proposed new church at Sallynoggin, but the Testatrix declared that the said bequest should be reduced by the amount of any subscription given by her in her lifetime for the said church.

Subject to the foregoing gifts and bequests the Testatrix directed that the residue of her property should be held in trust for the Catholic Archbishop of Dublin for the time being at the date of her death, and to be used by him as a contribution towards the erection of the proposed Catholic National Cathedral or Basilica of the Sacred Heart in Dublin.

And Notice is hereby further given that the said deceased died on or about the 21st June, 1926, and Probate of her said Will was on the 10th day of August, 1926, granted forth of the Principal Probate Registry of the High Court of Justice in Saorstat Eireann, to Patrick Joseph Moran, of the Ship Hotel, Weybridge, in the County of Surrey, retired Civil Servant; Sarah Brennan, of The Rosary, Adelaide street, Dun Laoghaire, Spinster; and Arthur Cox, of 42 Stephen's Green, Dublin, Solicitor, the three Executors therein named.

Dated this 24th day of November, 1926.

ARTHUR COX and CO., Solicitors for the said Executors, 42-43 Stephen's Green, Dublin.

To the Commissioners of Charitable Donations and Bequests for Ireland, and to all persons whom it may concern.

NOTICE OF CHARITABLE DONATIONS AND BEQUESTS. In the Goods of THE VERY REVEREND PATRICK FRANCIS BRENNAN, late of Chapelizod, in the County of Dublin, C.C., Deceased.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the 30th and 31st Vic., cap. 54, Section 19, the above-named Patrick Francis Brennan, by his Will, dated the 23rd day of July, 1926, gave and bequeathed the following charitable legacies and bequests, viz.:—

1. The sum of £2,000, to be expended in Masses for the repose of his soul, to be said in public, at the rate of 5/- per Mass, to be said in Ireland.
2. The sum of £2,000 to be similarly expended for Masses for an intention which the testator disclosed to the Solicitor who prepared his Will.
3. The sum of £200 to be similarly expended for Masses for the repose of the soul of a dear friend, now deceased.
4. The testator bequeathed, devised and appointed the residue of his property to the Treasurer for the time being at the date of his death of the Sacred Heart Home, Drumcondra, for the purposes of that Home.

And Notice is hereby further given that the said Deceased died on or about the 21st day of August, 1926, and Probate of his Will was on the 5th day of October, 1926, granted forth of the Principal Probate Registry of the High Court of Justice in Saorstat Eireann to Thomas Halpin, of Chapelizod, County Dublin, Publican, the Executor therein named.

Dated this 24th day of November, 1926.

COUNTY OF OFFALY.

THE KNOCK, LEAP CASTLE, ROSCREA.

VALUABLE RESIDENTIAL HOLDING FOR SALE.

JOHN DOOLY and SONS have been favoured with instructions from Mr. Michael Bergin to SELL BY PUBLIC AUCTION, at CORCORAN'S HOTEL, ROSCREA, on THURSDAY, the 9th DAY OF DECEMBER, 1926, at One o'clock:

All that Part of the Lands of KNOCK, containing 212 acres 2 roods, Statute measure, or thereabouts, for which a Judicial Rent (Second Term) of £142, was paid. The said Lands are now subject to the Provisions of the Land Act, 1923, and the annual sum now payable in lieu of rent to the Irish Land Commission, pursuant to Section 20 of the said Act, is £106 10s. 0d.

The Standard Purchase Annuity, in case of a Sale to Tenant, under the Act, will be £92 6s. 0d. There is an annuity of £5 4s. 0d. to the Board of Works, which has seven years to run.

The above Lands will be offered for Sale in One Lot, or in Three Separate Portions.

If divided:—

Lot 1—Will comprise Portion of the above Lands, together with Residence and Out-offices, containing 142 acres 3 roods 21 perches, S.M., or thereabouts.

Lot 2.—Portion of the above Lands, known as Brien's Field, containing 30 acres 2 roods 8 perches, S.M., or thereabouts, together with the substantially-built Two-storey Slated Dwellinghouse and Out-offices thereon.

Lot 3.—Portion of the above Lands, known as The Three Roads' Fields, containing 39 acres and 11 perches, S.M., or thereabouts.

These portions will be subject to an annuity, as above, to be apportioned.

Lot 1 will be Sold subject to a Board of Works' Charge, as above.

Lots 2 and 3 adjoin the Public Road.

The Two-storey Slated Residence is situated in the centre of the Farm, and is approached by an avenue from the Main road, surrounded by flower, fruit, and vegetable gardens. Attached thereto is a range of substantially-built Slated and Iron Roofed Out-offices, including Hay Shed, 60' x 25' 3"; Stall, Stables, and Loose Boxes, Lofted Car House, Barn, Cow House, Lofted Implement Shed, Cattle Shed (24 ties), Calf Houses, Piggeries, Fowl Houses, Turf Houses, etc. There are two pumps in the yard.

On the Lands adjoining the Main Road stands another Two-storey Slated Dwellinghouse, together with Out-offices and Garden.

The Farm is all in grass, with the exception of about 6 acres (5 acres manured ground, 1 acre stubbles), and is well known for its fattening qualities. It is laid out in convenient-sized fields, well fenced, sheltered, and watered. There is a quantity of valuable Timber on the Lands; also Right of Turbary available.

The Holding is situated almost mid-way between the important Fair and Market Towns of Roscrea and Birr, being convenient to schools and places of worship. The buildings are in a perfect state of repair, and require no additional outlay whatsoever.

Immediate Possession will be given on completion of purchase.

Private Offers will be received by the undersigned up to Date of Sale, and, if deemed satisfactory, may be accepted. Terms—Purchasers to pay one-fourth the purchase money, together with 5 per cent. Commission, at time of Sale. For further particulars and Conditions of Sale apply to

JAMES FAGAN, Solicitor, having Carriage of Sale, 58 Rutland square, West, Dublin; or to

JOHN DOOLY & SONS, AUCTIONEERS AND VALUERS, BIRR.

9 EDEN QUAY.

These exceptionally fine Premises were entirely rebuilt about six years ago at a cost of over four thousand pounds. They comprise a spacious shop and basement and three floors over. There is, in addition, a building at the back, which is in occupation of the tenants of the drawingroom, whose tenancy also includes the rear portion of the shop, with an entrance into Old Abbey street. Clear possession of the shop and basement will be given. The remainder of the Premises produces an annual rent of £351 per annum. The Premises are held for an unexpired term of 17 years from the 1st May last, subject to £85 per annum. They are admirably suited for any business requiring convenient situation and a well-lighted wareroom, or would make an excellent investment, as the shop and basement could be let at a very substantial rent.

Lots 2 and 3 adjoin the Public Road.
The Two-storey Slated Residence is situated in the centre of the Farm, and is approached by an avenue from the Main road, surrounded by flower, fruit, and vegetable gardens. Attached thereto is a range of substantially-built Slated and Iron Roofed Out-offices, including Hay Shed, 60' x 25' 3"; Stall, Stables, and Loose Boxes, Lofted Car House, Barn, Cow House, Lofted Implement Shed, Cattle Shed (24 ties), Calf Houses, Piggeries, Fowl Houses, Turf Houses, etc. There are two pumps in the yard.
On the Lands adjoining the Main Road stands another Two-storey Slated Dwellinghouse, together with Out-offices and Garden.
The Farm is all in grass, with the exception of about 6 acres (5 acres manured ground, 1 acre stubbles), and is well known for its fattening qualities. It is laid out in convenient-sized fields, well fenced, sheltered, and watered. There is a quantity of valuable Timber on the Lands; also Right of Turbary available.
The Holding is situated almost mid-way between the important Fair and Market Towns of Roscrea and Birr, being convenient to schools and places of worship. The buildings are in a perfect state of repair, and require no additional outlay whatsoever.
Immediate Possession will be given on completion of purchase.
Private Offers will be received by the undersigned up to Date of Sale, and, if deemed satisfactory, may be accepted. Terms—Purchasers to pay one-fourth the purchase money, together with 5 per cent. Commission, at time of Sale. For further particulars and Conditions of Sale apply to

IMPORTANT AUCTION OF

PRIME GRAZING FARMS,

BELGREE, HOLLYWOODRATH
(Only 6 miles from the City).
PATRICK O'CONNOR and SON, LTD., are favoured with instructions from the Executors of the late Gerald Doyle, deceased, to SELL BY AUCTION, at their ESTATE SALEROOMS, on NEXT THURSDAY, 2nd DECEMBER, at 1.30 o'clock, all the Interest in the above fine Property, containing 217 Statute Acres in one lot, subject to Land Commission Annuity of £97 10/-, or in three lots, as follows:—Lot 1—64a. 2r. 9p., Statute, with Cottage and Out-offices. Annuity, £28 18/-. Lot 2—85a. 0r. 19p. Statute, subject to £37 10/- per annum. Lot 3—67a. 1r. 12p., subject to annuity £31 2s.
The Lands are all in grass of good fattening quality, and well watered. They are intersected by three county roads, and, with the exception of a small portion of Lot 1, have the advantage of being all in the County Meath area for rating purposes. From their proximity to the city and ease of access via Liffey Junction and Cardiff's Bridge, they should prove a most attractive investment to dairy owners, graziers, live stock dealers, etc.
